Lose Up To 10 lbs. In 10 Days

New Grapefruit Diet 'Pill' Gives Fast Weight Loss

PHOENIX (Special) — An amazing new improved version of the popular grapefruit diet has recently been developed featuring the use of a "grapefruit pill" that enables overweight people to easily and quickly become slim, trim and attractive "while eating almost as much as you want."

The new chewable (candy-like) grapefruit pill puts an end to the inconvenient mess, fuss and high cost of eating half a grapefruit at every meal. Happy testimonials from people all across the country claim "you save time and money while achieving more effective weight loss results with this new diet plan."

Lose up to a Pound a Day

Those who follow this simple diet plan report an average loss of up to a pound a day and even more without strenuous exercise or starvation.

Fortified with vitamin E and C, the new whole grapefruit extract pill and foods as prescribed by the diet will, through natural action, act to help your body release excess fat and body fluids, allowing you to keep your weight down and figure in firm control.

Eat All You Want

Best of all, you can still eat almost as much as you want of the "forbidden foods" like steak, lobster, chicken, fish, some sauces, gravies, bacon, eggs, and still lose weight.

Diet Now Available

"I love idleness. I love to busy myself about trifles, to begin a hundred things and not finish one of them, to come and go as my fancy bids me, to change my plan every moment, to follow a fly in all its circlings, to try and uproot a rock to see what is underneath, eagerly to begin on a 10-years' task and to give it up after 10 minutes; in short, to fritter away the whole day inconsequentially and incoherently, and to follow nothing but the whim of the moment."

Public Sentiment

Following editorial is from the North Hennepin Post:

For months now, we have been reading more and more editorial comment in newspapers and magazines about the general public acquiring anti-union sentiment, following strikes and threats of strikes that don't appear to be justified.

One involves the Postal Service and its 700,000 employees who have threatened a strike for this week. As pointed out in a recent Time magazine article: "Postal employees have written into their 1973 contract something quite unusual: a guarantee against their being laid off, supposedly for their pledge not to strike. That promise, however, has not prevented them from threatening to strike when their present contract expires on July 20.

Typical of union striking, where so many people are affected by the actions of a few, took place recently in Pittsburgh, where the daily papers were struck because a man was scheduled to be re-assigned. He was a receiving dockman who was told his regular work was being cut from five to three nights a week, but he would be used elsewhere on those other two nights. Despite the fact Teamsters Local 211 had a contract with the newspapers that called for a no-strike, arbitration clause (with 18 months to run), the union called for and got its strike the last week in June.

The job shifting of this dockman was planned because of a reduction in operations. The paper decided it was more important to serve its readers and advertisers rather than have 2,300 newspaper people thrown out of work by an argument over one man. So authorities at the paper sent the union a letter, re-instating the original hours for the dockman, asking that the strike be called off.

The union reaction? They continued the strike and used it to force re-opening of cost-of-living and other clauses in the contract, which still has 18 months remaining before it expires! Thus, one man has forced 2,300 people out of work, with the help of a stubborn union.

But the public can more readily identify with the Postal Service, which simply can't provide the services the public expects, and still break even on costs. It has a budget of $12.6 billion (85 per cent for labor) and is still running a deficit of more than $820 million—over and above a federal subsidy of $1.5 billion.

Most experts agree the postal department needs a thorough overhauling, and the same experts feel subsidizing from the government should be a must, same as it is in other major countries. In fact, some other countries do their subsidizing from funds derived from government owned telephone and telegraph operations.

Some of the quirks of the postal system were recently outlined in Time magazine. Included were such items as: A letter, which now costs as much to travel only one block in any given neighborhood, as it does to be forwarded from one coast to the other, would have to bear its actual cost. The local letter might cost five cents, but the long-distance letter might be a dollar.

Still another: Postmen, who now deliver mail to the Havasupi Indians at the bottom of the Grand Canyon just as they do the densely populated cities, would find it too expensive to continue such deliveries. Any Americans who live in sparsely populated areas would have to pay a great deal extra for service, or do without mail.

The magazine article also mentioned cutting down from the present 30,780 post offices and curtailing mail deliveries in residential areas, possibly to just twice a week.

But, Time points out: "A truly 'businesslike' operation, in short, would serve perhaps two-thirds of the American people one-third of the time. Financially, it might break even, but politically and socially, it would break many links connecting Americans."

Raising rates isn't the answer either, because too many suffer: Included are publishers who rely on mail to have their product reach part of the market. Almost any business with a large mail volume fits this category.

The answer appears to be in subsidizing, to whatever extent is required, within reason.

Postal strikes certainly aren't the answer. Just two years ago, postal workers were given increases which amounted to 23 per cent in wages and benefits, over two years.

Pay Hike Spoof

State Representative Doug Ewald (R., Eden Prairie-Minnetonka) has released the following comments regarding the current controversy over legislative pay increases:

"With all the talk about back-door increases, I'm considering a proposal that would once and for all end the confusion over legislative pay. Although the final formula has not been worked out, it would be in keeping with the philosophy of the flexible session and would include a number of factors. Depending on how a legislator ranked in these factors, he or she could earn more or less during the term of office.

"My plan would begin with the current base legislative pay of $700 per month, or $8,400 per year, and would add to or deduct from that figure depending on the individual legislator's worth or contributions to the good of the state. Some of the factors determining this relative worth could be:

"1. Outside Employment. If a legislator has meaningful work outside the legislature, he or she should be rewarded. Full-time legislators ultimately cost the people more because they spend a lot of time wondering what to do with their time. Frequently this results in more bills and more laws, most of which are unnecessary and expensive.

Those earning 50 per cent of their total income or more from private employment should receive a bonus of $50 per month, and those who exist only on legislative pay, a reduction of $50 per month. There could be a sliding scale for those in between.

"2. Legislation Generated. Bills cost money and if they become law they can really be expensive. Eight bills introduced per legislator should be ideal—this would give us only 1,608 pieces of legislation to consider each session, rather than the usual 3-4,000. The savings would be phenomenal.

Legislators introducing only eight bills should be paid an additional $50 per month. Those introducing fewer should receive a bonus of $25 monthly for each bill under the ideal, and those with more than eight should have $25 for each additional bill deducted per month.

"3. Net Cost. Another factor that must be considered here would be the net cost to the public of bills passed into law. A bonus should be given to legislators who pass laws that reduce state expenses and penalties assessed those who pass laws that increase them. I suggest $25 per month per million.

If a legislator saved taxpayers 10 million dollars a year because of a bill introduced and passed, he or she would be worth an additional $250 per month. Conversely, a legislator would lose $250 per month for passing a law that had a net cost of 10 million dollars per year. This would introduce the incentive theory into state government.

"4. Pay Increase Attempts. Legislators should be penalized for attempting to increase their pay. However, if the attempt is an open one, of which the public is aware, they ought to be rewarded for courage.

Anyone attempting to increase per diem pay, travel expense, etc. should receive a $25 per month reduction in pay. Those attempting to pass a bill to increase legislative salaries should receive a $1.50 per month raise. This would compensate them for their upcoming defeat in the next election.

"5. Additional Factors. Legislators should be penalized for each time they are on radio or TV and use the phrases 'point with pride' or 'view with alarm' or similar political statements. I would suggest a $10 per month per appearance penalty.

Legislators making no such appearances would receive a bonus of $10. A bonus of $1 per month should also be paid any legislator who attends a public meeting and doesn't say anything. This would provide an incentive to reduce verbal pollution.

"I realize the formula is not perfect. Perhaps a bill could be introduced appropriating money to establish a commission to study the question. In fact, I think the House already did that.

"The following piece of homespun poetry describes my feelings regarding recent attempts to increase the pay levels of House members:

There are certain House members who say
That they think they have found a new way
That is hard to discern
What it is that they earn,
And end up with an increase in pay."

Borrowed Nonsense

A farmer was finishing his haying on Sunday morning when the pastor drove by.

"Brother," the minister lectured him, "don't you know that the Creator made the world in six days and rested on the seventh?"

"Yes," said the farmer looking uneasily at the rain clouds closing in, "but he got done and I didn't."

by Dr. RUDY SKOGERBOE

The moment of truth came to Washington D.C. and where was President Ford? The world famous Russion author, Alexander Solzhenitsyn was the guest of honor at a dinner sponsored by George Meany, President of the AFL-CIO.

As a world symbol of resistance to dictatorships of any kind, this man seems able to make both Presidents and dictators nervous. Soviet leader, Brezhnev, having decided he couldn't conveniently kill Solzhenitsyn and could not endure the sound of his voice, expelled him.

By inviting him to speak, George Meany proved to be a bit of a mystery. The liberals he put in office are notoriously soft on the Reds, but were very influential in getting Solzhenitsyn released from Russia. As time goes on this man may become embarrassing to them. However that may be, the presence of this powerful anti-communist voice is equally embarrassing to President Ford.

Press Secretary Ron Nessen, President Ford's image keeper, explained that Mr. Ford could not see the exiled Russian because of a crowded schedule. It could be that detente which helps the Kremlin bosses would simply not be compatable with the vigorous criticism of this fearless man.

For 90 minutes, Solzhenitsyn then raked Western diplomacy, particularly U.S. diplomacy, over the coals for seeming to furnish the Soviets a roaring torrent of concessions which, he charged, have only served to endanger free men even more. The world situation is not just dangerous, he argued, it is catastrophic.

He scolded Sen. McGovern for saying he would beg Hanoi for our prisoners—that's masochism, he shouted. He also indirectly criticized Henry Kissinger for getting a Nobel Peace prize for the "flabby" Vietnam agreement and signing it before Hanoi had accounted for America's missing-in-action. The "peace" that has settled over Vietnam, he claimed would produce at least one million executions. Throughout his speech, Solzhenitsyn kept coming back to a central theme: only firmness, a perceptible toughness, would enable the West to survive.

In my opinion, it is good that this great man is willing to help us with first hand knowledge of an enemy of freedom. This is especially true now with another grain deal in the wind. It is also possibly true that the Administration felt they could not risk upsetting the negotiations with the Kremlin at this time or in the near future and therefore stayed away from the dinner.

There is an even more ominous note to the absence of our President—and that is the position of weakness our Congress has produced in foreign policy. It is quite possible that the President wanted to go to the dinner and show some real moral support for a man who had suffered so much in Soviet prisons. Could it be true that our President feels he is working from such a position of weakness that if Mr. Brezhnev didn't want him to go to a dinner he didn't dare do so?

Perhaps it is time to let our Congressmen know that to negotiate with an enemy such as Soviet Russia, our President should be given the strength and support he needs.

CRASH CADILLAC

ALTHOUGH HE DID NOT REALIZE IT, Dave Miller of Clearwater was practicing to drive in demolition derbies before he ever saw one. As the owner of a body shop, Miller has a small junkyard, and for relaxation he and his friends used to drive the old cars around the junkyard and bash them into trees. But when he saw an actual demolition derby, the junked cars were no longer wasted on trees, and Miller soon became one of the better derby drivers in the state.

Miller only drives Cadillacs in competition, preferring their weight and power to other cars, and his "Caddies" are a familiar sight at derbies around Minnesota. Each year he drives in about seven, and he also helps outfit his wife and five or six friends with cars to drive. Demolition derbies remain only a hobby, however. "Even if you do well, it's hard to break even," he says.

Miller's ultimate goal is to win one of the Minnesota State Fair derbies, which draw the toughest competition in the state. Last year, driving a black '66 Cadillac, he placed sixth in the first Fair derby. Miller has been saving a green '66 Cadillac since last summer as one of the cars he will bring to the two demolition derbies during this year's Minnesota State Fair, Aug. 21 through Sept. 1.

ELTON CUMMINGS, who retired from the Thief River Falls police department Thursday after 23 years in law enforcement, is pictured above with a photograph of the city police department in 1954, the year he became chief. Cummings had also served as a deputy sheriff in Pennington county and was a special investigator for the local police department at the time of his retirement from the police force.

After 23 Years Behind A Badge . . .

Cummings Retires From Police Force

Times Reporter

Elton C. Cummings, a man who began his career in law enforcement with no clear purpose in mind, concluded 23 years of distinguished service Thursday when he retired from the Thief River Falls police department. He served 16 years as chief of police and since 1970 has been an investigator with the department.

His new job will be primarily child support investigations with the Pennington and Red Lake county social service centers. He will spend three days a week in Pennington and two in Red Lake.

An Arkansas native, Elton married the former Evelyn Jorde of rural Thief River Falls in May of 1942 during four years and nine months of service in the Air Force. The couple's five children are Carolyn Ahl of Chaska, Marcheta Van De Streek of Thief River Falls, Tom Cummings of Jamestown, N.D., and Leanna Cummings and Janet Lundbohm of the city.

Soon after his discharge, the Cummings moved to Thief River Falls. He was employed by the Soo Line railroad for two years, tried several different sales jobs, and for four years was employed by the Northern Chevrolet company.

In 1952 he joined the police department. To this day he is unable to explain why, particularly since his starting salary as a patrolman was considerably below what he was making as a car salesman. "I guess I just thought it would be satisfying, and I turned out to be right," he said.

Elton was a patrolman for a year, Pennington county deputy sheriff for a year, and applied for and received the position of chief of police in 1954.

The former chief said the whole system of police work changed while he was on the job—from the number of officers, to the rules and restrictions they live by, to even the daily routine.

When he started there were six full-time officers, two part-timers and a matron. By 1970 there were 13 men, a secretary (Mrs. Patricia Thompson) and college students for marking cars.

In contrast to today's officers, who spend much of their time patroling in cars and dealing with the large number of traffic accidents and violations which invariably occur, the officers in Cummings, first years walked beats, keeping track of the various activities in the multitude of mid-town bars that were in operation at that time.

There were no two-way radios then, and most of the time no one in the police station at night. When a police call would come, the telephone operator would take the call and switch on two lights (one located atop the Ben Franklin store and the other above the police station) to alert

STATE PERMIT to carry a handgun in public is now necessary under certain circumstances, according to a state law which became effective August 1. However, the permits may not be easy to obtain. See accompanying story for details.

New Pistol Law In Effect Aug. 1

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Pushed through the legislature in the death throes of the 1975 session, a makeshift handgun law became effective August 1. The law is somewhat unique in that it is a state law but beyond that point is entirely the responsibility of city and county law enforcement divisions—from preparation of forms to issuance of permits to enforcement and prosecution.

Basically—as local officials interpret the law—it prohibits possession of handguns by untrained youths (under 18 years of age), recent violent criminals and persons with current alcohol, drug or mental problems. It also requires a permit for carrying a handgun on the person in public and such permit is apparently valid only for specified purposes.

Sheriff Charles Richards and Police Chief Ken Froschheiser told the Times they believe that very few people in Pennington county will have any need to apply for a permit. Neither have issued any permits at the present time, although requests for applications have been made. Both expect to be fairly restrictive in the issuance of permits, especially in the first few weeks after the law has become effective.

Sheriff Richards and Chief Froschheiser emphasize Subdivision 9 of the law which lists provisions under which no permit is required. According to Subdivision 9, no permit is required of a person:

(a) To keep or carry about his place of business, dwelling house, premises or on land possessed by him a pistol;

(b) To carry a pistol from a place of purchase to his dwelling house or place of business, or from his dwelling house or place of business to or from a place where repairing is done, to have the pistol repaired;

(c) To carry a pistol between his dwelling house and his place of business;

(d) To carry a pistol in the woods of fields or upon the waters of this state for the purpose of hunting other than protected wild animals or of target shooting in a safe area; or

(e) To transport a pistol in a motor vehicle, snomobile or boat if the pistol is unloaded, contained in a closed and fastened case, gunbox, or securely tied package. If a motor vehicle, snowmobile or boat does not have an enclosed area, a pistol may be carried in the driver or passenger area as long as the pistol is unloaded and contained in a closed and fastened case, gunbox, or securely tied package. A utility compartment or glove compartment shall be deemed to be within the area occupied by the driver and passengers.

Note is made of the requirement to have a handgun unloaded and cased while in an automobile. A normal pistol holster is not considered a case since the gun is not completely

TRF Vocational Addition Now In Design Stages

A Minneapolis architectural firm is now at work to design an addition to the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute. The school district board selected the architectural firm several weeks ago.

Built in 1967, the school located on the northeast edge of Thief River Falls has a present enrollment of 450 students and contains approximately 45,000 square feet of classrooms and shop area.

Expanded programs, increased enrollment and insufficient space have prompted Independent School District 564 to plan for the addition.

The architect has been given the school's course offerings and ideas from the school district. Prime consideration is that the addition will accommodate vocational programs currently being taught at the Lincoln high school building. The addition also will allow for expansion of some of the school's existing programs.

Programs being taught at the institute are audio communication, carpentry, business, welding, auto body, architectural drafting, practical nursing, auto mechanics, electronics, agriculture, small business management, special needs, sales and marketing and cosmetology.

The Lincoln high school complex presently houses auto mechanics, agri-business, electronics, cosmetology and practical nursing. These rooms were the first constructed here for vocational education.

The architects are now analyzing the existing building and evaluating stated needs. They will then present recommendations to the school district. The plan will require a bond issue election for the amount of money involved.

Eight northwest Minnesota counties are primarily served by the vo-tech school. They are Marshall, Roseau, Pennington, Red Lake, Kittson, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods and Clearwater.

The Armstrong, Torseth, Skold and Rydeen firm designed the suburban Hennepin county area vocational-technical schools. These schools were awarded a special citation from the American association of school administrators at the 1974 exhibition of school architecture.

74th Annual Fair Is Headed For Success

HAPPINESS IS a cuddly rabbit and a grand championship at the Pennington county fair. Collette Thune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Thune and a member of the Happy Acres 4-H club, won a grand championship in the rabbit division's market class. She also won two grand championships in the sheep competition to become the only county 4-H club member to win three grand championships on 1975 county fair exhibits.

Good crowds, good weather and good quality and quantity of exhibits marked the 1975 Pennington county fair Wednesday through Sunday at the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls. Grandstand crowds through Friday were well-attended with people reportedly turned away for the Gene Holter animal show Friday night, according to Milan Borsheim, fair secretary.

Total premiums paid for the 74th annual fair were $4,550.50 with $1,963.50 going to 4-H club exhibitors and the remainder to open class competitors. Entries in the 4-H club division were believed to be up slightly from last year and open class entries about the same in number.

The children's barnyard—a new building featuring young farm animals—was a big hit with the youngsters. It was operated by county 4-H club and Future Farmers of America members.

Grandstand performances remaining as the Times goes to press Saturday for early publication are the Grand Ol' Opry show tonight in front of the grandstand and professional wrestling program Sunday evening in the arena. The 4-H club style revue is being held Saturday afternoon in the arena.

Mathson And Conely Histories Reviewed

More Pennington county histories are being sought for the historical book to be published by the county historical society, according to Mrs. Inga Geving, president of the organization. Township chairmen are working on the project of collecting histories from throughout the county.

The following are two stories which have been submitted and serve as an example of material which is wanted. They are printed as written:

The Mathson Family
by Mrs. Alma Mathson

TIMES FEATURE

The farm on which I now live with my son Clayton and his family was homesteaded by Christ and Brith Mathson in the year of 1883. To this family were born six children Ole, Tillie, Ben, Olga, Clara and Martin, who later became my husband.

Brith Mathson died on Christmas Eve 1890, leaving Christ Mathson with six small children to care for. The youngest, Olga, was only six days old. Through the help of neighbors, who took care of the younger children, he managed to raise his family.

Indian uprisings were common at that time and they would often go to bed with an axe on one side of the bolted door and a gun on the other side. One by one the children grew up and left to start lives of their own.

When he was 26, Ole Mathson, who was then living here with his father, became paralyzed from the waist down as a result of polio. Martin came home from the West Coast to help care for his brother and his aging father. Christ Mathson died in May of 1920.

Although seriously handicapped, Ole Mathson engaged in the Mercantile business, operating a store on this farm and later opening stores at Hazel and St. Hilaire. Being very ambitious and having unlimited determination, Ole rose above his handicaps and made a success of his business, despite the fact that his store in Hazel was destroyed by fire at one time. Ole died at the age of 52 after spending half of his life in a wheelchair.

I was born on May 21, 1897 at Cummings, N.D., to Christ and

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of 203 South Maple Avenue, Thief River Falls, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 13, at an open house at Redeemer Lutheran church.

The honored couple was ushered into the church by their grandchildren, Julie and Jerol Gilbert as the organist Mrs. William Halbasch played nuptial music. A brief program was given with Rev. A reception was given in the church fellowship hall following the program. At the guest book were Jeff Gilbert and Steve Carriere. Julie and Jerol Gilbert ladled the punch and Stacy Carriere distributed the thank-you notes.

The anniversary cake, topped with a golden Christogram, was cut and served by Inga Linder and Mrs. Gunder Gunderson. At the silver service were Mrs. Edwin Nelson and Mrs. Joe Magnell. Members of the ladies aid served the lunch.

United Lutheran church of Gonvick was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Sherry Marge Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Spencer of Gonvick, and Clark Mason Hjelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hjelle of Viking.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony were Rev. Victor Luiken of Grand Forks, N.D., and Rev. Truman Daniels of Gonvick. Melvin Hamnes of Gonvick presided at the piano and Van Swanson of Grygla, a friend of the groom, sang "The Wedding Prayer," as the couple knelt at the altar, and "One Hand, One Heart," as the couple lit the single large white caldle, symbolizing their oneness.

Baskets of yellow and white gladioli, pink carnations, white daisies and blue babies' breath graced the chancel for the four o'clock ceremony.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was attired in a white peau satin floor-length gown which she had sewn. The gown was accented with white cotton lace and featured long, full sleeves, an inset bib with stand-up collar, and a ruffled hemline that flowed back into a train. White lace flowers appliqued at the raised waistline corresponded with the lace that edged her chapel-length veil held by a lace trimmed headpiece. She carried a small white Bible topped with pink roses and white daisies, tied with a blue ribbon. For something old, she wore the heart-shaped locket which her father had given to her grandmother during World War II.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Brad (Fern) Holm of Clearbrook, a cousin of the bride. Bridesmatrons were Mrs. Neil (Brenda) Wiley of Aitken, Mrs. Mike (Audrey) Kasprowicz of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Robert (Charlotte) Johnson of Manvel, N.D., all friends of the bride. Miss Julie Flodstrom of Albert Lea, a cousin of the groom, served as bridesmaid. They wore identical floor-length gowns, following the same design as the bride's. The gowns were fashioned of polyester Bambella, in pastel shades of green, pink, blue, peach and yellow respectively. Each attendant carried a bouquet of white daisies and blue babies' breath tied with pastel ribbons, accenting the pastel color scheme. Their gold cross necklaces were gifts from the bride.

Best man was Keith Ranum of Newfolden, a friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Steve Hjelle of Viking, a brother of the groom; Jody Spencer of Gonvick, a brother of the bride; Byron Stokke of Roseau, cousin of the groom, and Royal Osborne of Viking, a friend of the groom. The groom was attired in a light-blue tuxedo accented by navy velvet trim, white ruffled shirt, a light blue bow tie and a single pink rose boutonniere. The groomsmen wore black tuxedos with pastel shirts, matching the gowns worn by the bride's attendants. Their boutonnieres were white carnations as were the ones worn by the ushers, Nolan Spencer of Deerwood, a cousin of the bride, and Daniel Hoberg of Newfolden, a friend of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Spencer selected a peach floor-length gown topped by a matching lace jacket. The mother of the groom wore a mint green floor-length gown. Both wore corsages of yellow roses and white carnations.

Honored guests at the wedding were Mrs. Amanda Halvorson, grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Lillie Flodstrom and Mrs. Selma Hjelle, grandmothers of the groom.

A reception in the church parlors followed. For the occasion, the dining hall was decorated in blue and white. Highlighting the serving table was a four-tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. Andrew Widseth of Gonvick. To correspond with the decorations, the cake featured blue flowers and blue and white weddinb bells. Topping the cake were a miniature bride and groom encircled by white floral bands. Mrs. Wallace Evje of Gonvick and Miss Amy Hjelle of Middle River, an aunt of the groom, cut and served the cake. Coffee pourers were Mrs. Blanche Brusewitz of Bagley and Mrs. Douglas Flodstrom of Chippewa Falls, Wis., aunts of the bride and groom, respectively.

Serving as reception host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Norris Nelson of Langdon, N.D., and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ranum of Viking. Mrs. June Lee of Duluth, a friend of the bride, was at the guest book. Serving punch were July Berg of Gonvick, friend of the bride, and Lori Flodstrom of Chippewa Falls, a cousin of the groom. Mrs. Allen Jacobson of Gonvick, great-aunt of the bride, was in charge of the serving table.

Waitresses were Kim Wagner, Leah Wagner, Patty Olson of Gonvick, friends of the bride, and Colleen Stokke of Newfolden, cousin of the groom.

Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Bob Davids, Jr., Mrs. Don Evje, Mrs. Van Beckstrand, Mrs. Clifford Berg, Mrs. Elvin Dolalie and Mrs. Russell Sand, all of Gonvick. At the gift table were Miss Ava Duus of Brainerd and Miss Debra Wedger of Thief River Falls. The rice bags were distributed by Steve Ask, a friend of the bride's family.

For the wedding trip to Duluth, the bride wore a mint green wrap-around dress complemented by an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Hjelle are now at home in this city at 1518 Northland village, apartment 302. The bride is employed by Annette's Fabrics and the groom by Robertson Lumber company.

Susan Rae Dyrdal And Orville McQiston Marry

Miss Susan Rae Dyrdal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Dyrdal of this city, became the bride of Orville McQiston, son of Mrs. Duane Carlson of Rollington and Leo McQiston of Barnum, at a ceremony on June 28 at Oak Ridge Lutheran church.

Rev. Ralph Hofrenning officiated at the six o'clock ceremony. Mrs. Martin Solaeng was at the organ, playing appropriate nuptial selections as the guests were ushered in by Terry Dyrdal, brother of the bride, and Keith Bugge, a friend of the couple. Soloist, Ray Skiles of Thornton, Colo., an uncle of the bride, sang, "More," following the processional, and "O Perfect Love," as the couple knelt at the altar.

Baskets of white gladioli, blue carnations and babies' breath, backed by lighted candelabra, formed the background for the wedding party.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white lace over satin, featured an empire bodice with high neckline and long sheer sleeves, with an upper puff. A lace headpiece, etched with sequins, held her chapel-length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a colonial styled bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses, white daisies and blue babies' breath tied with narrow blue and white ribbon streamers. Her only jewelry was a silver cross necklace. Her attire also featured the old, new, borrowed and blue sentimental theme.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lloyd Dyrdal of Argyle. Bridesmaid was Diane Vilven of this city, friend and roommate of the bride. They wore floor-length gowns of blue and white dotted Swiss floor-length gowns designed with full bishop sleeves featuring wide cuffs and full skirts with a gathered flounce around the bottom. To complement their attire, they wore blue picture hats trimmed with white daisies and satin ribbon. Each attendant carried a long stemmed blue carnation and greens with blue and white streamers.

Wearing similar attire was the flower girl, Laurel McQiston of Duluth, a niece of the groom. Their silver cross necklaces were gifts from the bride. The bride's personal attendants were Mrs. Keith Bugge of this city and Sheryl McQiston of this city.

Best man was Nelmer Nelson of Winona, friend of the groom. Dennis Scjeve, also of Winona, served as groomsman. The groom wore a white tuxedo trimmed in black, black trousers and black bow tie. His attendants wore medium blue tuxedos, with black trousers. All wore white ruffled shirts and single carnations, tinted blue.

Ring bearer was Bryce Dyrdal of this city, a nephew of the bride. He wore tuxedo attire and carried the rings on a heart-shaped satin pillow.

The mother of the bride was attired in a medium blue floor-length gown fashioned with a lace bodice with long lace sleeves. The mother of the groom wore a floor-length gown of dark blue and white dotted Swiss. Their corsages were fashioned of yellow daisies and miniature blue carnations with babies' breath.

The wedding dinner was served at the church following the ceremony. Serving as host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dyrdal of this city, brother and sister-in-law of the bride. At the guest book was Tammy Dickson of Rollingstone, sister of the groom. Lynn Dyrdal, niece of the bride, and Ricky Dickson of Rollingstone, brother of the groom, ladled the punch.

Centering the serving table was a four tiered, heart-shaped wedding cake, decorated with blue roses and topped by a miniature bride and groom backed by a floral archway. The cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Chester Larson, was cut and served by Mrs. Willie McLean of this city and Mrs. George Millison of Wisconsin, aunts of the bride. Pouring were Mrs. Edith Dyrdal of this city, aunt of the bride. The ham was served by Mrs. Jack Armstrong of Bemidji, a friend of the family.

Waitresses were Mrs. Ernie Feragen, Mrs. David Nelson and Val Quam, friends of the bride, Tina and Toni Dickson and Brenda Peppeger of Rollingstone, sister of the groom. Opening and displaying the gifts were Terry Dickson and Desie Peppenger of Rollingstone, sisters of the groom, and Cathy Boltz of Wisconsin, a friend of the couple.

New Pistol Law Now In Effect For Minnesota

enclosed. A zipper type case or a box in which the weapon may be fastened and protected would qualify, according to local authorities.

According to a typewritten flyer entitled "Some Thoughts on How 1975 Minnesota Handgun Law Works" (distributed to law enforcement agencies by attorney general Warren Spannaus, a proponent of the handgun law), a permit is issued if (1) the applicant is not one of the five types of persons prohibited from possessing a handgun, (2) the applicant's occupation or a personal safety hazard requires the carrying of a handgun and (3) the applicant provides satisfactory proof of his ability to use a handgun safely.

"Persons carrying handguns in public places—from sports arenas to somebody else's front yard to bars—must obtain a permit to carry," the Spannaus thoughts state.

"Permits are mostly required to walk around town carrying a handgun . . . For example, no permit is needed to transport a handgun in a motor vehicle, snowmobile or boat as long as the weapon is unloaded and cased.

"Permits are issued by the chief of police where the citizen lives if the community has an organized and full-time police department; they are issued in all other cases by the sheriff of the county where the citizen lives."

There is no fee for the permit; fingerprints are not required; serial numbers of handguns are not required; and the applicant may carry as many handguns as he wishes on a single permit.

The problem in obtaining a permit—if one is desired—is in how the law enforcement agency arbitrarily determines the applicant's need. The applicant may believe he should have a permit and the law enforcement agency representative may not. There are bound to be some disputes in this area.

The permits themselves are also quite specific. An applicant may be judged eligible for a permit to carry a handgun while transferring large sums of money from his business place to a bank, for instance. That is the only purpose for which his permit would be valid. It could be technically assumed, therefore, that he would be in violation of the permit while returning to the store, since the money would be deposited and the need for a weapon no longer exist. Logically, however, the permit would be for a two-way bank trip.

If a permit is granted, it is good anywhere in the state except St. Paul and Minneapolis (where individual city permits are also required), only good for the activities stated on the permit, must be renewed annually and must be returned within five days if the holder becomes one of the five types of prohibited persons.

"Carrying a handgun in public without a permit is a gross misdemeanor," the "Thoughts" from the attorney general state. "For example, if a law enforcement officer stops a driver with an uncased handgun on the front seat, the officer can arrest the driver and take the gun away. For another example, an officer can take the same action with regard to a person in a bar with a handgun."

Carrying a handgun in public for activities other than the activities specified on a permit is a misdemeanor (punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 or a jail sentence up to one year, or both). Possession by a person recently convicted of a violent crime is a felony with penalty beyond the $1,000 and one year provisions.

If a law enforcement agency permits a person desiring a permit to fill out an application, the agency has 21 days in which to review the application and determine if a permit should be issued. If it does not deny the permit whithin the 21-day period, it becomes effective. There is no provision in the law for a permit to purchase a handgun nor a waiting period to purchase a handgun.

The law also makes it illegal to sell, manufacture or assemble "Saturday Night Specials". A dozen brands of guns are listed specifically as prohibited along with others which melt at less than 1,000 degrees. "Generally," the Spannaus thoughts state, "die-cast handguns are 'Saturday Night Specials', and all-steel and lightweight handguns are not."

DIAMOND WILLOW and a number of other woods—including seven types of wood in the rocking chair alone—were used by Gunnar Sundberg of Newfolden to create a grand champion exhibit at the Pennington county fair. The display included the rocking chair, a high stool and a lamp.

DELICATE DOILIES were exhibited by Karen Race of the Star 4-H club to win a grand championship in the knitting and crocheting division at the Pennington county fair.

Elton Cummings Retired From Police Dep't.

the patroling officer. When dial telephones came, the situation altered quickly. "We had to increase the number on the force just to cover the office," he said.

With the landmark supreme court cases of the sixties, the technical aspect of the job also changed. "Police officers have to follow more rules and restrictions," he said. "The rights of individuals have been protected a lot more."

Elton's tenure as chief didn't lack for important cases, including the kidnap-murder of banker Kenneth Lindberg in November, 1955 and the shooting death of Sgt. Don Myers (one of the six full-time officers when Elton became chief) in February, 1962. But what he prefers to remember are his efforts in the rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents.

"This was one of the highest juvenile delinquency areas in the state at about the time I became chief," he said. "I'm glad to say that through the cooperation of the ministerial association, schools, welfare department, private citizens and law enforcement agencies the problem was brought down some.

"One of the most rewarding things to me is to see young people who gave the community ulcers when they were growing up turn out to be good citizens, and just about every one of them have turned out O.K.," he added.

Elton's contribution to the community includes a long list of organization memberships, including: Salvation Army service committee, served as chairman for a number of years; Elk's club; American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars; Eagles club, served as officer; Golf club, former director; State Chiefs of Police association, president in 1961; Red River Valley Peace Officers association, secretary; Pennington county and Thief River Falls Credit Union, member of credit committee since 1958; Northwest Peace Officers association; and a 16 year member of the local National Guard unit.

"I would like to thank the citizens of Thief River Falls for their many courtesies and the support they gave the police department during my tour of duty," Elton said. "I would also like to thank officials of the city and other affiliated law enforcement agencies."

Penn. Co. Heart Fund Volunteers Raised $2,896

Heart fund volunteers in Pennington county raised $2,896 during the 1975 annual heart fund campaign according to Robert F. Foley, Roseau, 1975 district heart fund chairman.

Pennington county volunteers helped the Minnesota heart association top the $1,000,000 mark for the third consecutive year," Foley said. "The total raised in the state was $1,110,000.

"These funds are used to conduct cardiopulmonary resuscitation emergency cardiac care training sessions, high blood pressure screening programs to detect hypertensive persons, and continuing education conferences for medical and paramedical personnel to discuss the advances made in the prevention and treatment of cardiovascular diseases, which affect over 28,830,000 Americans," he said.

The Minnesota heart association has already budgeted $100,000 to conduct these and other community service programs during the 1975-76 fiscal year.

Through education, community service and research programs, the Minnesota heart association is striving to accomplish its task of reducing death and disability due to heart and blood vessel diseases.

Clean Indoor Air Act Starts Aug. 1

A major legislative step toward insuring people the right to breathe smoke-free air in most public places goes into effect on August 1 in Minnesota.

The Minnesota clean indoor air act, signed by Governor Anderson on June 2, prohibits smoking in public places and at public meetings. Smoking is limited to designated smoking areas in any enclosed, indoor area used by the general public or serving as a place of work. Such places include, but are not limited to, restaurants, retail stores, offices and other commercial establishments, public conveyances, educational facilities, hospitals, nursing homes, auditoriums, arenas and meeting rooms.

Private, enclosed offices occupied exclusively by smokers are exluded from the ruling, according to Ed Brandt, legislative chairman for the Association for Non-Smokers' Rights (ANSR).

Also excluded is an entire room or hall used for a private social function; in that case, the hall is treated as a private home, with any regulation of smoking left to the sponsor's discretion, added Brandt, a former legislator who assisted in drafting the bill.

The clean indoor air act stipulates that the person in charge of a public place may designate certain areas as smoking areas. However, no public place, except a bar, may be designated as a smoking area in its entirety.

Besides establishing smoking areas, the person in charge of a public place is responsible for making reasonable efforts to prevent smoking in restricted areas by posting signs and directing customers to the smoking or non-smoking sections.

Regulations specifying what portion of a public place may be designated as a smoking area are to be adopted by the state board of health.

Work places frequented by the general public, such as sales rooms and customer service offices of retail stores, are covered by the law's general provisions. The department of labor and industry must establish rules restricting and prohibiting smoking in other work places where there is a smoke pollution problem.

"Thus," said Brandt, "while the legislative intent to protect employees as well as the general public is clear, there is no legally binding restriction on smoking in places used chiefly by employees until such times as appropriate administrative regulations are adopted."

Persons smoking in a public place or at a public meeting, except in the smoking section, would be guilty of a petty misdemeanor and subject to a fine of up to $100.

Representative Phyllis Kahn and Senator Davie Schaaf introduced the clean air bill which gives legal protection to non-smokers' rights. While a similar bill was defeated in the closing session of the last legislature, the prospects of succeeding with the 1975 clean indoor air act were enhanced when House Speaker Martin Sabo, House Minority Leader Henry Savelkoul and Representatives B. J. Philbrook and Ted L. Suss all signed the bill as co-authors.

"The Minnesota clean indoor air act," Representative Kahn said, "is probably one of the most reasonable and strongest such laws in the country. Now it all depends on how it will be enforced," she added.

"In order for the law to become effective and realize its full scope, there needs to be a whole change in the public attitude toward smoking. No longer will smokers be allowed to pull out a cigarette whenever they feel like it; instead, they will only be allowed to smoke in certain restricted public places," Rep. Kahn said.

The Minneapolis representative stressed the importance non-smokers must play in enforcing the law. "How well the bill works depends on how strongly non-smokers assert their rights to breathe clean, smoke-free air."

Ferber Attends International Music Camp

Ruth Ferber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Ferber of Thief River Falls, attended the International Peace Garden Music camp the week of July 13-20.

A staff of 130 artist-teachers, internationally noted guest conductors and specialists provide supervision and instruction for the camp. Performances and exhibits in all areas of the fine arts attract approximately 2,800 students and adults from all areas to take part in this summer fine arts program.

Ruth, a freshman at Lincoln high school, studied voice and was awarded a certificate of merit on completion of the camp course. She took part in a swing choir program and a concert presented at the formal gardens, which her parents attended.

New York Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ratzskin of Plainville, N.Y. arrived at the Arlie Brekkie home last week to spend some time visiting and reminiscing. Mike and Arlie were World War II buddies 30 years ago. They were in combat units in Africa, Italy, France and Germany and many times Arlie would tune up an old violin and entertain themselves in the fox holes.

The Ratzskins were not familiar with farm life as Mike was a lawyer and in later years became interested in housing projects in New York. Much of their time was spent talking about farm life which they enjoyed so much learning about. Mr. and Mrs. Brekkie and family own a home in Fosston where Mavis is employed as a nurse at the Fosston hospital. In the summertime Mavis commutes by car to their farm near Roland's store where Arlie spends part of his busy day rebuilding antiques.

Arlie is repairing an old prairie one horse plow at the present time for the Chervestads and is also making framework for the Farmers Union $500 reward signs that make a nice ornament for the lawns.

Those who came over to have birthday cake with Orlando Chervestad on Friday were Sena Chervestad, Signe Evenson, along with their foster family, Barbara, Robert and Roger Flaten, Juleen, Elmer and Tony and Mary Carlson who arrived last Monday from Roosevelt. Mary baked her first birthday cake for Orlando and did a great job, very tasty. Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Brekki also had coffee and cake with us. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Brad Nelson and Ryan came over with a birthday cake and visited in the evening. On Friday Korydon and Carol and Aaron wished grandpa a happy birthday.

American Indian Music And Arts Workshop Slated

Bridging a type of 'cultural gap' will be one of the goals attempted by members of a teacher workshop, American Indian music and related arts. To be held August 3-8 on the Bemidji state college campus, in-depth study will be made into existing art forms of the Indian people.

The BSC music department, BSC department of American Indian studies, and the University of Minnesota are jointly sponsoring the three-credit program.

Close proximity to two of the major Ojibwe reservations, Leech lake and Red lake, will offer opportunity for on-site learning experiences. Field trip plans include an Indian style dinner and a pow-wow with active participation.

Among the professional staff representing the major fine arts areas in Louis W. Ballard, a noted author, composer and ethomusicologist from Santa Fe, N.M. Ballard's concern for the need of Indian music instruction has earned him his present position of music curriculum specialist, central office of education, department of interior, bureau of Indian affairs.

In the book, "My Music Reaches to the Sky," be explains his philosophy on the current musical situation.

"It is not enough to acknowledge that American Indian music is different from other music and that the Indian, somehow, 'marches to a different drum,' as a way of paying obeisance to the unique culture of our Native American people. What is needed in America, as had always been needed, is an awakening and re-orienting of our total spiritual and cultural perspective. . . ."

Through workshop discussions and demonstrations, Ballard will try to aid teachers in this direction.

Also on the workshop faculty will be Donald Bibeau, director of Indian Studies, BSC; Carl Gawboy, artist; Larry Kitto, Minnesota Chippewa tribe director of the higher education committee; Paul Parthun, BSC professor of music on the Indian studies staff; Richard Sieber, professor of music at the University of Minnesota, and Gerald Vizenor, well-known Native American author.

They will be combining talents with Ballard to expose students to using the arts as a tool of communication in the schools.

Representatives from all levels of education—elementary to Phd. candidates—have registered for the course and are coming from 15 states.

For more information on the workshop, contact Paul Parthun, BSC music department, 218-755-2915.

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWDS greeted the annual Crazy Days promotion in Thief River Falls Thursday. This photo of LaBree avenue was taken about 10:30 a.m. when the weather was warm and the bargains were hot. The crowd remained large throughout the day until a storm warning shortly after 4 p.m. caused merchants to bring their sidewalk sale merchandise inside the stores. The annual event was considered successful, however, with all events being held as scheduled.

Disaster Claims For Housing Have Been Filed

Ninety-five per cent of the applications received by the U. S. department of housing and urban development (HUD) for temporary housing assistance of Minnesota flood victims have now been processed for eligibility.

Hank Bowen, HUD field office director, said the bulk of applications centered around the Moorhead-Crookston region and that requests for the department's "mini-repair" program remain heavy.

He said 355 applications had been received through Sunday night and that eligibility for temporary housing assistance was running nearly 39 per cent.

The HUD official also announced new hours of operation beginning Wednesday, July 30 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for families and individuals wishing to file applications for temporary housing assistance with the Moorhead and Crookston field offices.

"If flood victims are unable to visit the HUD offices between these hours, special appointments can be arranged with our housing counselors by calling Crookston (281-6405) or Moorhead (236-7801) any day of the week from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m., Bowen added.

Mathson And Conely Histories Are Reviewed

Bertha Moe. We moved to the St. Hilaire community in 1900. I lived there with my parents until Nov. 3, 1920, when I became the bride of Martin Mathson and came to live on this farm.

We lived and farmed here until the death of Martin, in a tractor accident in October of 1960. Our family includes Mable (Mrs. Curtis Lemky) of Thief River Falls, Fern (Mrs. Don Peters) of Viking and Clayton, the third generation to operate this farm.

Clayton was married on June 14, 1952 to Inez Hagen. They have lived and farmed here since that time. Their family includes Brenda, a nursing student in Minneapolis, Bruce and Clair, who assist their father in the farming operations, and Christi and Brian.

Dennis Conely
by Pat Conely

Dennis Conely came from Canada with his family and settled on land in Sec. 34 in 1883. This is now part of the city of Thief River Falls.

Mr. Conely walked to Crookston many times and carried back the necessary supplies for his family, which consisted of three girls and one boy. Later he got an ox, named Gerry, which he drove on a cart.

His son James was one of the first white children born in wiat is now Thief River Falls. A daughter was born later.

Dennis Conely's wife was home along when the Indians came by. They pulled out all her garden, except the potatoes and corn. They left these and thought the rest of the garden was weeds. Mrs. Conely didn't dare to go out and stop them but was very unhappy, but glad when they left.

Mr. Conely went to Crookston, which was the county seat at the time, and platted Conely's first, second and third addition. He was asked to name the streets and avenues. He named Conely avenue (which for some reason got spelled wrong). It should have been Conely, instead of Conley, as it is today. He also named St. Paul and Markley avenues. In naming the streets he chose Hughes (his wife's maiden name) and James, Nora, Michael and Annie, in honor of some of his children.

Later he moved to a farm west of where Arctic Enterprises is now located and farmed for many years.

"We want to emphasize that all family histories are wanted," Mrs. Geving said. "If you know of someone whose story we should have, encourage them or let us know. We want the story in as soon as possible. Orders may also be given for the book when it is completed."

CHILD CARE project championship at the Pennington county fair was won by Judy Mosbeck of the Black River 4-H club. Her entry was a sewn cover which fits over a card table to create a playhouse for the smallfry.

If the Shoe Fits..
Can poor fit be responsible for Athlete's Foot?
In a study conducted by New York University School of Medicine, it was concluded that foot injuries such as blisters, caused by ill-fitting footwear, may lead to fungus infections.
One hundred volunteers (some whose feet were kept in healthy condition prior to testing, and others whose feet were deliberately injured) were used in the study. The volunteers were subjected to direct contact with the fungus that causes athlete's foot. Many of the men and women with injured feet contracted the infection. It was found that athlete's foot failed to develop in any of the 23 uninjured volunteers.
One can only conclude that athlete's foot is most difficult to contract by healthy, unblistered feet, while blisters and skin breaks literally open the door to the infection. This is just one more evidence of the importance of correctly fitting footwear, and of proper foot care.

Goodridge Free Meals Program Plan Explained

Dr. David M. Brown, superintendent of the Goodridge public schools, today announced its policy for free meals and free milk or reduced-price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the national school lunch and special milk programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family-size and income scale for free meals and free milk include the following family size and income figures: 1, $3,230; 2, $4,240; 3, $5,250; 4, $6,260; 5, $7,190; 6, $8,110; 7, $8,950; 8, $9,790; 9, $10,550; 10, $11,310; 11, $12,060; 12, $12,810; and each additional family member, $750.

Family-size and income scale for reduced price meals are as follows: 1, $4,520; 2, $5,930; 3, $7,350; 4, $8,770; 5, $10,060; 6, $11,360; 7, $12,530; 8, $13,700; 9, $14,770; 10, $15,840; 11, $16,890; 12, $17,940; and each additional family member, $1,050.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals and free milk or reduced-price meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the superintendent's office. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy the superintendent of schools will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Chairman Orlin Hanson, Goodridge, Minnesota 56725 (Phone 378-3270) for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

The superintendent of schools' office has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

Adams Appears In Minnesota All-State Board

Ron Adams of Lincoln senior high school appeared in concert July 27 at Bemidji state college with the 144 members of the Minnesota all-state band.

Adams, who plays the trumpet, spent four days of intensive study at BSC under Dr. Frank Bencriscutto in preparation for the concert.

The all-state band, which has held its annual summer program and concert at Bemidji state for the last 12 years, premiered "Lamp of Liberty" by Dr. Bencriscutto during the performance.

The Minnesota music educator's association, which sponsors the all-state band, commissioned the original work by Dr. Bencriscutto, band director at the University of Minnesota, specifically for the all-state group.

The 144 students in the band were chosen following auditions in each of the 32 high school districts of the state. Nearly 1,000 students competed for a position with the band.

Texas-Minnesota Picnic Set At Detroit Lakes

Texas-Minnesota pot luck picnic dinner is set for August 6 at the Detroit Lakes Methodist church. Registration, at 50 cents per person, will be held from 10 to 11:30 a.m., with the picnic starting at the close of registration.

Hot dishes will be provided by women of the Detroit Lakes area, with each family asked to bring a salad or dessert, and their own dishes, silverware, bread or rolls. Families will exchange white elephant gifts and should bring a gift for each member who wants to exchange.

Prohibit Smoking In Public Places And At Meetings

Minnesota clean indoor air act, effective August 1, prohibits smoking in public places and at public meetings except in designated smoking areas that are clearly identified by the use of signs.

A public place, as defined in the act, is "any enclosed, indoor area used by the general public or serving as a place of work, including, but not limited to, restaurants, retail stores, offices and other commercial establishments, public conveyances, educational facilities, hospitals, nursing homes, auditoriums, arenas and meeting rooms, but excluding private, enclosed offices occupied exclusively by smokers even though such offices may be visited by nonsmokers."

Where a public place consists of a single room, one side of the room must be posted as a no smoking area.

A bar is the only public place that can be designated a smoking area in its entirety. This designation must be posted conspicuously on all entrances normally used by the public.

Proprietors of public places shall make reasonable efforts to prevent smoking in public places by "posting appropriate signs, arranging seating to provide a smoke-free area, asking smokers to refrain from smoking upon request of a client or employee suffering discomfort from the smoke, or any other means which may be appropriate."

The smoking prohibition does not apply in cases where "an entire room or hall is used for a private social function and seating arrangements are under the control of the sponsor of the function and not of the proprietor or person in charge of the place."

The smoking prohibition also does not apply to "factories, warehouses and similar places of work not usually frequented by the general public," except that the department of labor and industry in consultation with the state board of health may restrict or prohibit smoking in "those places of work where the close proximity of workers or the inadequacy of ventilation causes smoke pollution detrimental to the health and comfort of nonsmoking employees."

Proprietors of establishments, local health authorities and the Minnesota department of health are charged with responsibilities relating to the act. Regulations that pertain to various provisions of the act are being drafted and will be presented at a public hearing in the near future.

Notice will be given of the dates of the public hearing to consider proposed regulations. Persons wishing to testify or submit written testimony will have that opportunity.

East Division, Batting Titles On The Line

Arctic Cat and VFW will settle their season-long battle for first place in the East Division of the Thief River Falls men's fast pitch softball league this week, while at the same time a pair of individuals from those same two ball clubs decide the winner of the league's prestigious batting title.

First place Arctic Cat (14-4) holds a scant half-game lead over second place VFW (14-5) in the tight East Division standings. This week's final regular season slate of games centers around the two ball clubs and the Class A state tournament berth awaiting the eventual East Division champion.

Title-deciding games scheduled to be played tomorrow (Tuesday) will find the VFW playing the Legion at 7:15 p.m. while Arctic Cat tangles with Nelson State Farm Insurance in the 9 p.m. doubleheader nightcap.

An Arctic Cat win over State Farm, along with a Legion win over VFW would end the league's regular season schedule. However, a VFW win and an Arctic Cat loss would necessitate a Wednesday night Arctic Cat-Legion game.

If a VFW-Arctic Cat first place tie develops after this week's schedule is completed, a first place, state tournament-deciding Arctic Cat-VFW playoff game would be played Thursday.

In addition to the East Division championship struggle this week, Lonnie Babcock of Arctic Cat and Scott Kleven of VFW are waging their own battle for the coveted league batting title.

Babcock currently leads the league in hitting with a hefty .439 batting average. However, Kleven is just a half-step behind at .438. Babcock has collected 18 hits in 41 at bats while Kleven has pounded out 21 hits in 48 trips to the plate. Although it should be relatively easy to come by, Babcock needs another at-bat to qualify for the batting title. A minimum 42 at-bats is needed to win the crown.

Kleven, although he trails Babcock at this point, might have a slight edge for the batting crown going into Tuesday's game. Kleven, playing the first game against the Legion tomorrow, boasts an eye-opening .625 batting average against Legion pitchers this summer.

Meanwhile, Babcock, playing the doubleheader nightcap against State Farm, has managed to hit just .250 against State Farm pitching this season.

Kleven will probably be batting against Mike Drury of the Legion while Babcock will probably face highly regarded Mark DuChamp of State Farm. DuChamp ranks among the league's top hurlers.

Should Kleven enjoy an accustomed good night at the plate in the first game against Drury and the Legion, Babcock will be facing second game pressure against DuChamp and State Farm.

Two other league batters boast averages above the lofty .400 plateau: Vern Lindquist and Dick Harren, both members of the already-crowned West Division champion Pepsi-Cola team, are batting .422 and .400, respectively.

Pepsi will represent Thief River Falls in the recreation state fast pitch softball tournament scheduled to be held August 16-17 at Blaine. The Class A state tournament will be played this weekend, August 9-10, at Owatonna.

Note From Swanson

Lee Swanson, Lincoln high school basketball coach the past four years who announced last week that he was accepting the head basketball coaching position at Raso Robles (Cal.) high school, dropped a note on our desk that we would like to pass along to the public:

"Just a note to let you and the community of Thief River Falls know how much my family and I have enjoyed living here the past ten years.

My decision to move for another basketball job was a professional decision.

I have a great deal of pride and respect for my past teams and parents in Thief River Falls.

I'll always remember the Prowlers . . . may the Prowlers always be No. 1."

Sincerely, Lee Swanson

Announce League Playoff Pairings

Arctic, VFW Will Settle Fast Pitch Race This Week

Thief River Falls men's fast pitch softball league, inactive for most of last week because of playing field site conflicts with the Pennington county fair, will wind up its 1975 regular season schedule in dramatic fashion this week.

An abbreviated slate of games this week will center around East Division rivals Arctic Cat and VFW and the Class A state tournament berth available to the eventual East Division winner.

Already crowned West Division winner Pepsi-Cola is assured of a berth in the state recreation fast pitch softball tournament scheduled to be played August 16-17 at Blaine. The East Division champion—either Arctic Cat or VFW—will play in the Class A state tournament scheduled to be played this week, August 9-10, at Owatonna.

Arctic Cat currently sits atop the East Division standings with a 14-4 record, but VFW is just one-half game behind the leaders with a 14-5 mark. Pepsi finished its regular season obligations with a 13-7 record.

A pair of crucial league games on top tomorrow (Tuesday) will send the VFW against the Legion at 7:15 p.m. while Arctic Cat tangles with Nelson State Farm Insurance in the doubleheader nightcap.

East Division	w	l	pct
Arctic Cat	14	4	.777
VFW	14	5	.562
State Farm	11	7	.611
Legion	9	7	.562

Pepsi-Cola	13	7	.650
Schmidts	8	10	.444
Falls Diesel	4	15	.210
Melvies	0	18	.000

No definite schedule is planned beyond Tuesday's games. An Arctic Cat win over State Farm, coupled with a Legion win over VFW would abruptly end the regular season and Arctic Cat would earn a state tournament berth. However, a VFW win and an Arctic Cat loss would prompt a Wednesday night Arctic Cat-Legion game.

If a VFW-Arctic Cat first place tie developes after the completion of this week's slate of rain-caused make-up games, a first place, state tournament-deciding Arctic Cat-VFW playoff encounter would be played Thursday.

League commissioner Richard Bjerken also announced pairings for the league's post season playoff scheduled to start Mon., Aug. 11.

First round games in the double elimination tournament will find Pepsi meeting Melvies and Schmidts playing Falls Diesel Mon., Aug. 11.

Games on tap Tues., Aug. 12, will pit the East Division champion against the Legion while the East Division runner-up faces State Farm.

Games will continue Wed., Aug. 13, when the Monday night winners and losers clash. Games planned Fri., Aug. 15, will match the Tuesday night winners and losers.

The playoff will continue until an East-West championship game match-up is determined. The title game will probably be played the week of August 18, said Bjerken.

Northland Electronics, Hamms-Pizza Hut

Major Division Standings Has Key Second Place Tie

Northland Electronics hammered Arctic Power 30-9 Friday to climb into a second place tie with Hamms-Pizza Hut in the Major Division of the Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball league.

While Northland Electronics was handling Arctic Power, the Major Division winning Arctic Raiders edged Hamms-Pizza Hut 7-5 to cause the second place Major Division deadlock.

Elsewhere in Friday's limited league schedule confined only to Major Division play, Hartz knocked off Solheim Furniture 7-6 and Modern Woodman picked up a 7-0 forfeit win over Hydra-Mac.

A possible state tournament berth is on the line for either Northland Electronics or Hamms-Pizza Hut as the 1975 regular season schedule comes to an end this week. Under league rules, the second place finisher in the Major Division will meet the Commercial Division champion in a one game state tournament deciding playoff game. The Major Division champion is assured of a state meet spot.

Furuseth-Nelson Inc. currently leads the Commercial Division standings, needing only one win in its final two games this week to wrap up the pennant.

N. E. 30, Power 9

Northland Electronics unleashed an awesome 29-hit offensive barrage to bury Arctic Power 30-9.

A big 15-run explosion in the top of the seventh inning capped the Northland Electronics fireworks. Tim Olson hit two home runs to spark the winners. Arctic Power picked up 12 hits and committed six of the game's eight errors.

The Arctic Raiders scored three runs in the fifth inning to erase a 5-3 deficit enroute to a 7-5 win over Hamms-Pizza Hut.

Hamms-Pizza Hut finished with a 13-11 base hit edge, but Jack Petrillo and pitcher Brian Nelson hit home runs for the Raiders while teammate Bill Dicken enjoyed a perfect four for four night at the plate. Wayne Olson responded with a Hamms-Pizza Hut home run.

Roger Ness was tagged with the loss on the mound for Hamms-Pizza Hut.

Hartz 7, Solheim 6

Hartz scored three runs in the first inning and escaped with a 7-6 win over Solheim Furniture.

Curt Ness scored the game's winning run with an RBI single in the seventh inning when he picked up his third hit in four trips to the plate for Hartz. Teammate Warren Hanestad also enjoyed a three for four batting effort. The base hits were even at 13 apiece and the winners committed all four of the game's errors.

Jon Looker edged Del Offerdahl for the pitching decision.

Arctic Cat Wins Women's Slow Pitch Playoffs

Arctic Cat, a third place finisher during the regular season, was crowned playoff champion Thursday in the Thief River Falls women's slow pitch softball league.

Arctic Cat, posting a 7-5 regular season record to rank behind McMillan Co. at 11-1 and Penney's at 8-4 during the regular season, edged Kat Haus 18-17 in Thursday night's playoff championship game on the Mark Twain field.

Arctic Cat earlier tipped Penney's in a first round game played Monday.

Kat Haus sporting just a 2-10 record during the regular season to share the league's basement position with the Stealers, got by the Stealer 16-13 Monday and then upset top-seeded McMillan Co. 21-11 Wednesday.

Crookston, EGF Are First Round Victims

Area, Sub District Four representatives Crookston and East Grand Forks were ousted in the first round Thursday in the 1975 Ninth District American Legion baseball tournament being playing at New York Mills.

Sub District Four champion Crookston was eliminated by New York Mills 5-4 and Sub District runner-up East Grand Forks was knocked out of further competition by Fergus Falls 2-1.

Other first round scores Thursday found Sub District Two runner-up Detroit Lakes beat Sub District Three winner Red Lake Falls 13-3 while Sub District Two champion Moorhead Blues blanked Sub District Three runner-up Gonvick 11-0.

Thursday's first round action was single elimination play. The rest of the tournament, scheduled to be completed Sunday, was double elimination.

Friday's second round scores found Detroit Lakes topping New York Mills 2-1 and the Moorhead Blues whipped Fergus Falls 15-1.

N.Y. Mills 5, Crookston 4

Crookston committed six costly errors in handing host New York Mills a 5-4 decision.

Crookston committed three errors in the top of the seventh inning to give New York Mills the winning runs. Crookston rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh, but left the tying run on first base.

A two-run home run by Tom Brasel off Crookston starter and loser Dave Pryzybylski gave New York Mills and winning pitcher Bud Kahilainen an early lead.

Fergus Falls 2, EGF 1

Fergus Falls scored two runs in the top of the ninth inning to edge East Grand Forks 2-1 in extra innings.

Pitchers Tom Brown of Fergus Falls and Mark Rousseau of East Grand Forks matched shutout efforts through eight innings before the ninth when an RBI single by Ralph Anderson and an error plate two Fergus Falls runs.

East Grand Forks scored in the bottom of the ninth and had the tieing run at third base with only one out, but Brown, who fanned 16 batters, struck out the final two batters to end the game. Tim Pesch was hit by a pitch and later scored the only East Grand Forks run on a wild pitch.

Brown gave up only a one hit—a scratch infield base hit in the ninth by Tim Spitsberg. Rousseau gave up but five hits.

State Program Promotes Safety For Bicyclists

With bicycle use increasing throughout the state, many communities are becoming aware of a need for locally based bicycle safety programs for young people.

In the last five years, the number of bicycle crashes in Minnesota has doubled, injuries have jumped by 71 per cent, and 96 bicyclists have died on the state's streets and highways. Over half of these deaths were children under the age of 15 and the fault of the bicyclist.

One response to the need for more bicycle safety education is "Pedal Power", a statewide community program sponsored by the Minnesota department of public safety and the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service.

The Pedal Power concept is a simple one: Teenage delegates are chosen from all parts of the state to attend a bicycle safety camp. During the four-day camp, delegates are given intense training in rules of the road, bicycle maintenance and repair, and safe bicycle operation. Then they are given an opportunity to show what they have learned on a 40-mile bike hike and a bicycle rodeo.

When the delegates return home, they organize workshops and rodeos in their communities to teach their friends and neighbors what they have learned. Last year, over 4,000 young people attended bike safety programs organized by Pedal Power graduates.

This year, Pedal Power attracted 131 young people between the ages of 15 and 17 to Camp Lincoln, just north of Brainerd. All Pedal Power participants have contracted to hold programs in their home towns.

"The unique thing about this program," according to traffic safety coordinator Gail O'Hare, "is that Pedal Power is young people teaching young people. There is no figure of authority involved once the program returns to the community level. Students find it easier to relate to their instructors, while the Pedal Power delegates are given an opportunity to institute constructive change and make their home towns safer places to ride and enjoy bicycling.

During National 4-H week, Oct. 5-11, 7.2 million young people will pause to reflect on their heritage in 4-H—a distinctively American educational program that had its beginnings around the turn of the century.

Hunting, Fishing Day

Sportsmen's clubs and conservation groups all over the nation are planning ways to celebrate the annual hunting and fishing day. Planning activities for this special day can be made much easier with the help of a special NHF day aids kit which has been made available for three dollars from the national hunting and fishing day, 1075 Post Road, Riverside, Connecticut 06878.

The date selected for the 1975 celebration is September 27. The professionally prepared materials include sample press releases, pre-recorded radio announcements, sample advertisements, posters, bumper stickers and instructions on how to use the material. Now is the time for your organization to start planning this celebration.

Big Walleyes

Big walleyes are being caught. Ed Savoie at Perham tells about two nine-pounders caught in the Perham area. One fish weighed nine pounds three ounces and was caught by Dave Kuhn of St. Cloud on Little McDonals Lake. He used a night crawler. Henry Kruger of Perham took one from Pine lake that weighed nine pounds one ounce. He used a spinner and a minnow.

Orrin Wolden of Blackduck reports a walleye weighing 12 pounds six ounces caught by Kenneth Brook of Bemidji in Lake Movil. Ralph Tuttila of Red Lake caught a walleye weighing eight pounds 3½ ounces in the Blackduck river.

Walleye Tournament

The second annual walleye tournament sponsored by the Lake of the Woods resort association and the Baudette Chamber of Commerce ends on Sat., Aug. 16. Many good-sized walleyes have been entered. The fisherman who enters the largest walleye will go home $500 dollars richer.

Consumer Alert

The U.S. Coast Guard warns prospective purchasers of personal flotation devices (PFD's) that many defective devices are being sold as "reconditioned Coast Guard-approved devices." These devices will not function properly and may cause lives.

The U.S. Coast Guard noted that defective personal flotation devices which are being offered for sale as reconditioned Coast Guard-approved devices, or "factory seconds." As part of its quality control measures, a large PFD manufacturer would slash any device found to be defective with a knife, and discard them. This action was intended to prevent anyone from assuming that a defective device was in good and serviceable condition. The Coast Guard requires that any item sold as Coast Guard approved must be made of new materials and meet all applicable requirements. "Factory seconds" or unserviceable devices do not fall into this category.

Do not purchase any device which is being advertised as a reconditioned Coast Guard-approved device, or which appears to be damaged in any way. These devices are defective and may not aid you in saving your life.

Anyone who intentionlly sells a defective device is in violation of federal law and is subject to penalties. All suspected sales of defective personal flotation devices should be reported to U.S. Coast Guard (GMMT-82), Washington, D.C. 20590, or your nearest Coast Guard office.

Boat Safety

The Coast Guard released its latest list of active recall campaigns for recreational boats and engines. Persons desiring to know whether their boat or engine is subject to recall by the manufacturer should contact the local Coast Guard facility, their boat dealer, or local distributor of the equipment in question.

Contact the U.S. Coast Guard at (G-BBC-43-TRPT), Washington, D.C. 20590, or telephone AC 202-426-1757.

New Regulations Adopted To Mark Reared Wildlife

Regulations for the marking of captive-reared waterfowl have been adopted by the U.S. fish and wildlife service.

These regulations are necessary because commerce in wild migratory waterfowl in controlled by the migratory bird treaty act of 1918. The market for captive-raised ducks and geese flourishes, however. All such captive-reared waterfowl must be clearly marked.

The final regulations, published in the "Federal Register", provide several alternative methods for the permanent marking of mallard ducks and other migratory waterfowl. These methods include removal of the hind toe from the right foot; pinioning of a wing; banding with a seamless metal band; or tatooing on the web of one foot.

The regulations were orginally proposed on October 18, 1974. Comments were solicited from the public and interested groups. Those received were virtually all favorable to the proposed regulations. Some changes resulted from these comments. The first requires the marking of both carcasses and containers of mallard ducks killed on game farms or shooting preserves and was suggested by the state of Nebraska to conform to present practice. The second change requires a copy of the waterfowl sale and disposal permit to accompany the shipment of birds. This will facilitate enforcement of the regulations, as well as speed the course of shipment for legitimate transactions.

These regulations will take effect on July 31, 1975.

America's veteran population, according to Veterans Administration statistics, includes 13.6 million veterans of World War II 7.5 million of the Vietnam-era, 5.9 million of the Korean Conflict, 984,000 of World War I and 1,000 of the Spanish-American War. There also are three million Post-Korean veterans with service between January 31, 1955 and August 4, 1964.

UMC Internship Program Proves To Be Success

Most college students plan to follow their chosen career path when they graduate. Some students plan to be employed during the summer months in jobs that pertain to their college course of study. Many students at the University of Minnesota technical college at Crookston (UMC) work at such jobs, and they earn college credit, too.

UMC's theory is that students should have the opportunity to apply what they've learned in the classroom and laboratory to actual on-the-job experience before receiving their diploma. All divisions at UMC require that a 12 week internship program be completed before the associate in applied science degree is granted. Most students at the two-year college find that the summer months between the freshman and sophomore year is a good time to fulfill the internship requirements.

College instructors are instrumental in helping the student find a position that will be beneficial and that is related to the field of work the student is interested in. Employers are encouraged to provide broad exposure to as many facets of the business as possible. Because of the many situations provided, many students report that their internship includes "a little bit of everything" concerned with their chosen career field.

Agriculture division majors are placed in jobs as varied as agriculture career possibilities are. A park and recreation major is helping develop nature trails while working as a naturalist at a state park. A rural communications student is working for a radio station. Another student is putting training in poultry science to work while working for a large turkey operation.

Gary Gust, East Grand Forks, is completing his internship as manager of the consumer products division of the Crookston implement company. The mechanized agriculture major describes his job as, "The managing and selling end of the business. Mostly the job involves sales, the setting up of displays, keeping things in order." Gust says the internship position is very close to the type of job he hopes for following graduation. "It's right where I want to be," he says. Gust's employer, Jeff LaVoi, says Gary is doing "real fine." The company employed internship students last year, also.

An aviation major from Hancock, Carter Charles, has started his own Charles air spray service north of Hancock this summer as part of his college training. Charles has sprayed more than 4,000 acres this summer. His work includes mixing chemicals, scouting and mapping the application site, and developing a records system.

Female agriculture majors are busy in many internship areas, too. Janet Hoss, Detroit Lakes, is working in the quality control laboratory for the general nutrition corporation at Fargo.

Over 20 students in hotel, restaurant and institutional management (HRI) are completing internships this summer. Robert Knutson, Hoyt Lakes, is working as a chef at the Upper Deck restaurant in Crookston. Curt Lovitz, Sauk Rapids, is assistant manager at the Cragun's resort on Pine beach at Brainerd. Mike Sherwin of Rock Island, Ill., is kept busy as assistant manager at the restaurant, Henrici's, in Bloomington. Sherwin's duties are all-inclusive, for he's in charge of decision making during the evening hours when the manager is not present.

Bonnie Pearson, Puposky, has traveled to Minong, Wis., to the Birch Trail camp for Girls. The camp is open to 200 girls from throughout the country, and Pearson is kitchen manager. Another HRI major, Debra Olson of Newfolden, is in charge of the menu planning, purchasing and scheduling at the Fosston nursing home, Fosston. Olson is enrolled in HRI's new dietetic technician program.

Home and family service (HFS) majors are employed in positions dealing with children, retired persons and the mentally retarded. Becky Edgar, Warren, is working with the RSVP (retired senior volunteer program) office this summer. As program coordinator she works closely with the retired volunteers. "Becky has set up volunteer programs at both St. Vicent's and Bethesda rest homes in Crookston, she's worked with volunteers at the sites, she's visited volunteer sites in both Polk and Norman counties, and she's attended conferences dealing with retired citizens," says RSVP supervisor Kay Kraatz. Edgar is now working to help coordinate a county commission on aging, set up through the Governor's committee on aging. She also worked as RSVP coordinator at the federal disaster assistance center in Crookston during the recent high water problem. "She's a tremendous worker," says Kraatz. "She's been a real asset to the program."

Kathy Tangeman, Eagle Bend, spent her internship at Project New Hope in Alexandria, a residential facility for mentally retarded persons 15 years and over. There is also a licensed work activity center, and Tangeman was assistant supervisor at the activity center, where the residents manufacture fabric parts for airplanes. She also spent some time working at the residences. "She worked very well; she could work very well on her own. Her personality showed through and she got on well with her co-workers as well as with the residents," says her Project New Hope supervisor. This was the first time a UMC student interned there, and he added, "You can send us more, you know."

Business majors are working in a variety of jobs, with emphasis on their particular career interest. Fashion merchandising major Josephine Amiot, Crookston, is working at Donaldson's in Minneapolis. Shirley Sebenaler of Mentor, a secretarial major, is working at the office of the superintendent of Crookston public schools. Sales and marketing major Gary Pownell of Albert Lea is working at the First National bank in Minneapolis. Accounting major Kevin Solem of East Grand Forks has a busy work schedule at the Whit Mart, Holiday Mall, East Grand Forks. Solem is in charge of the bookkeeping duties this summer, as well as compiling charts, checking employee records, checking the computer cash registers daily, making deposits and dealing with customer service. Robert Noss also works at the Holiday Mall in East Grand Forks at the Radio Shack. Noss, an accounting major, does the record keeping and also is involved in sales.

The internship program has "very much value" for students, maintains agriculture major Gary Gust. "It's especially helpful if the person hasn't had much work experience before, or if he hasn't had much experience in the line of work he wants to go into."

The many students who are completing their internship programs can return to college this fall with a better understanding of the reasons behind the classroom and textbook teaching. They have, after all, put their learning to work.

A Simple Operation!

Simplicity describes the design as well as the operation of this drying system. Fewer moving parts reduces 'downtime' and eliminates a lot of unnecessary worry. Controls are placed for easy use and identification. There is no need to stand by the controls adjusting and readjusting. Depending on field drying conditions, periodic moisture tests and compensating adjustments are all the attention that's required.

For reliability and simplicity in a one pass continuous flow dryer, it's the Tox-O-Wik II 960.

UMC Internship Program Proves To Be Success

Most college students plan to follow their chosen career path when they graduate. Some students plan to be employed during the summer months in jobs that pertain to their college course of study. Many students at the University of Minnesota technical college at Crookston (UMC) work at such jobs, and they earn college credit, too.

UMC's theory is that students should have the opportunity to apply what they've learned in the classroom and laboratory to actual on-the-job experience before receiving their diploma. All divisions at UMC require that a 12 week internship program be completed before the associate in applied science degree is granted. Most students at the two-year college find that the summer months between the freshman and sophomore year is a good time to fulfill the internship requirements.

College instructors are instrumental in helping the student find a position that will be beneficial and that is related to the field of work the student is interested in. Employers are encouraged to provide broad exposure to as many facets of the business as possible. Because of the many situations provided, many students report that their internship includes "a little bit of everything" concerned with their chosen career field.

Agriculture division majors are placed in jobs as varied as agriculture career possibilities are. A park and recreation major is helping develop nature trails while working as a naturalist at a state park. A rural communications student is working for a radio station. Another student is putting training in poultry science to work while working for a large turkey operation.

Gary Gust, East Grand Forks, is completing his internship as manager of the consumer products division of the Crookston implement company. The mechanized agriculture major describes his job as, "The managing and selling end of the business. Mostly the job involves sales, the setting up of displays, keeping things in order." Gust says the internship position is very close to the type of job he hopes for following graduation. "It's right where I want to be," he says. Gust's employer, Jeff LaVoi, says Gary is doing "real fine." The company employed internship students last year, also.

An aviation major from Hancock, Carter Charles, has started his own Charles air spray service north of Hancock this summer as part of his college training. Charles has sprayed more than 4,000 acres this summer. His work includes mixing chemicals, scouting and mapping the application site, and developing a records system.

Female agriculture majors are busy in many internship areas, too. Janet Hoss, Detroit Lakes, is working in the quality control laboratory for the general nutrition corporation at Fargo.

Over 20 students in hotel, restaurant and institutional management (HRI) are completing internships this summer. Robert Knutson, Hoyt Lakes, is working as a chef at the Upper Deck restaurant in Crookston. Curt Lovitz, Sauk Rapids, is assistant manager at the Cragun's resort on Pine beach at Brainerd. Mike Sherwin of Rock Island, Ill., is kept busy as assistant manager at the restaurant, Henrici's, in Bloomington. Sherwin's duties are all-inclusive, for he's in charge of decision making during the evening hours when the manager is not present.

Bonnie Pearson, Puposky, has traveled to Minong, Wis., to the Birch Trail camp for Girls. The camp is open to 200 girls from throughout the country, and Pearson is kitchen manager. Another HRI major, Debra Olson of Newfolden, is in charge of the menu planning, purchasing and scheduling at the Fosston nursing home, Fosston. Olson is enrolled in HRI's new dietetic technician program.

Home and family service (HFS) majors are employed in positions dealing with children, retired persons and the mentally retarded. Becky Edgar, Warren, is working with the RSVP (retired senior volunteer program) office this summer. As program coordinator she works closely with the retired volunteers. "Becky has set up volunteer programs at both St. Vicent's and Bethesda rest homes in Crookston, she's worked with volunteers at the sites, she's visited volunteer sites in both Polk and Norman counties, and she's attended conferences dealing with retired citizens," says RSVP supervisor Kay Kraatz. Edgar is now working to help coordinate a county commission on aging, set up through the Governor's committee on aging. She also worked as RSVP coordinator at the federal disaster assistance center in Crookston during the recent high water problem. "She's a tremendous worker," says Kraatz. "She's been a real asset to the program."

Kathy Tangeman, Eagle Bend, spent her internship at Project New Hope in Alexandria, a residential facility for mentally retarded persons 15 years and over. There is also a licensed work activity center, and Tangeman was assistant supervisor at the activity center, where the residents manufacture fabric parts for airplanes. She also spent some time working at the residences. "She worked very well; she could work very well on her own. Her personality showed through and she got on well with her co-workers as well as with the residents," says her Project New Hope supervisor. This was the first time a UMC student interned there, and he added, "You can send us more, you know."

Business majors are working in a variety of jobs, with emphasis on their particular career interest. Fashion merchandising major Josephine Amiot, Crookston, is working at Donaldson's in Minneapolis. Shirley Sebenaler of Mentor, a secretarial major, is working at the office of the superintendent of Crookston public schools. Sales and marketing major Gary Pownell of Albert Lea is working at the First National bank in Minneapolis. Accounting major Kevin Solem of East Grand Forks has a busy work schedule at the Whit Mart, Holiday Mall, East Grand Forks. Solem is in charge of the bookkeeping duties this summer, as well as compiling charts, checking employee records, checking the computer cash registers daily, making deposits and dealing with customer service. Robert Noss also works at the Holiday Mall in East Grand Forks at the Radio Shack. Noss, an accounting major, does the record keeping and also is involved in sales.

The internship program has "very much value" for students, maintains agriculture major Gary Gust. "It's especially helpful if the person hasn't had much work experience before, or if he hasn't had much experience in the line of work he wants to go into."

The many students who are completing their internship programs can return to college this fall with a better understanding of the reasons behind the classroom and textbook teaching. They have, after all, put their learning to work.

A Simple Operation!

Simplicity describes the design as well as the operation of this drying system. Fewer moving parts reduces 'downtime' and eliminates a lot of unnecessary worry. Controls are placed for easy use and identification. There is no need to stand by the controls adjusting and readjusting. Depending on field drying conditions, periodic moisture tests and compensating adjustments are all the attention that's required.
For reliability and simplicity in a one pass continuous flow dryer, it's the Tox-O-Wik II 960.

Card of Thanks
Words cannot express our heartfelt appreciation for all the kindness shown us at the death of our mother.
We are deeply grateful to all the staff at Hillcrest Nursing Home; especially Mrs. Pinsonneault, to Mrs. Judy Schafer and the nurses at St. John's for their loving care while she was a patient.
Special thanks to Fr. Noesen for his comforting words, to Fr. Roger Grundhaus for his assistance at the funeral Mass, to Sr. Pierre for her consoling music, to Ralph Petterson and Mr. and Mrs. John Kiepper.
We deeply appreciate the flowers, the memorials, the gifts of food and other thoughtfulness.
Thank you to the Ladies' Guild who served lunch and the choir for singing the hymns for the liturgy.
May God bless all of you.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

August 4, 1975
Official Proceedings
Board of County Commissioners
Pennington County, Minnesota
July 25, 1975

Pursuant to call for a special meeting to continue to pursue the need for Federal Assistance for individuals sustaining damage to crops and other property the Board of County Commissioners met in Special Session in the Commissioners' Room in the Courthouse at 10:00 A.M., July 25, 1975.

Members present: Hanson, Christianson, Naplin, Stenberg and Tasa. All present.

All members waived the 10 day statutory requirement for call of a special meeting.

Delmar Hagen and Erling Torgerson and others were present representing the Red Lake Watershed District along with other interested parties, all responding to an invitation to meet with the Board relative to mutual problems along the Red Lake River as it passes through the County.

Items outlined in the resolution of the County Board of July 14 and submitted to the Red Lake Watershed Board were discussed. A better understanding of the problems involved in maintaining the level of Red Lake was arrived at by disclosure of the fact that the outlet capacity of the dam from Red Lake is 1,100 Cu. ft.-sec. and it takes 148 days to lower the lake 1 ft under normal conditions.

The Watershed Board indicated a willingness and desire to contact the Tribal Council at Red Lake to explore the possibility of a mutual need in the matter of drainage and water control.

Further discussion was held by the Board relative to the damage in the County from the natural disaster and after discussion Commissioner Stenberg introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Commissioners of Pennington County, THAT Ellsworth Jorgenson, Civil Defense Director (County Treasurer) is hereby authorized to execute for and in behalf of the County of Pennington, a public entity established under the laws of the State of Minnesota, this application and to file it in the appropriate State Office for the purpose of obtaining certain Federal financial assistance under the Disaster Relief Act (Public Law 288, 93rd Congress) or otherwise available from the President's Disaster Relief Fund.

THAT Pennington County, a public entity established under the laws of the State of Minnesota, hereby authorizes its agent to provide to the State and to the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration (FDAA), Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for all matters pertaining to such Federal disaster assistance the assurances and agreements printed on the reverse side hereof.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Naplin and upon vote declared unanimously carried.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Christianson that meeting adjourn.

Glenn Tasa, Chairman
Pennington County Board

Attest: C. W. Rodekuhr, county auditor and ex-officio, clerk of the board.

Until I became interested in sailing, I thought boats simply drifted with the wind. It hadn't occurred to me that few sailors would ever reach port in this manner.

And before I became earnest about church, I thought people's lives—their joys and disappointments, their achievements and failures—were largely a result of fate or fortune. Luck would long ago have replaced religion if this were true.

Now I know the thrill of sailing into the wind. Sure, tacking to port or starboard requires a zigzag course, and when your craft heels over at that precarious angle, it takes skill to control her. But that's part of the adventure—making headway against a strong wind.

Now, too, I know the thrill of believing in God . . . of setting a goal, of relying on His power, of devoting myself to reaching the destination. Making headway against adverse winds heels us over—but it's part of the adventure of being a Christian today.

Drive-In Lawyers?

Columnist Jim Fitzgerald writes with classic sarcastic humor in his column appearing in a recent edition of the Grafton Record. Here is the way he looks at a current item in the news:

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously it is illegal for lawyers to fix their prices. That same week, most of the doctors in my favorite town, in concert, raised the price of office calls.

How come Dr. Welby can do what Petrocelli can't?

No honest lawyer (that's not redundant) will deny his profession has been violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. This act forbids frisbee manufacturers, for instance, from getting together at lunch and agreeing no frisbee shall be wholesaled for less than $2 each, even if it costs only 25 cents each to make them. Thus price competition is effectively removed from the marketplace and a lot of kids are forced to smoke pot because they can't afford frisbees.

Since before Perry Mason, bar associations have established "minimum fees" to be charged by area lawyers. So much per divorce, so much per tax return, so much per rape, etc. It was OK to charge more than the minimum, just so long as the total fee did not equal an amount twice the assessed valuation of the state in which the lawyer practiced.

But it was another thing for a greedy young lawyer to charge less than the amount suggested by his peers. The penalty varied from state to state. In some areas the offending lawyer was merely ostracized by his local bar association, thus forcing him to play golf by himself and to show up for trial needlessly because no one would tell him his client died two years earlier.

The severest penalty on record was slapped on a lawyer who discounted a divorce fee simply because his client became a widow ten minutes after she hired him. The poor guy's fellow lawyers ganged up and elected him district judge, thus cutting his income by 96 per cent.

It is lovely that the Supreme Court has ruled this price fixing is illegal. But if the idea is to save the consumer money, the court must go further. Lawyers must be allowed to advertise. What's the sense in having a sale on zoning appeals if no one knows about it? Lawyers should push their services the same way McDonald sells hamburgers. There is more than one way to give yourself a break today. Find yourself a drive-in lawyer who knows how to prepare wills ahead of time and keep them warm. All you need do is fill in the blanks, as easy as adding ketchup.

Bar associations object to advertising because, they say, it is degrading to professional people. It is to laugh. Almost everyone convicted in the Watergate mess was a lawyer. Nixon and Agnew are lawyers. In my hometown, a lawyer admitted he hadn't filed his income tax return for ten years. A Michigan Supreme Court justice has stepped down while being investigated on bribery charges.

The members of the legal profession could hardly be further degraded if they advertised by sky writing over drive-ins showing porno movies. Lawyers would probably gain dignity through a series of TV commercials starring that same guy who wants to say a few words about diarrhea.

When the Supreme Court is done with the lawyers, the justices should turn their attention to the doctors. I wouldn't accuse any medical society of fixing prices. Even if the doctors do share the printing costs for 2 million office signs announcing price hikes caused by "The Rising Cost of Malpractice Insurance" tra la la:

Surely there are some cut-rate tonsillectomies out there. But where? The doctors should also be allowed to advertise. This shouldn't be too degrading for a profession that pickets hospitals.

Onward and Upward.

Looking At Energy

A recent article in the "Conservation News" states that "the food on our dinner table may have wasted more energy just to package it than was actually spent in producing it."

According to the publication and the Center for Science in the Public Interest, the fancy packaging of certain foods requires more energy than is spent getting them to the family table. Aluminum and plastic in particular take large amounts of energy to produce but are being more widely used than glass, steel and paper which uses less energy.

Among the highest energy users are such processed foods as TV dinners, frozen prepared foods, flavorings and spreads, canned beverages and cooking oil sprays that come in aerosol cans, the report states.

There would be those who argue, with some validity, that the energy expended to create a TV dinner would not be much greater—if as great—as buying and preparing the same type of food from unprocessed items. There are usually at least two angles to every situation, and we would suspect that energy use is one of these situations.

There is certainly nothing wrong with conserving energy, of course, because it is the sensible thing to do. Growing fruit and vegetables at home is suggested as one way to save transportation and packaging energy. Potatoes, for instance, take half the energy to grow at home than to be grown and processed for supermarket sales.

A 12-ounce aluminum can of beer reportedly takes 3,272 energy units to produce and 4,735 energy units to package, while the same size can of another brand takes the same energy to produce but only 2,685 units of energy to package in a steel can.

Isn't that interesting?

Politics Get Older

Following editorial is from the Marshall Independent:

It could only happen in American politics:

—President Ford has assured friend and foe he will be a candidate for the high office in 1976, but he hasn't announced his candidacy yet.

—The President has stated his preference for a running mate, Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, but he is still an unannounced candidate.

—One time candidate Barry Goldwater has suggested that Rockefeller become Secretary of State, a more influential office and, incidentally, one away from the political limelight.

—Enough candidates have announced for the Democratic nomination that soon every voter in the land will have a favorite son.

—George Wallace is seeking the Democratic party nomination while the American Party, which he founded, continues to seek a candidate.

—Hubert Humphrey has announced he would accept only a draft. Unfortunately, if the Democrats go candidate hunting there are younger and possibly more desirable candidates to be sought.

—Candidate Morris Udall has blasted Wallace saying too many people are paying attention to Wallace. So far the Alabama governor, who had drifted from the political spotlight until Democrats started blasting him, doesn't seem to be minding the criticism.

And all this comes months before the presidential campaign gets really serious. As the nation moves closer to election day voters can expect to receive, along with the usual campaign rhetoric, some new twists this year:

—Campaign headquarters probably will be either bugproof or so wide open burglaries would appear to be senseless.

—Candidates will spend thousands to let people know how they are keeping spending down.

—Parties probably will select convention sites in top secrecy to avoid embarrassing rejection from usually convention-happy cities.

And there are some things we hope will happen:

—Candidates will avoid the temptation of selling themselves on television like an aerosol can of deodorant.

—Candidates will save money by cutting back on printed material and plastic hats which cover county fairgrounds at fair time.

—Candidates will answer questions, even the embarrassing one so the public really knows who it's voting for.

—Good public speakers will keep coming up with new material so they get boring and bad public speakers will stick to the same basic speeches so they don't embarrass the electorate.

—Local parties will start discussing candidates now, rather than waiting until next February to make dull votes at precinct, county and state levels before rallying for their party's man.

On Jan. 20, 1977, someone will be sworn into office as the President of the United States. The ceremony will be shrouded in such pomp, ceremony and electricity that voters of the land will quickly forget that it took that man two years to get where he is. We will be so taken in by the excitement of a man starting a new four years of leadership that we will forget that the campaign was slowly becoming old news back on June 17, 1975.

And as we approach this nation's bicentennial let us be thankful for the wisdom of our forefathers who determined that each term of the presidency would last four years. Two-year terms would have meant never-ending campaigns and six or more terms would have meant three or more years of campaigning for each term.

Presidential campaigns are becoming a perennial issue. It is a safe prediction that before the year 1976 is out, someone will have made public plans for the 1980 presidential campaign.

MINNESOTA REPORT

WALTER F. MONDALE

On July 4, I had the honor of taking part in the sesquicentennial celebration of the launching of the vessel Restaurationen, the first ship to carry an organized group of Norwegian emigrants from Norway to the United States. Ceremonies were held in Stavanger, Norway, and the royal family attended. I delivered the following toast at the royal banquet held that evening:

As an American who is proud to share a common heritage with the Norwegian people, I am honored to be with you on this occasion.

We are here to commemorate the sailing of the ship that carried the first Norwegian immigrants to the United States. Fifty-two men and women boarded the Restaurationen in Stavanger a century and a half ago today. They faced the ordeal of three months at sea in a boat that was small, overcrowded and unsafe. But they had deep courage that came from their devotion to the cause of freedom and the right to practice their religious beliefs.

The passengers of the Restaurationen also joined our two countries in another journey. For they and those who followed were to unite the people of Norway and of America in the movement toward human justice.

In America, the same courage that enabled the Norwegian pioneers to brave the hardships of the Atlantic helped them to transform the wilderness of Mid-America into the most prosperous agricultural region in the world. They fully earned Ole Rolvaag's description as "Giants in the Earth." But it was not primarily riches that they sought. More than that, they strived to build a culture, founded on strong families, on quality schools, on churches and on the democratic institutions that would allow their children to grow and live in decency.

Together Norway and the United States have been leaders internationally on behalf of the principles of peace and democracy, not only through our foreign policies, but also by our example.

Today, we honor and repeat symbolically the voyage that created the first bonds between our two countries. At the same time, we are reminded that it is a journey that still continues.

America and the world are indebted to the people of Norway for the appreciation you have given us of the value of justice, of liberty and peace toward which we strive.

notes from the governor

Wendell R. Anderson

One of the major accomplishments of the 1975 Legislature was its significant increase in state school aids.

The state school aid appropriation totals $1.6 billion for the next two years, nearly a third of the total state budget. The money goes directly to local school districts.

The school aid bill is a complex piece of legislation. It helps hold down local property taxes, meets the general and special educational needs of our school children and their school districts, and continues our special Minnesota effort to provide all of our children with equal access to quality public school education.

Many Minnesotans believe that local property taxes pay the majority of their school costs, and that was once true. But it hasn't been true in Minnesota since 1971, when the Fair School Finance law was originally passed.

In the 1973-74 school year, 70 per cent of public school operating costs were paid through state aids, with just 30 per cent coming from local taxes. That's a major change from the year 1970-1971 when the state was providing just 47 per cent and the local taxpayers were providing 53 per cent.

The 1975 law continues the 70 per cent contribution in state aids. It also provides for a cut in local property taxes for schools, with districts permitted to levy only 29 mills instead of 30 mills for their major programs. Nearly $14 million of the additional state assistance will compensate for the reduced local tax levy.

The largest percentage increase in school aids is for special education. There are few areas of education where the return on a financial investment is as great in human capacity to live and learn.

The state will provide about two-thirds of the costs for the extra services needed by physically and mentally handicapped children—speech therapists, special equipment to deal with hearing and sight problems, special classes for children with special problems, to mention just a few of the services.

Special additional aids are also provided to deal with such special school district problems as declining enrollments—a common concern in outstate Minnesota, rapidly rising enrollments in growing communities, or heavy concentrations of children from socially and economically deprived families.

Our 1975-77 state school aid appropriation insures good school for Minnesota's children, through strong state funding support and local management and control. In a time when many states are cutting back on state assistance and letting local property taxes carry on increasing burden, we're fortunate to have strong state financial resources available for public elementary and secondary education.

Map of Thief River Watershed, Showing Location of Judicial Ditch No. 11.

This map also shows location of County Ditch No. 20 and State System of Ditches No. 83. The area drained by No. 11 is 440 square miles or 281,600 acres; by County Ditch No. 20, 200 square miles or 128,000 acres; by State System No. 83, 100 square miles or 64,000 acres. In addition to this vast area drainage systems have now been completed to the east and south of these projects which have greatly increased this acreage, the ditches now completed being over 1,000 miles in length, with graded roads along the entire distance, the territory opened approximating 1,000 square miles or 700,000 acres. To this stupendous territory must now be added what is known as the Moose River Project, or Ditch No. 21, to the north of these systems, contract for which was awarded early this spring. The latter will drain the territory to the east of Thief Lake and will comprise some 200 square miles of territory. The drainage systems to the south are shown on the map of Pennington and Marshall Counties on the following page, and this vast rich and fertile territory all tributary to Thief River Falls undoubtedly comprises the largest successfully drained area in the United States.

THE LARGEST DRAINAGE PROJECT EVER ATTEMPTED IN UNITED STATES

Such Was the Magnitude of the Drainage Area at Time Contract on Judicial Ditch No. 11 Was Let.

Territory as Large as State of Rhode Island Reclaimed and Now Abounds in Fine Fertile Farms.

Land Has Not Only Been Thoroughly Drained, But Is Supplied With Excellent System of Roads.

Few people, even right here in Thief River Falls, many of whom have perhaps during the past few years often driven through the rich and fertile Thief River and Red Lake River Valleys in the territory east and northeast of this city, realize the vastness or the magnitude of the immense drainage projects that have developed these lands into the finest farming section in the world.

The accompanying map of the Thief River Watershed, showing the location of Judicial Ditch No. 11, with its network of mains and laterals and the county map on the following page, showing the various county ditches to the south of the initial project will give one an idea of the territory reclaimed by these systems and of the wonderful work accomplished in the space of a few short years.

Inasmuch as the territory covered by this system of ditches is all tributary to this city and as the reclamation of this vast domain has been and will continue to be an important factor in the growth and development of Thief River Falls, some facts and figures relative to the history and initial steps of the work will no doubt prove of interest.

To open the 650,000 acres of the new, rich and fertile lands covered by No. 11 alone, it was necessary to remove 6,500,000 cubic yards of earth in the Thief River Valley and that river enlarged from its source to practically its point of entry into the Red Lake river. To drain this land it was necessary to take away as much earth as would provide loads that, in wagons each containing a cubic yard, would reach 22 times from Thief River Falls to New York, or 1¼ times around the world. At the time the contract was let it was the largest drainage project ever put into operation in the United States.

The original contract for the initial system, Judicial Ditch No. 11, was let March 1, 1910, to the Northwestern Drainage Company of this city, with A. M. Arpin, general manager, in direct charge of the work, and W. R. Hoag, also of this city, as supervising engineer.

This system provides for approximately 500 miles of ditches and the same number of miles of highways to be so located that each of the 2,000 quarter sections of land has a ditch and a road along at least one of its half-mile sides, and it is the most complete of any system ever attempted in this state of any such area.

While the contract on this first project was practically completed just one year ago, yet there remained a number of minor details to be attended to, and Mr. Hoag has remained constantly on the job to see that none were overlooked, and is at the present time just completing his final reports.

INCEPTION OF DRAINAGE IDEA

First Orginated in 1900, But Found Impracticable at That Time.

William J. Brown of this city is freely credited by those who have carried forward the Thief river project as being the man to whom the undertaking is primarily due. Not only did the idea orginate with Mr. Brown, but he was at all times active in the preliminary work necessary in getting the project under way, and he represented the petitioners who applied for state and county aid in the work.

His statement of the difficulties encountered and the work necessary is as follows:

"The great wealth of natural resources and the feasibility of the drainage of the area now comprising judicial ditch system No. 11, was first suggested to me in 1900 by a trip through that territory, in company with W. R. Hoag, drainage engineer, who passed favorably upon the engineering problems involved at that time. The project, however, was impracticable for other reasons, chief among which was the fact that within the district there were large areas of unpatented government land, which under existing laws could not be assessed for its share of the benefits.

Hard Matter to Finance.

"It was thus found impossible to finance the proposition and to that end federal legislation was necessary. This was secured in 1906, when congress passed an act authorizing the secretary of the interior to cause a survey to be made of the territory in question with a view of determining the possibilities of their reclamation. Such survey was made by the United States Geological Survey and a report was transmitted to congress Jan. 28, 1907, and printed as house document No. 607, and further report was made to congress by Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, May 13, 1909, and printed as house document No. 27. The reports were enthusiastically in favor of the drainage, but when the attempt was made to appropriate funds for the actual drainage, the western house members discovered a great difference in the constitutionality of appropriating money for irrigation ditches to conduct water upon land and drainage ditches to take the water off, and killed the measure in committee.

WM. J. BROWN.
Thief River Falls Attorney, Who Was Probably the First Man to Conceive of the Possibilities of Drainage in This Territory.

"On May 20, 1908, the Volstead bill, so-called, was passed by congress. This bill is entitled 'An act to authorize the drainage of certain lands in the state of Minnesota,' and permits unentered and unpatented government land to be assessed for benefits in drainage proceedings. This bill removed the principal difficulty and we again prepared to proceed, only to find that the legislature of 1907 of this state had so amended the judicial ditch law as to render its operation impracticable where large and vacant areas of land were affected. Thereupon, the legislature of 1909 was applied to and the necessary legislation enacted and immediately upon adjournment the petition and bond for the establishment of the ditch was prepared and on May 22, 1909, the same was signed and presented to Andrew Grindeland, district judge, who at once made an order for a preliminary hearing.

"The hearing was held before Judge Grindeland on July 10, 1909, and it is a remarkable fact, that although the lands of more than 2,000 land-owners were liable to assessment for benefits, neither at that hearing nor at any other stage of the proceedings has objection been made to the establishment of the ditch. On July 12, 1909, Judge Grindeland appointed W. R. Hoag as engineer in charge of the drainage project and a comprehensive ditch system to be made and ordered a complete survey of the territory by him.

Viewers Begin Work.

"Mr. Hoag completed his preliminary survey and made his report on Oct. 20, 1909, and the viewers entered upon their work. Their duties were to examine the lands affected and estimate and determine the amount and the value of the ditch. On Jan. 21, 1910, the viewers completed their work and filed their report of assessments. Final hearing to consider and act upon the engineer's and viewers' report was ordered by the judge and on Feb. 26, 1910, after such hearing, Judge Grindeland by his written order, confirmed and adopted each report, and established the system as designed by Mr. Hoag.

Cost to the Land.

"The actual assessment for benefits amounts to about $3.50 an acre, interest at 5 per cent payable annually. During the first five years the interest only is payable, but during the sixth year one-fifteenth of the principal must be paid and one-fifteenth each year thereafter until all is paid. The year before any installment is due, the county auditor enters the installment upon the tax books and it is paid with the real taxes. The funds with which to pay cost of construction are secured by the sale of the drainage bonds of the counties affected, and the bonds mature in the same manner as do the liens for profits, the bond being payable out of the collections of the respective installments of assessments for benefits.

"Considering the magnitude of the project and the engineering difficulties to be overcome, the completion of preliminary work and the letting of the contract of construction within one year is remarkable. To Mr. Hoag is due the credit for this achievement.

The Soil and Facilities.

"The soil in the whole territory is of unusual fertility, not stony and of ample depth for all crops. There is no poor land. The slope to the west is ample completely to drain and render tilable all land affected. The land is not cut-over land, which is sometimes expensive to reclaim, but is open prairie interspersed here and there with small poplar groves.

ENGINEER TELLS OF WORK.

W. R. Hoag Explains Peculiarties of Drainage Area Comprised In No. 11.

W. R. Hoag, civil engineer of Thief River Falls, who is supervising the work, throws much light upon the magnitude of the undertaking and tells about the difficulties which confronted him when he began the task of making the plans for the reclamation.

"Thief river, with its tributarties, Mud and Moose rivers, provides the only natural drainage for about 1,000 square miles situated in the eastern part of Marshall and the western part of Beltrami county," said Mr. Hoag. "It is a tract about twenty-five miles wide and forty miles long. Grygla is situated near the center and Thief River Falls in its southwest corner.

"This area of about 650,000 acres, which is smaller by only two townships than the state of Rhode Island, has an average slope from northeast to southwest of nearly two feet a mile. A fall entirely sufficient to provide ample drainage for it, had nature been but reasonably judicious in its distribution.

"River channels are made and maintained wholly by the erosive action of running water. The slope necessary to create the velocity which measures its securing effect and ability to maintain an open channel differs widely, depending somewhat upon the subsoil conditions but largely upon the volume of water at flood stage.

Question of Fall.

"The Thief river, for about twenty miles, has about six inches fall to the mile. The Red river for a hundred miles along the state's western boundary maintains its channel and has a fall of about two inches to the mile, while stretches of the lower Mississippi river have but a half inch to the mile.

"Small streams must have from three to eight feet fall a mile to overcome the obstructive effects of sedimentation and vegetation. The Thief river watershed has ample fall in the general direction of slope to maintain good-sized rivers, capable of removing all excess storm water in the usual time—that insuring safe cultivation on adjacent lands—but it has no cross valley lines of sufficient slope to collect the storm water into small streams and conduct it quickly to a central channel or river. Accumulated water from these many small valleys coming in at the same time would maintain a river channel capable of carrying efficiently such waters even though its fall per mile is but a fraction of that needed to bring the water to it along the lines of the small streams.

An Inner District.

"But this area had no such cross drainage lines, and did have the larger streams, even though there was present the necessary fall for maintaining the latter. As proof of this, there was a tract within that covered by the drainage system known as Judicial Ditch No. 11, which contained 300 square miles, yet within this area there was less than ten miles of continuous open river channel, and this single stretch of river was where the storm water from about 200 square miles had been compelled by reason of some small cross ridges to get together and make a river, resulting in a river channel of a size increasing from twenty feet wide and four feet deep, at the upper end, to forty feet wide and eight feet deep at the lower end.

"Here, however, it meets a broad marsh about three miles across with practically no fall. Coming to this level area the waters part and spread out over whole townships, but are collected again ten miles to the west in Mud lake. The general route between these points was scattered over with pieces of rivers, sometimes connected, although crooked and poorly put together, while at other places they were wholly disconnected.

Ample Outlet.

"To remove the excess storm water from this area in time to insure the ordinary planting season and properly to guard against harmful overflow to bordering lands at harvest time, this outlet should be about sixty feet wide and eight feet deep, capable of passing 1,600 cubic feet of water a second. But nature had here provided only a crooked stream about thirty feet wide and five feet deep, and given such a small slope it could deliver only about four hundred cubic feet a second. Thus, the usual time for the safe delivery of storm water, commonly placed at from two to three weeks, is here lengthened into two to three months, while at the same time the ordinary season furnishes enough during even the drier summer months to keep fully replenished this small amount of run-off.

"A large part of the Thief river watershed was thus kept wet by reason of its peculiar topography; that is, having its slope all in one direction, rendering impossible the usual and natural processes of river-making. Considerable relief from too much surface water is frequently furnished by a pervious subsoil, consisting of sand or gravel, which permits much of the ground water to get away to remote localities, later appearing as springs and entering river channels and lake beds.

Usual Relief Denied.

"But all such relief was denied this area, as the whole tract was underlaid with a stratum of impervious clay, extending from two to four feet below the surface to an unknown depth. Test pits made to the depth of and along the line of all the ditches show this clay subsoil to be always present.

"So in order to correct this twofold unfavorable condition imposed by nature, the drainage engineer is called in counsel. He must provide a complete system for the whole area since the Thief river, which is to receive the water from the several main ditches, is as inadequate in its present size and capacity as are any of the present small streams, to provide adequate drainage to the bordering lands.

Up to State.

"No way had yet been pointed out by which either state or federal aid could be secured for the proper improvement of Thief river. It would seem, however, that the state, which had spent about $250,000 in the Red River Valley alone, for drainage, should have been moved to at least lend a helping hand in the Thief river improvement. The federal government opened these lands to the settler and accepted his money in payment for them, thereby declaring that they are suited for agricultural purposes, but these lands in their then present condition, except in a succession of dry seasons, were not suitable to agricultural use and so federal aid would be logical if on no other theory than to smooth the edge a little of a sharp bargain.

"Representative Halvor Steenerson of Crookston, whose district includes this watershed, has worked on this line, but thus far without success. He reports that he was told such aid is unconstitutional. It appears to be constitutional to take the money obtained from the settler on these lands ($1.25 an acre even though he lives on it four years) and take it off to Idaho or Oregon to finance irrigation schemes, but it is unconstitutional to allow it to remain here in Minnesota, even as a loan to the settler, with which to construct ditches to drain the land he bought from the government.

Counties Do Share.

"Meanwhile, this tract has been drained through the efforts of Marshall and Beltrami counties, and Mr. Steenerson has been instrumental in providing a way, by which all government land within the area is to be assessed the same as the settlers' land, without which the whole plan would have failed.

"Perhaps the most helpful thing done to make it possible to treat so large an area, and bring it into one comprehensive system, was the topographical survey by the United States geological survey made in 1907-8.

"The working out of the most economic system properly to drain each quarter section has resulted in making the map of this area look more like a cross between a checkerboard and a crazy-quilt than a drainge system. But an efficient drainage system of this extent must have each mile of each main and branch of a carrying capacity to meet the demands made upon it by the territory whose storm water must pass through it. This carrying capacity in every ditch is the result of the combined effect of five distinct factors, some of which the engineer has under complete control, while others he can safely control only within small limits. The side slope of the ditch he will design to suit the soil conditions to be met in the ditch and the agency to be employed in making the excavations. Greatest economy will be secured with the steeper side-slopes. These can be employed where clay or gravelly-clay predominate, but with sand or gravel the steeper side-slope will result in caving banks and a speedy and serious filling up of the ditch will follow.

Matter of Slope.

"If the ditch is to be dug with teams, that is with horses and small scrapers, the flatter side-slopes will be employed. Floating dipper-dredge machines can work only on the steeper side-slopes, while the dry land excavators can work on any slope fixed by the engineer, but can afford to dig the steeper slopes at least cost.

"In fixing upon the proper side-slopes the designing engineer will also give some weight to the fact that the steeper slopes permit at the same cost, a deeper ditch which insures better opportunity for subdrainage to bordering lands and enables a wider territory to be properly drained through intercepting lateral ditches.

"The second factor with which the drainage engineer has much to do in designing a system which shall have each section just large enough efficiently to do its work is what is called the coefficient of roughness. Over this he has no control whatever. He must determine what it is, however, in order to fix upon the necessary size and grade of the channel, all other features of the design having been determined upon. Hydraulic tables show this coefficient to have a range of values differing by 400 per cent, depending largely upon the nature of the ditch surfaces in contact with the water and slightly affected by the grade of the ditch.

"The remaining three factors of the five which together largely determine the discharge capacity of the ditch and which govern in its economic design, are the bottom width, the allowable depth of water in the ditch at flood stage and the slope or fall per mile of the bottom of the ditch.

"Drainage once consisted of means provided by each man injured by it to conduct water away from where he did not want it to some place where someone else did not want it," concluded Mr. Hoag. "The early laws on drainage were built on the theory that water in excess was a common enemy against which every man was justified in protecting himself by all possible means. Under these conditions no progress could be made in drainage as a science. Until comparatively recent years it remained a more or less crude art, the laws governing the flow of water in open channels being but little known."

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

Judge Grindeland Outlines Methods and Gives Sound Advice.

District Judge Grindeland, who has aided materially in working out legislation necessary to this project recites history of the development, amendment and enactment of more and better drainage laws as follows:

"Prior to 1883," writes Judge Grindeland, "we had only the township system of drainage. This was inadequate for draining large areas. The legislature of 1883 enacted the law known as the county system of drainage.

"There being much government land in the northern part of this state, and that section being sparsely settled, it took some time before the drainage question became a matter of public interest. Public attention was especially called to it by an open letter written by Judge Frank Ives of Crookston in the spring of 1886. A drainage convention was then called to meet at that city in July, 1886. There was a good representation of farmers, business and professional men. The necessity, practicability and advantages of drainage was discussed. James J. Hill proposed that a survey of the valley be made, and that if the counties interested would pay half the expense, his company would pay the other half. This proposition was accepted and the survey was made. This survey showed that there was sufficient fall to drain all the wet lands. It accomplished a great deal of good in more than one way, but it took years before practical results were realized under the county system.

State Drainage.

"In 1893 the legislature passed a bill appropriating $100,000 for drainage work in the Red River valley, and creating a drainage commission known as the Red River valley drainage commission. Under the direction of this commission $182,500 was expended in drainage and reclaiming the swamp lands of the Red River valley. In 1901 an act was passed by the legislature appropriating $50,000 for the drainage and reclamation of state lands in Minnesota and creating a drainage commission consisting of the governor, state auditor and secretary of state, and known as the drainage commission of the state of Minnesota. An additional appropriation of $50,000 was made in 1903 to be expended under the direction of this commission.

"In 1907 a law was enacted giving this commission power to drain state lands, and such private lands as may be benefited thereby, and to assess private lands therefor. A large amount of ditching has been successfully accomplished under this law.

"Under the laws prior to 1907 the state drainage commission had no power to assess lands, hence could only contract ditches from appropriations expressly made for that purpose. On account of limited appropriations, they could not begin to keep pace with the demands and besides were restricted to localities where the state had lands that needed to be drained. The county system was inadequate as it applied to ditches wholly within the county and in case such a ditch benefited land beyond the boundary of the county such lands could not be assessed. Besides, it is often the case that ditches must extend beyond the boundary of the county in which the proceedings are instituted, and it therefore became apparent that a more comprehensive drainage law was required.

Judicial Ditch System.

At a special session of the legislature in 1902 the judicial drainage law was passed. The law has since been amended, but it has been a success since its enactment. The fact that ditches costing several million dollars are now and have been constructed under this law should claim for it attention and consideration rather than criticism and condemnation.

"The Volstead act, which was passed May 20, 1908, was a great relief to settlers who had acquired titles to their land but were surrounded by vacant or homestead government lands. This law provides: 'That all lands in the state of Minnesota, when subject to entry, and all entered lands for which no final certificates have issued, are hereby made and declared to be subject to all the provisions of the laws of said state relating to the drainage of swamp or overflowed lands for agricultural purposes to the same extent and in the same manner in which lands of a like character held in private ownership are or may be subject to said laws.' Thus, we have drainage jurisdiction over the government lands.

Proceedings.

"Now, having briefly called attention to drainage legislation, let us for a moment comment upon proceedings thereunder. Experience has taught us how to avoid trouble and expense in ditch proceedings.

Petition.

"A tract of land that needs drainage should not be drained in piecemeal. It should be all done in one proceeding. With several proceedings and several sets of viewers you have more trouble and expense. Make the petition broad enough so as to give the engineer power to take in the whole watershed, or so much thereof as requires drainage.

Engineer.

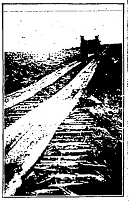
"Don't experiment with inexperienced engineers. An incompetent engineer will make the ditch a failure. In a level country ditches are often made too shallow. Branches and laterals should be established at the same time, and not rely upon townships or landowners to put them in afterward. Ditches and laterals should, when possible, follow section lines.

Roads and Bridges.

"Whenever possible, make use of the excavated dirt for road purposes. Have it specified in the contract how the roads and bridges shall be built and completed. You can often kill two birds with one stone. Get good ditches and good roads in one proceeding. The viewers should be careful about providing for bridges wherever required.

Viewers.

"Too much care cannot be taken in appointing viewers. They should be practical men, with experience and good judgment. Viewers have an inclination to rely too much on the engineer and his report. Viewers should be equipped with pencil and plats and should view the land by forty-acre tracts—always by forty-acre tracts. To classify a farm of 160 acres as all swamp land when it contains only 40 acres of such land, is wrong, and litigation generally follows. When the viewers have viewed all the lands, then they should call a meeting of the settlers at the nearest schoolhouse. There inform the land owners of their assessments, invite discussion and in many cases better information can be obtained of conditions during wet seasons, by this method, than can be gotten by viewing or from the engineer's report. Every resident settler should be consulted by the viewers before completing the report. Don't blame the farmer for wanting to be consulted before his assessment is fixed and report filed. If you don't give him a chance to discuss these matters before the hearing on the viewers' report, then you will have to meet him in court, where it is harder to adjust matters after counsel fees and expenses have been incurred. If you have to break in new viewers, give them full instructions before sending them out. Poor work on the part of the viewers means delay, expense and litigation.



PLANKED CORDUROY.
Roads in the Germantown Country Were Constructed as Above Prior to Completion of Drainage System. An Auto Now Traverses the Same Territory at From 30 to 40 Miles per Hour.

Hearing.

"The following method of procedure at the first and final hearing has proved to be satisfactory and expedient. This applies to hearing before the county commissioners as well as before the district judge. Have the engineer and viewers present. Then proceed as nearly as possible in the same manner as the trial of a court case. Hear the parties and witnesses on one side, then on the other, each taking the usual oath before testifying. When this is not done, the hearing is likely to take on the form of a stormy political convention, rather than a judicial proceeding.

"When the hearing is concluded, the county commissioners, or the judge, as the case may be, should make findings and regular decision.

"All drainage laws are necessarily somewhat complicated, and give rise to conflict between honest opinions, yet there would be much less friction in operating under it if those who preside would give these proceedings and the persons interested more time and consideration.

SOIL IS OF THE BEST.

Expert Explains How Valley Was Developed Geologically.

W. H. Frazier, connected with the soils department of the state experimental station, has given much time to an examination of the soils in the Thief River valley. He gives his conclusions in the following statement:

"Most everyone knows in a general way the story of the formation of the soils of Minnesota. Thousands of years ago, geologists tell us, the northern part of North America, north of a line drawn from the Rocky mountains through Montana down through the western part of North Dakota, western Nebraska and Kansas, east through middle Missouri, southern Illinois, along the southern part of Indiana and Ohio, through Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and traversing Long Island sound into the Atlantic ocean, was covered with a sheet of ice, from a few hundred feet to two or three miles in thickness and extending from the boundary given above to the polar regions.

"Some people may ask how to account for such a tract of ice forming and remaining on what is now such a valuable part of the globe. A slight study of different portions of the earth's crust shows that a great per cent is either lowering or raising from an increase or decrease in pressure elsewhere, and the supposition is that the state of Minnesota was at this time (ice age) some 6,000 to 7,000 feet above sea level.

Region Was Cold.

"From this it is easy to understand that instead of an average yearly temperature of about 42 degrees, it would be much below freezing, and in place of rain the precipitation would be in the form of snow, and from years of accumulation an immense sheet of ice would be the result. This large body of ice moved southward, crushing, grinding and pulverizing the rocks on its way and thus the soils of Minnesota, except Houston county, were primarily formed. If one can imagine the immense amount of pressure brought to bear upon the earth's crust by 10,000 feet of ice, earth material becoming incorporated in the glacier grinding and whetting away other material, all being carried and pushed for many miles, he can get some conception of the well churned, disintegrated, complicated mass of rock particles which comprise the regolith of this section of the country. Throughout the state many long ridges or moraines are to be found which were piled up by this body of ice. In these are found boulders of varying sizes which are the strongest proofs that they are of glacial formation.

"While the ridges, were being formed, earth or rock material was being scooped up, leaving basins giving rise to many of the thousands of lakes of Minnesota.

"One large lake formed, which is not now shown on the map, or only a few remants of it, was Lake Agassiz. This lake was bounded by a line starting near the source of the Red River of the North, paralleling it about twenty-five miles on the east, up to about the southern part of Red Lake county, thence eastward running near the southern shore of lower Red Lake, northeast to Bors Fort Indian reservation, thence northwest encircling Lake Winnipeg, Lake Manitoba, back to the international boundary line about fifty miles west of Red River of the North, paralleling the river, about fifty miles west, to the source.

"It will at once be seen that the widely known Red River valley was covered by this lake. Not only did the Red River valley receive its vast amount of fertility from the deposits (settlings) of this lake, but the vast area east, north and northwest, as outlined by the above area received rich deposits also. This is shown by vegetable matter and organic debris found over this area. The fertility of this large area of deposit has been proved by the results of the Red River valley, which includes the Thief River valley as a tributary area.

Character of Soil.

"Thus, summing up the soil formation of these drainage districts we find: First, that by action of the glaciers in prehistoric times there was a varying amount of glacial till or ground-up mass of rocks spread over the surface varying from 100 to 200 feet in thickness; second, as a result of these glaciers a large lake was formed which has now nearly disappeared, but has left its traces by the beaches formed and large deposits of organic matter together with dissolved mineral substances, just like many lakes are doing today in the state of Minnesota. This in a way accounts for the levelness of the district and the varying thickness of vegetable or organic matter. Organic accumulations in many places have been going on since that time, due to the growth of spagnum moss and characteristic vegetation of the swamps.

"The organic matter varies from twelve inches to three feet in depth, underlined with clay slightly sandy. In some places pockets of gravel were discovered which came within about two or three feet of the surface. The vegetable or organic matter of the soils which are under cultivation and as a rule are partially drained, shows a good degree of disintegration and by comparison of adjoining lower tracts which have not been drained at all, water standing at the surface, prove that a few years of good drainage and plowing or loosening up yearly will bring about good results.

Clay Is Important.

"The clay underlying this organic matter is not a fact to be lost sight of. If the water level is lowered several feet below the surface of the ground, the clay is one of the best types of soil to help raise this water to the roots of growing plants (as kerosene raises in a lamp wick). Where the particles are large as a sandy subsoil or gravel, the underground water will not rise nearly so rapidly nor so high as with clay. The larger the particles, the less the height to which the water will rise and the more easily it will drain. The slight amount of sand will drain much more quickly than a subsoil of pure clay.

"As to the fertility of the soil of this locality, there cannot help but be plenty of the plant food elements, namely, nitrogen, potash and phosphorus, present. It being a new soil, alluvial deposit formation, as cited above, overlaying glacial till or highly disintegrated rock particles, leaves little or no doubt as to the question of amount of plant food.

Soil Conditions Change.

"When the water is removed from the vegetable matter, a great change in soil conditions will be brought about. The soil will become more porous, air (oxygen) will pass through it more rapidly, temperature will be raised and a new set of soil bacteria will begin action. Oxidation will take places, gases will be liberated which will react further on the soil particles, plant food elements will be liberated and nature will begin building an arable soil which will in time become a fertile soil. Man can aid by turning over or cultivating the soil and by seeding crops which aid in the above processes.

"MINNESOTA THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY"

MINNESOTA OFFERS BIG INDUCEMENTS TO HOMESEEKERS

Large Amount of Excellent Land Still May Be Secured at Reasonable Prices.

GOPHER STATE INVITES YOU!

The state of Minnesota occupies a central position on the American continent, and forms the watershed which turns the floodwaters into the Hudson bay, the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Gulf of Mexico. It covers a distance of 450 miles from north to south, at extreme points, and 354 miles from east to west; containing an area of 84,286.53 square miles, or 53,943,378.24 acres, of which 3,508,119 are water.

The soil varies quite widely in character, but a very large percentage of it is capable of high agricultural development. Rocky ledges or mountainous districts, in this state, are confined to a very small area. And while the state had originally quite a large acreage of swamp lands, much of this is easily drained and is being rapidly brought under subjugation.

There are 156,759 farms in the state, containing an average of 177 acres per farm, aggregating 27,623,000 acres in all. This refers to land which has actually been converted into farms. The recent census, taken by the federal government, shows that the total acreage cultivated in Minnesota is 19,609,000 acres. The area taken up by farms in the state is not confined to any one district, but is scattered over different portions of its surface; although the area contained in the southern portion of the state which received the earliest settlement has been nearly all converted into farms.

In the southern portion, lands can be purchased for from $40 to $100 per acre. In the northwest, better known as the "Red River Valley," at from $30 to $65 per acre. In the northeast, at from $20 to $65 per acre; although they go much higher in certain localities, when influenced by close proximity to cities.

FEDERAL OR HOMESTEAD LANDS.

There are approximately 1,500,000 acres of land in the state of Minnesota now open for homestead entry under the control of three United States government land offices, located at Crookston, Cass Lake and Duluth, from which information can be secured. This does not include the lands reserved for parks, game preserves, timber or other purposes. These lands are mostly in the northern counties, and are being rapidly taken up under the homestead laws. Generally speaking, they are covered with a growth of timber, varying in density and quality; but the merchantable pine, if there were any, has been removed.

A large percentage of these lands are ceded Chippewa Indian lands, and are sold by the government at $1.25 per acre, payable in five equal annual installments, but subject to the homestead laws, which require five years' residence on the land and certain improvements. If the settler desires to commute his entry he may do so after a residence of fourteen months by paying an additional $1.25 per acre. In either case the residence must be a bona fide one.

Certain of these lands may be taken under the "stone and timber" act, which requires a payment of $2.50 per acre; but a showing must be made that the land is more valuable for stone and timber than for agricultural purposes.

STATE LANDS.

The state of Minnesota still owns approximately 2,800,000 acres of land, a percentage of which is offered for sale each year, at public auction, by the state auditor, at the county seats in the counties in which the land is located.

The laws of the state of Minnesota provide that this land cannot be sold at less than $5 per acre; neither can it be sold for less than the appraised value, which is usually quite liberal when compared with the actual value of the land. Fifteen per cent of the purchase price must be paid in cash at the date of sale; the balance may run forty years at 4 per cent interest.

There are no requirements for settlement or improvement on these lands, but the interest on deferred payments must be paid in advance, from the date of sale to the following June. The revenues from the sale of these lands go to the different public school funds, and the principal must be kept intact for the use of future generations.

The aggregate amount of these different funds has already reached upwards of $25,000,000, and it is expected that the amount realized from the sale of the remaining lands and royalties on iron ore owned by the state will ultimately reach $200,000,000.

One person may purchase any amount of land, from 40 to 320 acres; but the mineral rights on state lands are reserved by the state, and can not be secured by any one. No improvements of any character have been made on either government or state lands. The state lands remaining are largely covered with a growth of timber or brush. The appraised valuation of the land is from $5 to $10 per acre; and the average selling price on over 100,000 acres sold in 1911 was $6.62 per acre.

WILD LANDS.

In speaking of "Wild Lands" in Minnesota we are referring to lands which have gone into the hands of railroad corporations, private corporations and individual ownership. For many years large portions of these lands were withheld from settlement. But recently they are being placed on the market. It is estimated that there are 15,000,000 acres of lands of this class, which can be purchased at low prices and on easy terms. They are prairie lands, "cutover" timber lands, brush lands, and mixed prairie and timber. A large percentage of these lands are in the northern counties. Prices on these lands range from $5 to $15 per acre, according to quality and proximity to market.

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR IS COUNTRY'S GREATEST.

The Minnesota state fair should properly be classed among the most important educational institutions of the state. This is the largest state fair in the United States in the scope of exhibits and in attendance. Each September the Minnesota state fair gives a remarkable exhibition of the varied resources of the state, and the prospective homeseeker should find a visit to this exposition a great pleasure and also an opportunity to gain a fair insight into agricultural conditions in the Northwest.

MINNESOTA FRUIT GROWING

North Star State the Home of the "Wealthy Apple."

Horticulturally Minnesota is a most inviting state. Splendid market facilities for all produce grown, an ideal soil and available sites beckon the trucker or fruit grower who wants to conduct a business that is extremely profitable. Yet each year thousands of persons are walking away from Minnesota's golden opportunities, seduced by flattering promises in other climes.

Minnesota is the home of the "Wealthy" apple—now grown around the world and universally regarded as a high quality fruit. Many other fruits have been originated in Minnesota and the Northwest that compare with it in flavor and hardiness. Last year the one county of Fillmore shipped out eighty carloads of apples. This year it is estimated that the district lying about Lake Minnetonka will ship out about 30,000 barrels.

In several localities thriving fruit growers' associations have been formed to handle the crops of small fruits. They have done exceedingly well.

MINNESOTA MARKETS AND TRANSPORTATION

State Well Provided With These Very Important Factors.

The state of Minnesota is well supplied with all manner of transportation facilities. There are at this time over 9,000 miles of railroad in the state, or a little more than one-tenth of a mile of railroad to each section of land. St. Paul and Minneapolis and Duluth-Superior, the gateways to the Northwest, are the centers from which radiate railroad lines to all sections of the country, including four transcontinental lines to the Pacific coast. To the north the railroad lines branch out into the Northwest and Canada; to the east the railroads lead to Chicago and the Eastern markets; to the south are found the Corn Belt states and Kansas City and St. Louis; to the southwest Sioux Falls, Sioux City, Council Bluffs and Omaha.

An important feature of transportation in Minnesota is the fact that Duluth, the third largest city of the state, is located at the head of Lake Superior, which gives the entire state the benefit of water transportation to and from the Eastern markets. The grain from the Western prairies, iron ore from the iron ranges in Northern Minnesota, and the lumber from Minnesota forests are shipped to the Eastern markets through the ports of Duluth and Superior, and the returning boats carry back coal and other Eastern products used in the Northwest.

There are 85,000 miles of wagon roads in Minnesota, 15,000 miles of which have been designated as state roads upon which state money is being expended yearly in large sums. The present demand for good roads in Minnesota and the effective co-operation of the state will be the means of soon providing Minnesota with as good a system of rural roads as can be found in any state in the Union.

MINNESOTA MARKETS.

The question of a profitable market for agricultural products is exceedingly important to the man who farms.

Minnesota is fortunate in possessing good agricultural markets and is especially fortunate in its local markets. Minneapolis, the largest city of the state, has a population of about 350,000. This city is headquarters for the great milling industry of the country, being the ultimate destination for much of the wheat raised on Northwestern prairies. In addition to the milling industry, Minneapolis has nearly 1,200 manufacturing establishments and is the distributing point for all manner of manufactured goods, including most of the agricultural implements sent out through the Northwest and Canada.

St. Paul, the capital of the state, has a population of 235,000 and is the principal wholesale and jobbing center of the Northwest. The ten lines of railroad radiating from St. Paul, and the fact that this city is the head of navigation on the Mississippi river, indicate why the Twin Cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis will eventually become one of the largest urban centers of the country. The Equity Co-operative Exchange, a farmers' organization, has headquarters in St. Paul. It acts as selling agent for thousands of Northwestern farmers and is erecting a mammoth terminal elevator on the Mississippi at St. Paul. The live stock yards at South St. Paul form one of the largest primary markets for live stock in the country, being the destination for a large proportion of the range stock from the extreme West, in addition to the immense local live stock holdings.

Duluth, the third largest city in Minnesota, is growing very rapidly, owing to its location at the head of navigation of the Great Lakes, the development of the iron ore industry in the northern part of the state, and other causes. Through the Twin Ports of Duluth and Superior (Wisconsin) is shipped practically two-thirds of the iron ore mined in the United States each year.

In addition to the three large cities of the state Minnesota has many secondary cities which furnish important home markets for farm products.

MINNESOTA DEATH RATE LOW

Climate Conceded to Be One of Most Healthful in United States.

The general climate of Minnesota is conceded to be one of the most healthful to be found in the United States, this fact being verified by vital statistics over many years. Summer weather in Minnesota is usually very delightful, owing to the absence of that humidity characteristic of the climate further south and east. Minnesota is one of the principal summer resort states of the country, and the 10,000 lakes in the state offer every attraction to the lover of outdoor life. Minnesota is one of the few states of the Union where it is possible for the farmer to own his own summer resort.

The average rainfall in the state ranges from twenty-seven inches in the western part of the state, to thirty inches in the eastern portions of the state. United States weather bureau observations for a period of seventy-five years show the general average precipitation at Twin City points to be 27.49 inches, while the average precipitation in the growing months (May to August) for the same period of time is 14.24 inches. Minnesota is classed with the other Mississippi Valley states, as being located in the section where the rainfall can be depended upon year in and year out, and most of the annual precipitation is well distributed throughout the year.

MINNESOTA MANUFACTURES

State Ranks Twelfth in Value of Factory Products.

The overshadowing importance of its agricultural industries has obscured the really remarkable growth of manufactures in Minnesota. Although the nineteenth state in the order of its admission to the Union and the nineteenth in population, Minnesota ranks twelfth in the value of its manufactures.

Among the manufactures which are extensively carried on in Minnesota are lumber, flour, books and other printed matter, boots and shoes, clothing of every kind and grade, canned goods, drain tile, sewer pipe, earthenware, furs, hats and caps, leather goods, macaroni, spaghetti, vermicelli, meats and paper. The following table of manufactures in Minnesota is taken from the United States census bureau statistics:

Number of establishments	5,562
Capital	$275,416,000
Cost of materials used	281,622,000
Salaries and wages	62,122,000
Miscellaneous expenses	31,517,000
Value of products	409,420,000
Value added by manufacture (products less cost of materials)	127,798,000
Number of salaried officials and clerks	14,263
Average number of wage earners employed during year	84,768

MINNESOTA IS PROSPEROUS

This is Shown in Number of Banks and Aggregate Deposits.

During the last decade Minnesota's banking business has grown very rapidly. This is shown both in the increase in the number of banks and in the rapid expansion of bank resources. At the present time the national bank resources of Minnesota represent one-fortieth of all the national bank resources in the United States. Similarly the deposits in Minnesota national banks represent more than one-thirty-fifth of the total deposits in all the national banks of the United States.

This rapid growth has not taken place at the expense of stability or safety in Minnesota banking business. Failures are practically unknown. This condition of safety is to be explained partly in the nature of Minnesota banking business and partly in the methods of supervision. All the banks are examined at least twice a year. Published statements, that are authoritative regarding the resources and liabilities of any bank, enable the public to watch its development and general condition from time to time.

EDUCATIONAL FUND OVER $22,000,000

Minnesota School System Is Excelled by None.

The citizens of Minnesota possess one of the best educational systems in the country. The state has a permanent educational fund of over $22,000,000, accumulated from the sale of school lands and from the leasing of forested or iron ore lands which are retained for the benefit of future generations. This enormous school fund is constantly increasing, and it is estimated that within a very few years it will be unnecessary to levy any taxes for the maintenance of the public schools of the state.

The most prominent educational institution in Minnesota is the state university, one of the largest institutions of its kind in the United States, and ranking among the great universities of the country. All of the usual university courses are offered at this institution and afford an opportunity for advanced education at minimum expense. The state university is located at Minneapolis. The Minnesota Agricultural School and Experiment Station is maintained as one of the departments of the university, but has separate quarters and a large experiment farm in connection, on the outskirts of St. Paul. The agricultural school has devoted much attention to the origination and dissemination of new and improved types of farm plants, notably wheat, flax and barley. The experiment station, connected with the college, has done much in the investigation of dairy problems.

For the majority of people who do not find it possible to attend the university or the agricultural school extension departments of both institutions are maintained, which departments take the college and university work direct to the people of the state by means of university lecture courses, correspondence courses, schoolroom short courses, farmers' institutes and other modern and progressive lines of extension work.

Minnesota has taken an advanced stand in agricultural education in the common schools of the state. Over 100 high schools now receive liberal state aid for the carrying on of agricultural education and industrial training. In the rural sections of the state a general plan is now under way for the consolidated system of schools, which will eventually do away with the isolated and inefficient rural school.

In addition to the state institutions of learning there are also many private colleges and denominational institutions which have records of great usefulness.

MINNESOTA HAS MANY RELIGIOUS ADVANTAGES.

Practically all church denominations are represented in the rural sections of Minnesota. In some of the older sections of the state colonization of certain districts has been carried on by some of the different denominations, but in the newer sections of the state virtually all denominations are represented and in nearly every community the farmer can find such religious advantages as he may desire.

Message to the Northwest.

By Cyrus Northrop,
President Emeritus, University of Minnesota.

I am an old man now, and have seen many things in the world. I have seen this great country that we speak of as the northwest come, in my lifetime, to be populous and rich. The forest has fallen before the farmers, the field has blossomed and the cities have risen to greatness. If there is anything that an old man 80 years of age could say to a people among whom he has spent the happiest days of his life, it is this: We live in the most blessed country in the world. The things we have accomplished are only the beginning. As the years go on, and always we increase our strength, our power and our wealth, we must not depart from the simple teachings of our youth. For the moral fundamentals are the same and unchangeable. Here in the northwest we shall make a race of men that shall inherit the earth. Here in the distant years, when I and others who have labored with me shall long have been forgotten, there will be a power in material accomplishment, in spiritual attainment, in wealth, strength and moral influence the like of which the world has not yet seen. This I firmly believe. And the people of the northwest, moving ever forward to greater things, will accomplish all this as they adhere always to the moral fundamentals, and not otherwise.

GETTING STARTED ON A FARM

Northeastern Minnesota Appeals Very Strongly to Man With Small Capital to Invest.

By F. D. Sherman,
State Immigration Commissioner.

Northeastern Minnesota embraces what is known as the "Timber Region of Minnesota," and this part of the state is just being developed and it is estimated that there are approximately 12,000,000 acres of good agricultural land in Northeastern Minnesota that has never felt the point of a plow. These lands are capable, when subdued and properly tilled, of producing sufficient foodstuffs to feed 5,000,000 people. Most of the settlers in Northeastern Minnesota at the present time, are experiencing pioneer conditions, but during the past five years, thousands of settlers have moved onto these lands and are transforming them into fertile fields and cozy homes. At one time Northeastern Minnesota was the scene of great lumbering activities and considerable logging is being done in the remote sections, but this industry will last but a few years more, when the lumbermen must move westward to give place to the hands of the husbandman. While all kinds of grains, such as corn, wheat, rye, oats, barley and flax are grown successfully in practically every county of Northeastern Minnesota, grasses and vegetables are the principal products.

Duluth, as well as the smaller cities along the three Iron Ranges in this section of the state, afford splendid markets for all farm products produced in Northeastern Minnesota. In fact, at the present time, they are not producing nearly enough foodstuffs to supply the local demand. For a man with small capital who wishes to get started on a farm, I know of no place in the whole Northwest that would appeal to him more strongly than this section of Minnesota. Wild land can be purchased in Northeastern Minnesota at from $10 to $25 per acre, according to its location, etc., and improved farms at from $20 to $40 per acre. The state of Minnesota owns approximately 2,000,000 acres of land here, known as state school land and last year they sold approximately 800,000 acres of land, which averaged less than $8 per acre. There are also about 1,500,000 acres of homestead lands open for entry in this section of the state.

MINNESOTA LAND PRICES COMPARATIVELY LOW.

In 1914 the average value of land in Minnesota was $46 per acre; in Iowa it was $95.96 per acre, and in Illinois $108.13, more than twice as much, in each case, as in Minnesota. At these prices 160 acres—which in Iowa would cost $15,360 and in Illinois $17,280—could be bought in Minnesota for $7,360.

NO ONE NEEDS TO MISS EDUCATION

STATE'S CHIEF CONCERN FOR FUTURE CITIZENS IS OPPORTUNITY FOR LEARNING.

SCHOOLS WITHIN EASY REACH

Minnesota Requires Common Public Institutions to be Maintained Within Access of Every Child Within School Age.

By C. G. Schultz,
State Superintendent of Education.

Minnesota's chief concern for its future citizens is the fullest opportunity for education. No person in this state, whether young or old, needs to miss the chance of receiving the elements of an education. The state requires common public schools to be maintained within access of every child within school age. There are in Minnesota 7,500 rural schools, 250 elementary graded schools, and 225 state high schools. The state maintains five normal schools for training teachers, the state university, the colleges in education and in agriculture, besides other professional schools. There are special schools for deaf and for blind and a state school for homeless children.

Consolidation of Rural Schools.

The minimum school year is six months. Most schools are in session between seven and eight months. High and graded schools have nine months of school each year.

Every child in the state between 8 and 16 years of age is required to attend public or private school regularly.

The state makes special grants to the several classes of public schools, in order to maintain high standards in buildings and in teaching. Special grants are made to high and graded schools for teaching agriculture and other industrial subjects. Consolidation of rural schools is encouraged by special annual grants of $500 to each school, of $2,000 for paying the cost of transportation, and $2,000 for the erection of a modern building in a consolidated district.

Best Facilities for Education.

Beside the common public schools and the state's educational institutions, there are six private colleges maintaining a high rank of scholarship, equivalent to the standards in the state university. Different religious denominations maintain private academies and special schools. There are schools of art, of music, and of design.

The newer settled sections of the state have kept pace with the older communities in their provisions for public schools. Northern Minnesota vies with the southern section in progressiveness in all that pertains to the best facilities for public education.

A STATE WITH A SURPLUS

Minnesota's Permanent Trust Funds Are Greatest of Any State in the Union.

By Walter J. Smith, State Treasurer.

The condition of the state finances at the close of the fiscal year July 31, 1915, showed that Minnesota was in better condition than ever before in its history. The last dollar has been paid during the past year on the new Capitol, and the state of Minnesota does not owe any bonded debt. The cash balance in the treasury at the above named date was $3,332,006.34.

Our permanent trust funds of the state are the greatest of any state in the Union and nearly as much as all the states put together, lying east of the Mississippi river.

Trust Funds Are Increasing.

The state treasurer holds in trust securities belonging to and to the credit of the following trust funds:

Permanent school fund....	$19,380,539
Permanent university fund	1,426,522
Swamp land fund.........	2,372,223
Internal Improvement land fund	160,000
Total	$23,339,284

Most of the securities bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum.

Through the sale of state lands, timber, receipts from royalties on iron ore, etc., these trust funds are increasing at the rate of one million dollars per year.

Produces Life's Necessities.

One thing about Minnesota is that she produces in perfection the chief necessities of life, and they are always in demand. Our wheat, oats, barley, corn, potatoes and other field products are of the best, as also are our beef, pork, poultry, eggs, milk, cream and butter and other products all of the very first quality. Until the world gets tired of good wholesome victuals Minnesota products will continue to be in prime demand. Down east, down south and way out west they can and do produce some things in perfection, but here we raise a great many in equal perfection. For instance, we enjoy Delaware peaches, but we like them better with our Minnesota cream. We enjoy the California oranges and Georgia watermelons, but they are but the dessert to a full meal of Minnesota products. Baltimore oysters and New Jersey clams go well with our Thanksgiving dinner of Minnesota meats and vegetables and so it is all the way.

MINNESOTA RICH IN AUTOMOBILES

PROSPERITY OF PEOPLE IS EVIDENCED BY LARGE NUMBER OF MACHINES.

NEARLY 100,000 REGISTERED

Secretary of State Schmahl Predicts Citizens Will Own 160,000 Cars Before 1917 Closes, or One Auto to Every 17.

By Julius A. Schmahl, Secretary of State.

I know of no better criterion of the wealth and prosperity of all classes of the people of Minnesota than that of the automobile. In 1907, when the Legislature first provided for a state registration of automobiles, 7000 were registered. The following year it jumped to 12,000. In 1909 the registration was 19,500; in 1910 the registration was 28,500; and the year 1911 closed with a registration of about 45,000. The 1911 Session of the Legislature provided for a three year period with January 1, 1912, and when the department closed business on December 31, 1914, the records showed there were 68 500 licensed automobiles in Minnesota and in addition there were a large number in the hands of dealers licensed under what is known as the Dealers' Registration Act. The now triennial period commenced on January 1, 1915, and at this writing, September 20, 1915, the registration, exclusive of dealers, has reached 88,000, and there are undoubtedly a thousand or two more in the hands of the 450 dealers throughout the state that have either not been sold or applications have not been received at this department.

People Invest $84,980,000.

The Wall Street Journal, the orthodox financial paper of the United States, published in New York City, in an issue circulated during the month of August, made the statement that the average price of an automobile owned throughout the United States is about $980, over one-half of the cars produced selling for less than $700. Using this responsible statement as a basis, the people of Minnesota now have $84,980,000 invested in automobiles. It can be positively stated that there is practically little or no charge as a credit against these machines and that the entire item is one that is exclusive property of the owners.

This stupendous amount and growth shows better the prosperity of Minnesota than any other one item that I can think of and inasmuch it has come from the soil of the state within the last eight years, people from other states desiring to invest in Minnesota real estate and make homes in this state, will not ponder long in their reflection as to the actual wealth of the soil of the state. From the applications on file in this office I can make a safe estimate that about thirty per cent. of the total registration has been made by the farmers of Minnesota. This latter registration as a whole does not cover many of the high priced machines but it does show a safe, conservative policy on part of the farmers in purchasing good and durable machines and machines that will answer all purposes.

One Auto to Every 17 Citizens.

At the present time the registration comes largely from that section of Minnesota south from a direct line across the state from Brainerd but the applications from the Northern section are coming in quite rapidly and indicate that rapid strides are being made in both the agricultural wealth of that section as well as in the improvement of roads.

Minnesota is now about the ninth state in the Union in the number of licensed automobiles. The people of the state are calling for them faster than they can be delivered from the factories. Before 1915 closes Minnesota will have very near 100,000 machines registered and before the triennial period closes on December 31, 1917, the people will own in the neighborhood of 160,000 machines, equivalent to about one machine to every seventeen citizens of the state.

MINNESOTA'S BANK WEALTH

Deposits More Than $492,000,000; or $232 for Every Man, Woman and Child in State.

By A. H. Turrittin,
Superintendent of Banks.

The prosperity of Minnesota is best evidenced by the condition of the banks of the state.

We have 917 banks, 275 national banks, 10 savings banks and 8 trust companies; a total of 1,210 banks and trust companies. The deposits in these financial institutions is over $492,000,000.00 or $232 for every man, woman and child in Minnesota.

Five years ago there were 970 of these financial institutions with a total deposit of over $340,000,000.00 or a per capita deposit of about $164.

This shows an increase of 240 in the number of banks, $152,000,000.00 in deposits and a per capita increase of $68.00.

Minnesota produced 33.6 per cent of white pine timber cut in the United States in 1909.

The capital invested in Minnesota manufacturing plants is $275,416,000.

MINNESOTA FINE FOR LIVE STOCK RAISING

Minnesota is particularly adapted for the rearing of live stock. The combination of live stock and general farming offers the best means of utilizing the crops which can here be grown in such abundance. This kind of farming also affords the highest cash returns on the investment and keeps the land in the highest state of fertility.

Live stock farming is especially desirable in the early stages of farming in a timbered section. The brush, or cutover, land can be utilized for pasture quite as readily as can the open prairies, and a revenue is thus obtained that otherwise is wasted. The dairy cow will make quite as many pounds of milk on the $10 an acre stump pasture as she will on $200 an acre prairie land. Live stock can also be pastured on this stump land and it will help to clear the land and pay living expenses from the beginning.

The pasture season in Minnesota is usually longer than it is in Iowa and Illinois. There are no summer drouths here such as are experienced farther south and lush pasture exists from early spring until snow flies in the fall. Pasture is usually available about May 1, and it is not at all uncommon to have a continuance of green feed until Nov. 1. This long pasture season is a great asset in stock feeding. Good tame pasture in Minnesota will support a cow or steer to the acre, something possible in but few localities.

The climate, and soil conditions in Minnesota are well suited to the production of live stock. A number of the most noted herds of pure bred stock, including the famous Meadowlawn Shorthorn cattle which for years have been grand champions at the International Live Stock Exposition, are products of this state. Ringmaster, the most noted Shorthorn bull ever produced in this country and valued at over $15,000, is a product of Stearns county.

MINNESOTA BUTTER BEST IN THE WORLD.

Minnesota has 852 creameries, of which 614 are co-operative and 238 individual, and in addition seventy cheese factories. The creamery condition in Minnesota is healthy and continually growing. There are a million cattle upon a thousand hills with crystal rivers and lakes without number. No wonder we make the best butter in the world.

The census showed that there were 6679 farmers in Beltrami, Kittson, Marshall, Pennington and Red Lake Counties; and the area of those counties is 4,996,400 acres---over 740 acres for every farmer.

THE AVERAGE FARM IN THE UNITED STATES CONTAINS 138 ACRES.

If enough farmers could be induced within a reasonable time to come to those counties so there would be a farmer and his family for every 138 acres of land, think of what it would mean to the country.

1.—Thief River Falls would undoubtedly become a City of from 20,000 to 40,000 people—possibly more; other cities and villages would spring up in the surrounding country.

2.—The Manufacturing Industry would undoubtedly increase materially in Thief River Falls as well as other cities and villages.

3.—All City Property would rapidly increase in value—probably many times the present value.

4.—Better Markets Would be established—farmers would get into the 20th century step, and become business men, as all farmers should be. Co-operation—up to date co-operation that would cheapen the cost of production and distribution—would be manifest along all lines.

5.—Merchants Would Increase their stock and their business, and, with increased patronage, could lessen the margin of commission charged.

6.—There Would Be increased business for wholesalers, jobbers and retail merchants; for manufacturers, the railyaws and even the common laboring men.

7.—Good Roads Would be constructed everywhere; a perfect drainage system would be established; all "scrub brush" would be removed—all groves around the buildings would be the only reminders of the old time forests.

8.—The Burden of Taxation for public improvements would be divided among nearly six times as many people, and therefore lessened in spite of public improvements.

9.—Creameries and Cheese Factories would would be changed, all inferior grain and screenfarming—would be the rule; and the great loss now sustained in marketing all the grain raised on the farm during the year in a few weeks time would be heanged, all inferior grain and screenings being fed to stock on the farm.

10.—Potatoes and Root Crops would become important staple products of the farm; small fruits of all kinds would be grown abundantly.

11.—Every Farm Would be thoroughly and scientifically cultivated—the farmers would be the leaders in all social and economic movements.

12.—Every Neighborhood would have its consolidated school, with high school education; also farmers clubs. Rural mail routes and telephones and branch lines of railway would be constructed; others lengthened and their efficiency increased.

13.—The Land, which was worth $30,456,543 when the census was taken, would be worth from $100 to $200 per acre—at $100 per acre the total value of the land would be $496,640,00, or about sixteen times its present value.

Can such a change be brought about in a reasonable time? It would mean that for every farmer in the country at this time, five more would have to bring their families and settle in those counties. If all will co-operate, there can be no question that that result can be accomplished in a reasonably short time.

The Soo Line is ready and willing to do more than its share. The business men of Thief River Falls are ready to do their part. They have already issued an excellent pamphlet, describing Thief River Falls and the surrounding country.

The farmers can probably do more to accomplish that result than anyone else. Let every farmer in Northwestern Minnesota pursue this course:

1.—Pick Out From five to twenty of his old friends and neighbors who should become settlers in Northwestern Minnesota.

2.—Send Each One of those farmers back home a letter, telling of the advantages in Northwestern Minnesota for the man of limited means. The letter should state only the actual facts, and all the facts—the facts are good enough to bring those old friends.

3.—If Possible, tell each of those friends of some particular tract of land in your own vicinity that can be bought at a bargain—tell him about that land, and the price and terms of payment. Invite him to come and see the land for himself.

4.—Get An Extra Copy of this edition of the News-Press and send to each of those old friends. Also, get a copy of the booklet issued by the Commercial Club at Thief River Falls, and send that to him.

5.—Send Me the name and address of each of those friends, and tell me the kind of bargains you have offered to them, if any. I will then send to each of them a booklet descriptive of Northern Minnesota, a map of the State, and a booklet descriptive of your own county.

6.—If You Know of lands in your vicinity that are not well farmed, ask the owner to list them for sale with the Soo Line—I will furnish listing cards. No charge is made for services or expenses, or even for advertising lands, no matter whether we help make a sale or not. Those vacant lands may be just the thing for the old friends of some of your neighbors.

7.—When You see strangers in the country, do what you can to make them feel that they will be welcome. If they are strangers, do not try to divert them to your own neighborhood, if they have a particular friend in another neighborhood—the stranger is apt to feel somewhat suspicious of you if you try to offer him something and tell him that it is better than a proposition coming from his own friend.

8.—Remember, That Every Man who comes to that territory adds to your wealth by increasing the value of your property. Trying to collect a commission for the sale of a piece of land has caused many a stranger to return to his home—for good. Better lose a commission than to lose a new settler by trying to make a commission.

The Soo Line is spending thousands of dollars for literature descriptive of Northern Minnesota, and obtaining bargains in farm lands for men who should really have them. If we send that literature to one of your old friends, and that is all that is done, it is apt to be just that much money, time and effort wasted.

But, if you will write that friend a letter and invite him to come to this country, and then have us mail him the literature, he will very likely come and be your neighbor, and bring his friends a little later.

Getting the population of Northwestern Minnesota increased sixfold is not a Herculanean task--"Co-Operation" is the watchword which will do it.

And that is the way for the farmers to become independent--the ones to be envied in the future just as the old farmers who came to Illinois and Iowa in the pioneer days, and have remained there, are the ones to be envied to-day.

NOW IS A GOOD TIME TO WRITE THOSE LETTERS---TO YOUR FRIENDS AND TO ME. Then send the papers and booklets at your first opportunity.

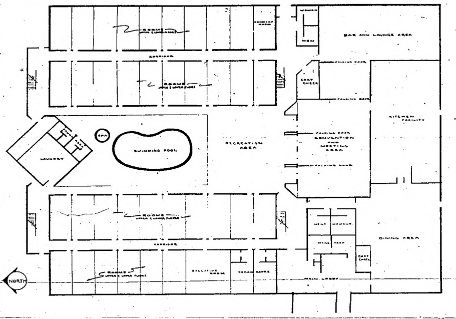
SITE PREPARATION is underway for the new medical office building addition to Northwestern hospital services in Thief River Falls. This photo shows construction crews at work removing the surfacing of LaBree avenue which has been closed to traffic since Monday morning. Other equipment is beginning work in excavation for the building which will extend across LaBree avenue and connect with the hospital approximately where the west entrance is presently located. Main floor of the new medical office building will be on the same level as the present hospital lobby. The Thief River clinic, shown at right, will be operated in the existing building during the construction of the new facility. The city of Thief River Falls has received a grant for development of the area shown in the left background.



FLOOR PLAN of the new Best Western motel now under construction on highway 32 on the south edge of Thief River Falls shows the lay-out of the new facility. The area at left will be two-story and include 81 rooms of five different types as well as swimming pool, sauna and recreation area. The area at right will have a meeting room with seating for 250 people, dining room which can serve 140, and a lounge with seating capacity of 150 people. Lounge and meeting room decor will be modern contemporary.

County Will Pursue Landfill Operation

Pennington county board of commissioners, in a regular meeting August 5 at the county courthouse, buried the last remaining possibility of county participation in the state pollution control agency's proposed multi-county solid waste management project when it resolved to pursue development of a sanitary landfill site in Pennington county.

Two resolutions were passed. The first officially withdrew the county from the PCA project and authorized development of an approved landfill operation in the county. The second resolved that an application be filed for grant funds sufficient to provide an adequate site within the county for a landfill operation.

According to county auditor C. W. Rodekuhr, the board was greatly influenced by recent soil borings in various sites in the county which indicate, contrary to earlier PCA conclusions, that it is feasible to construct a sanitary landfill in the county.

The soil borings (conducted by the soil conservation services and PCA under the supervision of consulting engineer D. H. Stewart) discovered that at the county sites sampled a large bed of clay, perhaps as deep as 50 feet, would prevent any landfill seepage from polluting the deep water wells underneath.

Rodekuhr said the samples suggest that earlier PCA findings discouraging a site within the county due to possible pollution were premature. County officials believe the PCA was deceived by pools of shallow water it discovered which lay directly above the clay bed. The shallow water, says the county, is not part of the utilized water supply and should be disregarded.

The auditor indicated that by constructing its own dump, the Engelstad New President Of Hospital Ass'n.

James Engelstad was elected president of the board of trustees of Northwestern hospital association at a reorganization meeting of the board held Monday evening at the CNC unit chapel.

Engelstad was elevated from the vice president position to succeed Marvin Lundin as head of the non-profit corporation which operates the local hospital. Lundin was elected vice president, Robert Bredeson was reelected secretary and Harry Oen was elected treasurer to succeed Terry Courneya.

Courneya and James Winjum were elected to serve on the medical advisory committee and Roy Lee and Harley Kelly were elected to serve with the four officers on the association's executive committee.

City To Ticket Parked Trucks

Thief River Falls police chief Ken Froschheiser announced Thursday that commercial vehicles with a capacity of more than one ton will be tagged on Main avenue between First and Fourth streets, and Third streets between Knight and Atlantic avenues unless these vehicles are in the process of loading or unloading.

"We have observed and received complaints about commercial vehicles parked on these streets, especially those which block visibility to such as extent that it is dangerous to proceed into the intersection without the possibility of having an accident," Froschheiser said.

The chief warned that time to load and unload does not include an interlude for a cup of coffee. When it is not obvious that loading is being done, a tag will be issued, he said. City ordinance 28.2032 prohibits commercial parking on the above mentioned streets, provided that the vehicles are allowed sufficient time to load or unload.

Safety Council Reports 3 New Traffic Laws

Pennington county safety council reported Thursday that several new traffic safety laws went into effect August 1. These include: Fenders are required on all passenger automobiles; motorcyclists must have headlights on at all times when their vehicles are in operation; and motorcycle instruction permits will be valid for 45 days rather than the previous 90-day period.

The council report added that fenders (or other similar devices designed to deflect materials contacted on the highway) must be at least as wide as the tires and wheels they are protecting.

Regarding the new date limitation for motorcycle instruction permits, the report said there will be no 30-day waiting period between issuance of the permit and completion of the road test required for a motorcycle endorsement. The instruction permit will state that the holder may not carry passengers even if a passenger has a motorcycle endorsement. Also, the holder of an instruction permit may not operate a motorcycle at night on on a freeway.

Murder Attempt Charged Against Dennis Barry, 26

In a complaint filed Friday, Dennis Barry, 26, of Thief River Falls was charged with attempted first degree murder, attempted second degree murder and attempted first degree manslaughter for striking a young city woman with his car in an alleged attempt to kill her.

The woman, Candy Passa, 22, of rural Thief River Falls, suffered cuts, bruises and a sprained ankle in the incident, which occurred August 5 in downtown Thief River Falls.

Barry appeared in the Pennington county court Friday, where John Roue, Fosston, assistant public defender, was appointed as his attorney. Bond was set at $10,000. On Monday, Barry appeared before the district court in Thief River Falls and Roue requested a psychiatric evaluation for his client. District Judge Warren A. Saetre ordered that the evaluation be conducted at Fergus Falls state hospital, where Barry has been transported.

The alleged crime took place at approximately 5:10 p.m. August 5, a few minutes after an apparent argument between Barry and Miss Passa, reportedly a former girl friend of his. Pennington county attorney David Olin said Barry allegedly pursued the woman with his car (a 1972 Fiat), in the vicinity of the 200 block of Knight avenue north, crossed a sidewalk, intentionally struck her and fled the scene. Barry was later taken into custody by the city police department.

WENDY NOREEN of the Black River 4-H club was crowned queen of the Pennington county 4-H dress revue on August 2 at the county fair in Thief River Falls. The selection qualifies her for a trip to the state fair—the fourth state fair trip which she earned this year through exhibits and demonstrations connected with the fair. She has elected to take the dress revue trip. Members of the senior division honor court include, left to right, Lori Lundin, Happy Acres, attendant; Jane Prestebak, Good Hope, attendant; Queen Wendy; Shaun Oen and Jeri Lundin, Happy Acres.

81-Unit Motel Complex Is Under Construction Here

Financing has been arranged, contracts awarded and construction is now underway on a new 81-unit Best Western motel and convention facility for Thief River Falls. With a total cost of just under $2 million, the project is the largest ever undertaken for Thief River Falls by totally local investors. It will be located east of highway 32 on the south edge of Thief River Falls and will cater to convention and meeting trade for a wide area.

Norris Melander, president of Best Western of Thief River Falls, Inc., which will build and operate the facility under a national Best Western franchise, said there are nine local investors in the project and that entirely local contractors are being used in the construction program.

Other officers of the corporation are Robert Kinsman, vice president; Dr. H. P. Wendt, secretary; and Richard (Bud) Evans, treasurer.

Ranum Construction company is the general contractor on the project and is presently at work in site preparation, including placement of fill. Lee Plumbing and Heating company has the plumbing and heating contract, Brodin Sheetmetal the ventilation work, Langlie Lectric the electrical contract, Thief River Glass company the metal windows and doors and Home Lumber company the building material and floor covering.

Stan Ranum of the general contracting firm said completion of the building can be expected by May 1, 1976. Construction of the 168x220 building—much of which will be two stories high—will be of pre-cast concrete sections with a raked finish. The 8x18 panels will be hauled to the site and raised into position, resulting in rapid construction.

Blacktop surfacing will be provided for parking of 250 cars, a service road will be constructed in front of the motel and the building will be erected on five acres of land with design for possible future expansion. Projections are that the motel will provide 50 full-time and part-time jobs when it becomes operational early next year.

In addition to the 81 rooms, which are of five different types, the motel will feature a 40x60 dining room with seating for 140 people, 64x32 and 27x22 lounge with seating for 150 and a 45x63 meeting room with a capacity of 250 people. There will also be a swimming pool 40 feet long and varying from 18 to 21 feet wide. The 50x100 pool area will also

City Annexes Tessum's Addition

A resolution approving annexation of Tessum's addition to the city was passed by the Thief River Falls city council last night during a regular meeting in the city auditorium council chambers. It was one of several important matters to come before the council in meeting dates last night and Tuesday, August 5.

Also passed yesterday was the extension of sewer and water along 1100 feet of Greenwood street east of Highway 59. On August 5, the council was informed the Ben Franklin store exercised an option and paid $5,000 toward the purchase of the old Northern Motors building on Main avenue, and a resolution passed approving raises in salary to city department officials.

The Tessum's addition vote was preceeded by a public hearing, in which all 12 Tessum's addition residents at the meeting expressed approval of the annexation. The Tessum's area includes approximately 19 acres of land directly north of the fairgrounds. Most of the lot owners favoring annexation did so for the purpose of obtaining an extension of city sewer and water into the area.

Three Way Construction Co. Inc. of Waite Park was the lowest of seven bidders on the sewer and water extension project at $166,954.55 and was awarded the contract when bids were opened yesterday. The highest bid was $214,347.75. Construction on the extensions is expected to be completed by November 1. The council tax and assessment committee has set the residential cost assessment at $13 per frontage foot for sewer and $4.80 per frontage foot for water.

The request for the Greenwood area extensions, which was also unopposed in a public hearing last night, was made by Kenneth Berg and Wallace Sparby, who have reportedly obtained funding

Bellerud And Olson Vows Exchanged Here August 2

Miss Pamela Jayne Bellerud and Charles E. Olson of Grand Forks, N.D., and formerly of this city, exchanged marriage vows on Saturday, August 2, at 2 p.m., at the Evangelical Free church in Thief River Falls.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Al Bellerud of this city. The groom is the son of Mrs. Clara Olson, also of this city, and the late Clarence Olson.

Rev. Ivan Carlson officiated at the double ring ceremony witnessed by approximately 200 relatives and friends. At the organ was Mrs. Ivan Carlson, who played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Debbie Trontvet as she sang, "Wedding Song," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Colour My World."

Forming the background for the wedding party were lighted candelabra graced with sprays of blue and white carnations and greenery. Single candelabra with corresponding floral arrangements marked the first four pews reserved for the immediate families.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was attired in a floor-length A-line gown of flylon crystal featuring a skirt with a pick-up front that swept back into a chapel-length train with a flounced hem. Venice lace trimmed the skirt and formed the fitted bodice, styled with a V-neckline, and trimmed the poly crystal shepherdess sleeves. A matching lace bandeau, embroidered with pearls, held her fingertip veil edged with coordinating lace. A poof face veil completed her headpiece. Her jewelry was the rhinestone necklace which her mother had worn at her wedding, and a gold cross, the bride's gift from the groom. She carried an arrangement of red roses and white carnations on a bride's Bible.

Maid of honor was Jackie Bellerud of Seattle, another cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Sharon and Barbara Eriksson of this city and Karen Hauck of Esterville, Iowa, friends of the bride. All the attendants wore identical gowns of a blue floral sheer over blue taffeta with a matching cape. To complete their attire, they wore white hats with blue ribbon streamers hanging down the back, and carried bouquets of blue and white carnations accented with baby pink roses.

Wearing similar attire and carrying a basket of miniature red roses was the flower girl, Shari Erickson of this city, a friend of the bride The rings were carried by Mark DeMars of Bathgate, N.D. Like the men of the wedding party, he wore a light blue Redford tuxedo with ruffled shirt, a matching blue tie and a white carnation boutonniere.

Best man was Rick Harbott of this city, a friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Carter Torgerson of Grygla, Sid Brouse of this city, friends of the groom, and John Olson of this city, a brother of the groom. Serving as ushers were Paul Bellerud, brother of the bride, Billy Olson, brother of the groom, and Scott Falk of Elbow Lake, a friend of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bellerud selected a dress of multicolor floral sheer over white, complemented by a corsage of white carnations and pink roses. The mother of the groom was attired in a peach colored dress with a corsage of white carnations and yellow roses.

A reception in the church parlors followed with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Falk and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Timm as hosts and hostesses. Mrs. Dennis Lemke of Grand Forks presided at the guest book as Helen and Marlene Olson, sisters of the groom, served the punch.

Centering the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped by solid blue roses. Between the four large pillars that supported the cake was a bride and groom ornament. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Bernhard Setness and Mrs. Melvin Bellerud, aunts of the bride. Clarice and Linda Olson, sisters of the groom, poured.

Waitresses were Julie Nelson, Donna Brouse, Ginny Reierson and Phyllis Trontvet. The gifts were opened and arranged by Sandra Bellerud, Debbie Olson, Lyn Kjenstad and Paula Beane.

Among the special guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bellerud, Trudy and Jackie of Seattle, Wash., Mr and Mrs. Bert Bellerud and family of Bismarck, N.D.; Mrs. Freeman Olson and Debbie of Cypress, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olson of Anaheim, Calif.; Mrs. Keith Beane and Lyn Kjenstad of Bingham, Maine, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carpenter and family of Cottage Grove.

For traveling on the wedding trip to Winnipeg, Man., Canada, the bride wore a blue floral three-piece suit.

The couple is now at home in East Grand Forks. Both are employed in Grand Forks, the bride by Minnkota Power and the groom by Concret, Inc. They are graduates of Lincoln high school and both attended the local Area Vocational-Technical institute.

Bridal Shower Set For Patty Steinhauer At Holt

Miss Patty Steinhauer will be honor guest at a bridal shower on Friday, August 15, at 8 p.m., at the Nazareth Lutheran church at Holt.

Diane Elizabeth Grothe and Terry Holte Vows Spoken

Miss Diane Elizabeth Grothe and Terry K. Holte were united in marriage recently at a double ring ceremony at Our Saviors Lutheran church in this city. Rev. David Molstre officiated at the evening ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grothe of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Holte of Grygla.

On the altar were arrangements of ferns and lavender and white carnations. Forming the chancel setting were candelabra with dark and light lavender bows.

Acolytes were the bride's brother Donald Grothe, and cousin Steven Moen of McIntosh. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Moan of McIntosh, uncle and aunt of the bride, served as greeters. At the organ was Miss Orpha Flaten of Minneapolis, a friend of the bride. She presented a program of nuptial selections as the guests were ushered in by Wayne Holte, of Grygla, cousin of the groom, and Patty Erickson of Roseau, a friend of the bride.

For the processional, Miss Flaten played, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," and "The Bridal Chorus." The recessional was "The Wedding March."

Miss Flaten also provided the accompaniment for Rev. and Mrs. Molstre as they sang "O Lord Most Holy" and for Mrs. Jim Carpenter of Sioux City, Ia., a cousin of the bride, as she sang, "Thanks Be To Thee," and "I'll Walk With God." As the couple knelt at the altar, the bride's cousin, Linda Moan sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor-length gown fashioned of white organza over taffeta. The fitted high-rise bodice, styled with mandarin collar, was paneled in front and back with Venice lace. A wide cuff of matching lace highlighted the bouffant bishop sleeves. The smooth skirt which fell into a full flare with a cathedral train was encircled at the hemline by corresponding Venice lace trim. To complement her gown, she wore a Juliet headpiece which secured her three-tiered fingertip veil edged with the same lace that trimmed her gown. Her marriage cross necklace was a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade arrangement of lavender and white carnations accented with babies' breath and ferns.

The bride's personal attendants were Lori Hamaan of Kalispell, Mont., and Vonnie Kyllo of Zumbrota, friends of the bride.

Serving as other attendants were Darlene Grothe, sister of the bride, Marla Yonke, sister of the groom, Terry Haack and Marilee Mortrud, friends of the bride. Their gowns were of two-tone lavender and green floral print fashioned like the maid of honor's. To complement their gowns, they wore white picture hats trimmed with matching fabric. All the attendants carried a single long-stemmed white chrysanthemum with green ribbon accents. Their necklaces were gifts from the bride.

Wearing light lavender polyester crepe gowns with deep lavender ribbon and lace around the waist, neckline and cuffs were the flower girls, Teresa and Michelle Pedersen of Oslo, twin cousins of the bride.

Best man was Daniel Haack of Grygla, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Timothy Holte and Jody Holte, brothers of the groom, David Grothe, brother of the bride, and Chester Yonke of this city, a brother-in-law of the groom. The groom wore a black tuxedo white shirt and lavender boutonniere. His attendants wore lavender shirts and white boutonnieres with their black tuxedos.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore identically styled gowns of double knit in pink and green respectively. Their gowns were styled with stand-up collars, fitted bodices, floor-length gathered skirts and straight sleeves.

Honor guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Clary Eliason of Minneapolis and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grothe of Hendrum, grandparents of the bride. Unable to attend was the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Hahn of Karlstad.

Bellerud And Olson Vows Exchanged Here August 2

Miss Pamela Jayne Bellerud and Charles E. Olson of Grand Forks, N.D., and formerly of this city, exchanged marriage vows on Saturday, August 2, at 2 p.m., at the Evangelical Free church in Thief River Falls.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Al Bellerud of this city. The groom is the son of Mrs. Clara Olson, also of this city, and the late Clarence Olson.

Rev. Ivan Carlson officiated at the double ring ceremony witnessed by approximately 200 relatives and friends. At the organ was Mrs. Ivan Carlson, who played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Debbie Trontvet as she sang, "Wedding Song," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Colour My World."

Forming the background for the wedding party were lighted candelabra graced with sprays of blue and white carnations and greenery. Single candelabra with corresponding floral arrangements marked the first four pews reserved for the immediate families.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was attired in a floor-length A-line gown of nylon crystal featuring a skirt with a pick-up front that swept back into a chapel-length train with a flounced hem. Venice lace trimmed the skirt and formed the fitted bodice, styled with a V-neckline, and trimmed the poly crystal shepherdess sleeves. A matching lace bandeau, embroidered with pearls, held her fingertip veil edged with coordinating lace. A poof face veil completed her headpiece. Her jewelry was the rhinestone necklace which her mother had worn at her wedding, and a gold cross, the bride's gift from the groom. She carried an arrangement of red roses and white carnations on a bride's Bible.

Maid of honor was Jackie Bellerud of Seattle, another cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Sharon and Barbara Eriksson of this city and Karen Hauck of Esterville, Iowa, friends of the bride. All the attendants wore identical gowns of a blue floral sheer over blue taffeta with a matching cape. To complete their attire, they wore white hats, with blue ribbon streamers hanging down the back, and carried bouquets of blue and white carnations accented with baby pink roses.

Wearing similar attire and carrying a basket of miniature red roses was the flower girl, Shari Erickson of this city, a friend of the bride The rings were carried by Mark DeMars of Bathgate, N.D. Like the men of the wedding party, he wore a light blue Redford tuxedo with ruffled shirt, a matching blue tie and a white carnation boutonniere.

Best man was Rick Harbott of this city, a friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Carter Torgerson of Grygla, Sid Brouse of this city, friends of the groom, and John Olson of this city, a brother of the groom. Serving as ushers were Paul Bellerud, brother of the bride, Billy Olson, brother of the groom, and Scott Falk of Elbow Lake, a friend of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bellerud selected a dress of multicolor floral sheer over white, complemented by a corsage of white carnations and pink roses. The mother of the groom was attired in a peach colored dress with a corsage of white carnations and yellow roses.

A reception in the church parlors followed with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Falk and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Timm as hosts and hostesses. Mrs. Dennis Lemke of Grand Forks presided at the guest book as Helen and Marlene Olson, sisters of the groom, served the punch.

Centering the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped by solid blue roses. Between the four large pillars that supported the cake was a bride and groom ornament. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Bernhard Setness and Mrs. Melvin Bellerud, aunts of the bride. Clarice and Linda Olson, sisters of the groom, poured.

Waitresses were Julie Nelson, Donna Brouse, Ginny Reierson and Phyllis Trontvet. The gifts were opened and arranged by Sandra Bellerud, Debbie Olson, Lyn Kjenstad and Paula Beane.

Diane Elizabeth Grothe and Terry Holte Vows Spoken

Miss Diane Elizabeth Grothe and Terry K. Holte were united in marriage recently at a double ring ceremony at Our Saviors Lutheran church in this city. Rev. David Molstre officiated at the evening ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grothe of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Holte of Grygla.

On the altar were arrangements of ferns and lavender and white carnations. Forming the chancel setting were candelabra with dark and light lavender bows.

At the organ was Miss Orpha Flaten of Minneapolis, a friend of the bride. For the processional, Miss Flaten played, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," and "The Bridal Chorus." The recessional was "The Wedding March."

Miss Flaten also provided the accompaniment for Rev. and Mrs. Molstre as they sang "O Lord Most Holy" and for Mrs. Jim Carpenter of Sioux City, Ia., a cousin of the bride, as she sang, "Thanks Be To Thee," and "I'll Walk With God." As the couple knelt at the altar, the bride's cousin, Linda Moan sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor-length gown fashioned of white organza over taffeta. The fitted high-rise bodice, styled with mandarin collar, was paneled in front and back with Venice lace. A wide cuff of matching lace highlighted the bouffant bishop sleeves. The smooth skirt which fell into a full flare with a cathedral train was encircled at the hemline by corresponding Venice lace trim. To complement her gown, she wore a Juliet headpiece which secured her three-tiered fingertip veil edged with the same lace that trimmed her gown. Her marriage cross necklace was a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade arrangement of lavender and white carnations accented with babies' breath and ferns.

The bride's personal attendants were Lori Hamaan of Kalispell, Mont., and Vonnie Kyllo of Zumbrota, friends of the bride.

Serving as other attendants were Darlene Grothe, sister of the bride, Marla Yonke, sister of the groom, Terry Haack and Marilee Mortrud, friends of the bride. Their gowns were of two-tone lavender and green floral print fashioned like the maid of honor's. To complement their gowns, they wore white picture hats trimmed with matching fabric. All the attendants carried a single long-stemmed white chrysanthemum with green ribbon accents. Their necklaces were gifts from the bride.

Financing for the project was arranged through First Federal Savings and Loan association of Thief River Falls with real estate loans insured by the Farmers Home administration and the Area Redevelopment administration. Northern State bank is financing furniture and fixtures, Melander said.

He added that he has been in contact with a number of local organizations and individuals who have expressed a need for convention and meeting type facilities. It will be the aim of the new facility to attract these events and properly provide the services needed.

Melander also expressed the expectation that the new Best Western motel would aid other local motels by stimulating their weekend business and permitting events to be held here which were not previously possible because of lack of facilities.

County Elects To Pursue Local Landfill Plan

county could divide its yearly sanitary operations budget in half compared to the cost of participating in the multi-county project, which involves transporting of solid waste to a site at Gentilly. However several new problems have been created by the board's decision.

One is finding an acceptable site. Although there are several locations in the county which could be used as a landfill site, past experience has demonstrated that residents in the area of a proposed dump often object strongly to having a site located in their vicinity. Residents in Marshall county's New Solum township, the site of the present Pennington county landfill, have vehemently opposed continued dumping there. Thus, the county intends to exercise caution in its negotiations for a new site.

Another problem is financing construction of a landfill. A solid waste systems designed study prepared for the Northwest Regional Development commission estimated that funding construction of the project would require a capital outlay of about $168,531. In the board's second resolution, it stated the outlay is "of such magnitude that it will be an unconscionable tax burden upon the taxpayers of Pennington county." The resolution directed that an application for grant funds be submitted to the Northwest Regional Development commission, which will then explore the possibility of obtaining a grant from the appropriate potential sources.

The Thief River Falls city council, in a meeting the same day, passed a resolution which approved the county's action and went one step further. The council voted to petition the Marshall county board of commissioners for approval to continue using the New Solum dump site until the Pennington county landfill is operational.

In other matters, the board set September 9, its next regular meeting day, as the date to receive bids on blacktopping of Pennington avenue (airport road) from the city limits at the south end of the industrial park for a distance of 5.9 miles south. Grading of this area will soon be completed. Grading and blacktopping contracts for the city portion of the airport road project will be awarded separately at a later date due to a delay in the receipt of state highway funds by the city.

Plummer School Milk And Lunch Program Noted

Plummer public schools have announced 1975-76 policy for free meals and free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the national school lunch and special milk programs. School officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family Size	Income
Each additional family member	750

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals and free milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in the Plummer school. Information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, Supt. Edward L. Arntson will review applications and determine eligibility.

Spray Counties For Prevention Of Encephalitis

Mosquito spraying continues in Red River Valley counties under the threat of a western equine encephalitis outbreak, state health commissioner Dr. Warren R. Lawson said recently. The spraying is limited to cities, towns and wherever else there are gatherings of people.

Minnesota counties under greatest threat (Wilkin, Clay, Norman, Polk, Marshall, Pennington, Kittson, Roseau and part of Becker) have already been sprayed or fogged by ground crews from two to five times. Spraying was done by aircraft in the same counties approximately twice last week using the insecticide malathion.

Malathion, according to health officials, will kill adult mosquitoes but is not dangerous to people, pets and birds. It is dangerous to bees, however; persons who raise bees for crop pollination or honey should contact their county agent for precautionary measures.

The earlier spraying and fogging operations were conducted by the metropolitan mosquito control district ground crews which have since returned to the Twin Cities area to fulfill spraying schedules there. The air spraying was most recently done by the federal center for disease control (CDC).

If federal funds are approved, CDC will also begin spraying operations in seven additional counties: Red Lake, Clearwater, Mahnomen, Otter Tail, Grant, Douglas, and the portion of Becker not already covered. (MMCD ground crews have already done some spraying in Grant, Douglas and West Otter Tail counties.)

Western equine encephalitis is spread from wild birds to humans and horses by the Culex tarsalis mosquito which comes out to feed about a half-hour after sunset. Health officials therefore urge Red River Valley residents—especially those in areas not sprayed—to remain indoors after sunset, if possible, or to wear protective clothing and use mosquito repellants.

Seven human cases, described by health officials as "highly suspect," have been detected in the area so far, three of them in Minnesota. Approximately 150 suspected horse cases, half of them in Minnesota, have been detected. Dr. F. W. Hazard, local veterinarian, has treated at least four cases recently in the immediate Thief River Falls area.

Signs and symptoms of western equine encephalitis vary in individuals of different ages. In infants under one year of age, high fever and convulsions are among the most common symptoms. In children between five and 14, headache, fever and drowsiness are common early symptoms. In adults, initial symptoms commonly include fairly abrupt onset of fever, nausea and vomiting and severe headache. Mental confusion and other neurologic symptoms can occur. Although most persons who develop the illness recover completely, approximately two to three per cent of those with laboratory-confirmed cases die.

At greatest risk from encephalitis are infants, who are more likely to develop serious complications such as brain damage, and the elderly. Pregnant women should also take special precautions to avoid getting bitten by mosquitoes. Individuals with symptoms suggestive of the illness should see their personal doctor.

In horses signs of the disease include general apathy, loss of appetite and coordination, circling gait or a persistent lying position. Suspected cases in horses should be evaluated by veterinarians.

Suspected cases in both humans and horses should be reported to local health officers and to the Minnesota department of health.

New students and their parents are invited to a convocation introducing them to the university at 2 p.m. Thursday, to start off orientation week, Miss Elsinga said. Later that day parents are invited to a reception with UND president Thomas J. Clifford, and other faculty and administrative personnel. An outdoor picnic will be held that evening for students and parents.

St. John Ladies Guests At LCMS Women's Meet

The 576 voting delegates to the 16th biennial convention of the Lutheran Women's Missionary league, women's affiliate of the Lutheran church-Missouri synod, have adopted a $550,000 mission goal for the next two years.

Luella Fuller and Alice Patten of St. John Lutheran church in Thief River Falls were guests at the LWML convention.

Meeting in St. Paul's civic center, the LWML convention was held July 21-24. Several sessions, including the opening communion service were attended by over 10,000 guests and visitors in addition to the voting delegates. Delegates came from all 50 states, Canada and several other foreign countries.

Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, speaker on the International Lutheran Hour, was Bible study leader. Mrs. Ruth Youngdahl Nelson, author and Lutheran pastor's wife named Mother of the Year in 1973, was also a featured speaker.

Projects adopted included: $57,000 to provide five mission sites in South Carolina and help the outreach of a predominantly black parish in Columbia, S.C.; $57,000 to improve medical facilities in India; $57,000 to the Philippines for Christian training of lay evangelists and providing job training and vocational counseling; $50,000 for Lutheran chapels in 12 cities of Nigeria; $50,000 for Good News For New Readers literacy-Scripture program; $50,000 for worship center and clinic in Mexico; $45,000 for producing Braille Bible materials in English and 21 other languages; plus inner-city projects in Chicago, and multiracial, tri-lingual ministry in Long Island, N.Y.

Theme of the convention was "Saints Arise—To Be Renewed and Rejoicing". Convention offerings were designated, with $4,800 going to world hunger and $6,700 for other mission projects.

Armed Robbery Reported By City's Police Dep't.

Armed robbery, other thefts, break-ins and vandalism were preponderant among the incidents reported to the Thief River Falls police department within the last two weeks.

Alexander Logie of Winnipeg, Manitoba reported August 3 that he had been robbed of $100 to $175. Later, Sheryl Hagen, 20, of the city was apprehended and charged with armed robbery.

On July 29, a break-in at A & W drive-in was reported. Approximately $129 in cash was taken and damage to a window broken to gain entry was $20. The entry was made between 2 and 6 a.m. On the same day John Newland of the city said that one of the Schmidt beer trucks on Pennington avenue south was entered and 23 cases and two 12 packs of beer were taken. At 4:45 a.m. August 1, a patroling officer saw a man jump out of the back door of a trailer on display at the fairgrounds. William Smith, 30, of Tulsa, Okla. admitted taking sheets and a bedspread from the trailer. Later the same day, Bruce Ashby of Montgomery, Tex. reported a ring missing from his van display case by the arena at the fairgrounds. Value of the loss was set at $650.

On August 3, Mike Fitzgerald of the city reported vandalism on his car while it was parked at Fifth street and State avenue between 1 and 5 p.m. Scratches were on the rear fender, the rearview mirror was broken off at the door and a dent was made in the front fender, totaling a $140 loss.

Clark station reported a burglary August 4. Taken during the night break-in were 12 packs of cigarettes, currency and 26.5 gallons of gas.

In one of two accidents reported August 4, William Steele of Goodridge was traveling east on the 100 block of Eighth street in a truck owned by the Pennington county highway department at 11:45 a.m. when Jeffrey Mongoven of the city, age 12, lost control of his bicycle and ran into a trailer the truck was pulling. Joppru Back In The WFL

Sheldon Joppru, former Lincoln high school athletic star, is once again playing professional football.

A 1969 Lincoln graduate when he was named all-state in both football and basketball, Joppru is currently a member of the Shreveport Steamer team in the World Football League (WFL).

A year ago Joppru began a professional football career with the now defunct Detroit Wheels, also of the WFL. Sheldon, who earned all-conference honors as a tight end at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, started the first five games of the season for the Wheels before suffering a knee injury.

The Wheels didn't activate him after he recovered and Joppru said he felt that the reason was because he had a bonus clause in his contract which hinged on his starting six games.

He tried to catch on with the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League after leaving the Wheels, but failed to pass the Vikings' physical examination.

Joppru had an operation performed on his right knee in the Twin Cities over the winter and was intent on playing football again this year.

He came back to the WFL, going with the Louisiana ball club.

A receiver as a split end or tight end during his entire football career, Joppru has made a big change this year in becoming an interior lineman with the Steamer. The 6-4, 235-pounder has played both at offensive guard and center in Shreveport's first five ball games.

"I don't miss tight end that much," Joppru told Shreveport sports writer Gerry Robichaux recently. "I had always had it in my mind that I'd like to try it in the interior line," said Joppru. "I think I cam become a good interior lineman."

Joppru came to the Steamer as a tight end, but when he came into the equipment room during pre-season drills he didn't see his name on the roster at tight end or any of the other receiving spots. "I thought that meant the door for me," he said. But he was told to report to offensive line coach Bill Muir.

"He (Muir) explained there might be some of us who have to play two positions," said Joppru. "He helped me along and hasn't rushed me."

Joppru's versatility may help him stick with the Steamer. WFL squads carry only 32 active players and an athlete who can play more than one position stands a good chance of being kept on the squad.

Another skill he developed while playing at North Dakota has enhanced Joppru's chance to stay in the WFL: he's an outstanding deep snapper for punts and place kicks.

"I did some punting my freshman year in college," explained the one-time Prowler star. "It's something I picked up fooling around while I practiced with the other punters. I did all of our (UND) snapping for three years."

The biggest problem facing Joppru right now is getting used to pass blocking and picking up stunts by the defense and generally adapting to the inside, reported Robichaux.

"It doesn't matter," Joppru said of the switch from tight end to guard. "I'll play wherever I can help the team. I just want to make the ball club. Playing in the line gives you a feeling of what the other guys in the offense are doing and it makes you feel that they're the guys who are doing the job when you move the football."

Joppru said he became disillusioned with professional football last year while associated with the Wheels who failed to finish the inaugural WFL campaign. During his short stay with the Vikings Joppru found that he liked the coaching staff, but did not like the system.

However, he still felt he wanted to play football again this year and is well on the way to making a name for himself down south.

LINCOLN HIGH school head football coach Jim Sims began his tenth year at the Prowler helm Tuesday with the start of pre-season conditioning drills for his newest ball club. Sims showed a variety of expressions as he worked his squad through its morning work-out.

Sims-coached Prowler football teams have posted an accumulative 50-22-1 won-lost-tied record over ten years, claiming five Northwest Conference championships. The 1975 Prowler season will open Fri., Aug. 29, at Grand Forks Red River.

Prowler Football Team Members Open 1975 Pre-Season Practice

Five days of pre-season conditioning drills began Tuesday for 65 members of the 1975 Lincoln high school football team.

Veteran head coach Jim Sims began his tenth year at the Prowler helm with a solid nucleus of 19 lettermen among his list of varsity candidates.

The ball club will continue its conditioning drills, conducted without pads, through Saturday before doning full gear Monday. Two weeks of regular practice will precede the 1975 Prowler season opener scheduled to be played Fri., Aug. 29, at Grand Forks Red River.

Thief River Falls is coming off a 5-4 season in 1974. Sims and his familiar coaching staff of Gene Jurgens, John Schmitz, Charlie Cornell and Glen Peters is confident that mark can be improved upon this fall.

"We expect to go out and win," offered Sims as he looked ahead to the 1975 campaign. "Success doesn't come easy, but if we work at it hard, we will win. We've got 19 returning lettermen and that's a good nucleus, a good number to work with."

Biggest concern of the Prowler staff at this time, as it is every year, is finding enough team depth to carry the squad through a rugged schedule, pointed out Sims. "We're as shallow as we've been in several years," mentioned the Prowler coach. "We just don't have the numbers."

On the positive side, however, are the lettermen, headed by a handfull of returning starters.

The Prowler offensive backfield will feature the return of senior quarterback Jeff Lindquist, the team's captain who started two games at the position a year ago when he also played tight end. "He (Lindquist) should be a top notch running quarterback," pointed out Sims who once again will employ the ground-orientated wishbone attack.

Seniors Bryan Olson and Mike Jury and sophomore Doug Dallmann also return to the Prowler backfield after seeing starting duty in 1974, either on steady or part-time basis. Junior Jay Kverno and senior Kent Ehrenstrom are also eyeing starting status as runningbacks after playing elsewhere last year. Kverno lettered as a quarterback last fall and Ehrenstrom earned a monogram as a lineman.

"We look for some healthy competition for the backfield spots," said Sims.

Up front the Prowlers are short on experience. Only senior Chris Biegner, a center, returns from regular starting duty a year ago. Senior tackle Terry Sullivan started some games and altered as a play-carrying guard.

"We have to find our seven best football players and put them up front," explained Sims as he searched for offensive linemen.

Seven players who saw starting duty last year will return on defense, possibly making the defense unit the strongest part of the squad.

Players who return after starting at least some games on defense in 1974 include Biegner at nose guard, junior Murray Semanko at an end, Lindquist at safety, senior Mike Kosel who played linebacker a year ago but who will be an end this fall, Ehrenstrom who will be switched from tackle to linebacker, senior Duane Gonsorowski who will move from linebacker to safety and Jury at a halfback spot.

Thief River Falls will complement its wishbone offense with a 5-2 or 5-3 defense.

Other lettermen on the squad include ends Mike Burstad, Bob Forberg, Gary Krueger and Brian Peterson; tackles Arlie Engelman and Sheldon Idso; and guard Matt Overby.

The 1975 Prowler schedule includes nonconference games against Grand Forks Red River, Detroit Lakes, St. Cloud Apollo and Breckenridge to start the year. An open date will follow the Breckenridge game before the Prowlers' Northwest Conference campaign opens with Bemidji, Fergus Falls, East Grand Forks and Crookston.

Despite a pennant-winning regular season, the Raiders surprised most observers by losing five games. A year ago the Raiders were unbeaten in regular season league play.

Jack Petrillo, a Raider spokesman, srugged off the losses. "We lost four out of our last six games when they didn't mean anything because we had it (pennant) clinched already."

Petrillo doesn't think the Raiders will have any trouble turning things around in playoff competition. "We always seem to come up with the big plays or games when we need them," he said.

Catcher Denny Dinius led the Raiders in hitting during the year with a .623 batting average. Outfielder Jim Rogalla sported a .500 average and first baseman Bill Dicken connected for 13 home runs.

Despite the offensive power, Petrillo is quick to point to the team's defense as its strongest suit. "Competition has really improved in league play this year," mentioned Petrillo. "The pitching and defense has improved throughout the league so we don't have the fat batting averages like we had last year. But our defense has been solid."

Northland Electronics surprised the entire league, including itself, with its state tournament trip. The ball club had lost seven games just halfway through the year and as team manager Joel Carlson said, "had pretty much chalked it (the season) up to experience."

However, Northland Electronics finished the season with a bang, a bang that was aided considerably by losses suffered by Hamms-Pizza Hut and Solheim Furniture teams apparently intent on a second place deadlock until they lost and Northland Electronics won.

First baseman Dennis Bakke supplies much of the Northland Electronics offensive punch with a .630 batting average and five home runs. Third baseman Tim Erickson batted .510 for the year and centerfielder Tim Olson was at .507.

However, like the Raiders, Northland Electronics' defense is the team's strong point. "We've always been confident in our defense," voiced Carlson, "and we've hit at times, too."

The two state tournament-bound teams has slightly different mental approaches to the upcoming state meet appearances.

"We hope to play good ball," said Carlson whose team is appearing in its first state tournament. "We'll rely on our defense, and if we can hit the ball we'll do alright."

The Raiders, playing in their second straight state tournament, "hope to win two or three games at least," said Petrillo. "We made a respectable showing last year (winning one and losing one), this year we expect to win some more games."

Arctic Cat, Pepsi-Cola Compete At State Level

Thief River Falls men's fast pitch softball league division winners Arctic Cat and Pepsi-Cola took part in state tournament play over the weekend at Owatonna.

Arctic Cat, regular season East Division champion here, took part in the Class A state tournament. West Division pennant winner Pepsi-Cola participated in the recreation state tournament.

Although neither Thief River Falls state entry brought back trophy hardware, managers of both ball clubs compared their teams favorably to the best squads in both tournaments.

Arctic Cat had a busy time of it in the Class A event, playing five games in two days before finally bowing out of the double elimination tournament.

Arctic Cat lost a heartbreaking 2-1 first round decision when a lead-off walk and an ensuing home run in the bottom of the seventh inning erased a 1-0 Arctic Cat lead and gave Hollywood North of Minneapolis a 2-1 win.

Playing in the loser's bracket after the key first game loss, Arctic Cat nipped Silver Lake, state champion two years ago, 6-4 when Ron Ostby came through with a two-run single with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning.

Playing again Sunday, Arctic Cat beat Glencoe 10-6 and St. Charles 7-3 before losing to Mankato Odin 10-8 when a late Arctic Cat rally fell short.

"I feel we're as good a team as any others down there," offered Arctic Cat manager Maynard Moen. "I didn't see any difference between us and the team (Winona) that won it."

Moen cited shortage of pitchers as his team's chief state tournament woe. Tom Neibauer pitched superb ball, Moen pointed out, but was forced to work too often. Al Erickson, a VFW addition, was slated to alternate pitching duties with Neibauer, but a pulled muscle in his side kept him sidelined most of the tournament.

"We just didn't have enough pitchers," said Moen. "Tom pitched well. If Al would have been in top shape we would have done a lot better."

Pepsi got in just a pair of Saturday games before being knocked out of the single elimination recreation state tournament.

Pepsi downed Rockford 6-4 in an opening round game when Mark Drury and Larry Coltom, an addition from Schmidts, both produced a pair of hit to key a 10-hit Pepsi attack that overcame Pepsi five errors. Winning pitcher Howard Dalager scattered seven base hits.

Winona handed Pepsi a crushing 3-2 second round defeat by breaking a 2-2 tie in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Winona scored twice in the first inning before Pepsi gained a 2-2 tie. Pepsi then squandered a pair of scoring chances in the top of the sixth when two base runners were thrown out at the plate trying to score on successive passed balls.

Winona won it in the seventh on a walk, two passed balls and a bad-hop ground ball to third that was ruled an error. Dalager checked Winona on just three base hits. Pepsi picked up four hits and added seven walks, but stranded 10 base runners.

Dalager indicated "tournament jitters" bothered his ball club. "Mental errors had a lot to do with it," said Dalager. "We really didn't play all that well because of our mistakes."

The Pepsi manager was quick to point out, however, that "our team was as capable of winning it as anyone down there." West St. Paul won it.

In Memorian

In loving memory of son and brother who passed away 12 years ago, Aug. 10, 1963.

There's a peace past understanding,
There's a place of quiet rest
Where the heart is perfectly atuned to him that knoweth best
Where from rosy dawn 'til sunset naught disturbs or can deface.
The blessed peace that flows from God within this quiet place.

Sadly missed by mother Hazel Christenson, brothers Odell, DelRay and sisters Doreen, Dalles and Audrey. 1t63c

Card of Thanks

Words cannot express our heartfelt thanks for all the kindness shown us, at the death of our mother. We are deeply grateful for Rev. Law's words of comfort and the Green funeral home who made the final arrangements, to the Ruth circle of the Faith Lutheran church of Goodridge and the Clara circle of the Grace Lutheran church of Grygla that brought in the food and served it after the services. For all the cards and memorials received, it was deeply appreciated.

God's blessings to each and everyone of you.

Volume 64 | Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota | Wednesday, August 13, 1975 | Number 63

ATTENDING A pre-construction conference for the Northwestern hospital medical office building July 30 were: Ken Pelto, engineer with the FmHA in St. Paul; Loren Luschen, Pennington county FmHA superintendent; and Burt Flick and Gordon M. Comb, architects, Bettenburg, Townsent, Stolte and Comb, St. Paul. Various details outside of actual building planning, such as paper flow and street regulations, were discussed at the conference. Construction contracts will be presented to Pelto for approval this week.

Strip Mining Case Settled On Appeal

In a decision that may have a far-reaching effect on strip mining in four North Central plains states, the U.S. circuit court of appeals for the District of Columbia has held that a major federal coal and power development is planned for that area. As a result, the court held, nine federal agencies must consider preparing a comprehensive environmental impact study for the program.

The appelate court decision (June 16) did not order an impact statement, but it kept alive and sent back to U.S. district court a suit brought by the national wildlife federation and the Sierra club charging that the federal government was proceeding with plans in violation of the national environmental policy act (NEPA).

The lower court had earlier dismissed a suit brought by the two conservation organizations. The wildlife federation and Sierra club contend that government plans for a new coal-based power complex in Montana, Wyoming, North and South Dakota constitute a major federal action and therefore require an impact statement under NEPA.

Forty-eight per cent of all U.S. coal reserves are located in Thiee of the affected states—Wyoming, Montana and North Dakota—according to government estimates. Plans for development of that area gave impetus to congressional passage of the strip mining bill which President Ford successfully vetoed earlier this month.

"We are not against the wise and proper development of the energy resources in the north central states," said Thomas L. Kimball, NWF executive vice president in commenting on the decision. "But we are dead set against turning our last great open spaces into a ravaged wasteland because the government didn't take the time to plan ahead and safeguard the environment.

"This leagal victory represents a finger in the dike against uncontrolled strip mining in the west," he added.

As a result of the decision, the federal agencies involved in the proposed northern great plains resources program must report to the U.S. district court for the District of Columbia "the present posture of their plans for development of the northern great plains and their decision regarding the present need for an (environmental) impact statement."

The appeals court will continue a temporary injunction against any coal and power development in the north central states until a decision is reached on the need for an environmental impact statement and the two environmental groups have an opportunity to respond to the government's decision.

In commenting on the proposed federal plans, Judge J. Skelly Wright said for the court: "While federal officials are entitled to dream out loud without filing an impact statement, a statement is required when a proposal moves beyond the 'dream' stage into some tangible form of ripeness. The standard of ripeness in low because the statement should be prepared before irretrievable commitments are made or options precluded by agency action."

The national wildlife federation and the Sierra club brought their suit on June 13, 1973, when the government initiated its northern great plains resources program without undertaking a comprehensive environmental review of the consequences of the project, which would lead to the strip mining of more than 900 square miles of land, diversion of entire river flows and construction of more than 40 giant coal-fired power plants.

The two environmental groups maintained that by carrying out the program on a piecemeal, permit by permit basis, with no overall development plan, the federal agencies were circumventing the requirements of NEPA.

The government defendants argued that because they had no comprehensive development plan their actions were not subject to the comprehensive environmental review called for by NWF, Sierra and a number of other conservation organizations. The government's position was that each separate action by individual agencies would have to be reviewed for its own potential impact.

Studies undertaken by private industry and the government indicated that the project in its entirety would require thousands of miles of transmission lines and hundreds of miles of new railroads.

In addition to the potential environmental problems, NWF and the Sierra club also expressed concern over the possible economic and social effects created by the program, including a projected rapid ten-fold increase in population with its accompanying new cities on the presently sparsely populated rural society.

The appellate court's three-judge panel ruled two to one in favor of NWF and Sierra, with Chief Judge David L. Bazelon joining Judge Wright and Judge George E. MacKinnon dissenting.

Older Americans To Meet In New Orleans In Sept.

Several thousand older Americans from the midwest and southwest are expected to attend a major regional conference sponsored by the American association of retired persons and national retired teachers association September 17-19 at the New Orleans Marriot hotel.

The three-day conference, entitled "America: Coming of Age", will feature addresses by former U.S. Senator Sam Ervin, Time magazine Washington bureau chief Hugh Sidney, and former Arkansas congressman Brooks Hays. Governor David Pryor of Arkansas will address a major session devoted to current legislative actions affecting the nation's 22 million older citizens.

In addition, a series of special interest workshops will be conducted throughout the meeting on issues such as social security and medicare, crime prevention, health education, community service, consumer affairs and political involvement.

Conference registration will begin at 9 a.m., Wednesday Sept. 17. No registration fee will be charged, and the meeting will be open to all interested older persons.

The New Orleans regional meeting is one of four being sponsored this year by the associations. Older persons from Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin will attend the conference. Charter bus trips are being offered by a number of local AARP chapters throughout the region.

Plan Step-Up In Tree Disease Control Program

New assessments of generally increasing shade tree destruction and the insect factors in Dutch elm and oak wilt diseases have promoted a call by the Minnesota department of agriculture for a step-up in municipal tree disease control programs.

"Swift diagnosis, removal and disposal of diseased trees now is urgent on a full-time basis," advises John Berends, state shade tree disease control program supervisor.

He said that new research data indicates that bark beetles may be spreading Dutch elm disease during the entire growing season, and not, as previously believed, just in limited periods of beetle activity.

"We're fighting at least four overlapping generations, two each of European and native bark beetles, the primary vectors of Dutch elm disease. Right now the second generation native beetles are emerging as the first generation European beetles are chewing into the elm trees to lay eggs for the next hatch. The native beetles will continue emerging through August and will be closely followed, probably well into September by the European beetle second hatch.

"This means we can no longer be casual about tree removal and disposal as we have been in the past after early July. Diseased and dead trees must be cut and destroyed within the 20-day legal time limit until at least September 10. Every diseased and dead elm is a hatchery for a new bark beetle crop," Berends warned.

He said reports through July 16 reflect sharp increases in both shade tree diseases in most of the 7-county metropolitan area, with a number of serious trouble spots developing, particularly in the heavily forested areas of north Hennepin and along the Minnesota, Mississippi, St. Croix and Crow rivers.

Berends said that Dutch elm now is spreading rapidly on both sides of the previously low disease rate area of the Minnesota river valley between Shakopee and LeSueur.

The state shade tree disease control laboratory is currently receiving about 200 elm and oak samples daily and the total received through July 16 was a record 3,580 or nearly 1,000 ahead of last year. Of the samples on which the processing has been completed, the laboratory has confirmed 1,771 new cases of Dutch elm disease and 119 cases of oak wilt.

Municipalities also were advised that tree removal performance reports on this season's shade tree disease control program must be filed immediately after July 31. Performance reports will be an important requirement in the new $1.5 million grants-in-aid program provided by the 1975 Legislature.

Implementation of the new state cost-sharing program on shade tree disease control is expected to start by mid-August, after proposed rules and regulations now pending are legally adopted.

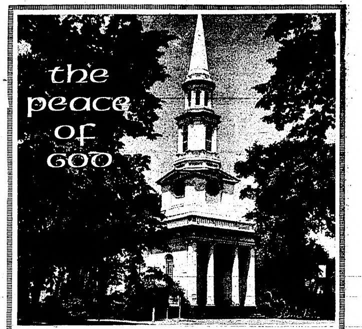
It Pays To Shop At Home



It isn't easy to explain how the Church can help you find strength and comfort. You can't prove it by mathematical equations, but once you experience it, you have no doubts. And, having felt it, you want to share this deep, abiding peace with others.

No matter how stormy it is outside, in the Church you can find peace. Isn't it wonderful to know that you can take all your cares and worries to God and feel His peace and quiet? Then, having found this peace, you can carry it with you wherever you go. Through the Church you can help others find it.

Peace — God's peace — the Church — God's Church. Are you acquainted with them?

Drinking Myths

National highway traffic safety administration of the U.S. Department of Transportation has recently issued a news media guide called "The Alcohol Crash Story". One section of the booklet deals with drinking myths and is educational and interesting reading for the drinker and non-drinker alike. Here's what the booklet says:

So why take the time and space to set the facts straight about misconceptions conerning drinking? Consider this:

If a guy thinks it's okay to smash down eight or 10 beers every night because "it's only beer," he could develop a serious drinking problem without even knowing it. Or he could head his automobile straight for a telephone pole because he was drunk out of his mind on a "few beers".

The more people know about drinking, the better they can handle it. Here's a compilation of fabled drinking myths along with the straight scoop:

"It's only beer."

That's right. Just like it's only bourbon, vodko or gin. One beer (12 oz.) or a glass of wine has about the same alcohol content as an average (1½-oz.) highball.

Make that one for the road coffee.

Go ahead. But it really does nothing to sober up an intoxicated person. Cold showers and exercise don't work either. Only time gets alcohol out of the system.

To destroy more myths, check out the sources listed at the end of this booklet.

And how about this line—"Ya gotta hand it to ol' Fred. He can really hold his liquor."

Often the guy who can hold so much is really developing a tolerance to alcohol. And tolerance could really just be another word for need.

Another line Fred might use: "I drive better after a few drinks."

But research shows that even professional drivers' abilities diminish sharply at levels over .05 per cent which is really just several drinks for the average person. Judgment is also affected. So Fred thinks he's driving better than ever when he's really driving worse.

Alcohol is a stimulant.

It's about as good a stimulant as a hit on the head with a hammer. Alcohol acts as a depressant on the central nervous system.

Drinking is a sexual stimulant.

Whoops, the more you drink the less your sexual capacity. Alcohol stimulates interest in sex, but it interferes with your ability to perform. Just ask Fred's wife.

Getting drunk is funny.

Charlie Chaplin made it seem so, didn't he? But in real life, drunkenness is no laughing matter. No more than any other illness of incapacity.

People are friendlier when they're drunk.

Could be. But they're also more hostile, dangerous, criminal, homicidal and suicidal. Many murders are related to alcohol and the same for suicides.

If Santa Were Business

Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce newsletter recently carried an item which illustrates some of the problems which American business face today. The article follows:

According to Congressman Steven Symms of Idaho, these things could happen to Santa:

Santa would find he has been flying a sleigh in the absence of certification by the CAB, a clear violation of the Civil Aeronatics Act of 1938; he is unlawfully competing with the U.S. Postal service on air mail deliveries; he is violating EPA requirements for emissions control devices on his reindeer; he is in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act by maintaining a strict monopoly in his profession; he is engaged in unfair promotional activities designed to prey on the defenseless minds of children, a violation of Federal Trade Commission regulations; he is in violation of numerous OSHA regulations by operating an "unsafe" work place; he is transporting firearms across state lines as Christmas presents; he is avoiding state and federal taxes on his sleigh, not to mention various infractions on lack of licenses, registration and operating permits; he is making various infractions of National Labor Relations Board regulations including the maintenance of a non-union shop and is unfairly competing with chimney sweeps; he is ignoring the edicts of the Equal Employment Opportunity Act and the Civil Rights act of 1964 by failing to institute quota systems in his workshop based on race, religion, sex and size and has too many elves.

Federal regulations would wipe out Santa Claus. But certainly there would be public uproar in his defense.

The above example of what could happen to Santa Claus, points out what is currently happening to business and the American free enterprise system in this country. Obviously this is not the season for Santa Claus. However, there is no season for government regulations and business.

The point is that someone has to come to the defense of business and industry and the free enterprise system, the mechanism that provided jobs and taxes to run our governments. Free Enterprise is the goose that has provided the golden egg and government regulations keep pounding away and driving business into the ground with new regulations, new red tape and new taxes.

With unemployment as it is today, and the strangle hold government has on business, the majority of our elected officials still can't understand why business can't afford to stay in business.

In fact, people in business should be congratulated on just keeping up with the surmounting obstacles placed before them by government. It takes a special kind of guts and determination to start or stay in business today.

To each of you, regardless of size of business, we say thank you and congratulations.

We've Come A Long Way

Following comments were written by Robert Graham, manager of the PKM Electric cooperative at Warren, in a recent issue of the "PKM News":

At the founding of our republic there were 31,000 males twenty-one years or older in the State of New York—but only 1,200 were eligible to vote. Even these few could not vote for the presidency since the president then was elected by the state legislatures.

During those days the immortal phrase that "all men are created equal . . ." meant everyone except women, blacks, Indians, and white males with insufficient property to be eligible for the vote.

This is not to say that the founding fathers were hypocrites. By definition hypocrisy is a term reserved for those who pretend good while doing less. Rather, they were wise men chained by their times.

All they could do is point the way for future generations, to set our feet on the proper path. And it is because of this that their names are hallowed and their words remembered down to the present day.

The way from then to now has been slow, but it has been ever upward towards fulfillment of those golden words of justice. And the progress has been particularly rapid in our own time.

Beset on every hand as we are with problems, it is easy to forget the good in our society, to forget that every generation in concentrating on its own thin slice of time, has regarded theirs as the worst of all possible times.

Sometimes it is good to pause and reflect, to see where we were and where we are. In so doing we are amazed to find that we have come a long way, and that we of the present have contributed much to make the words of Thomas Jefferson a reality.

No Time To Strike

Following editorial is from the Fairfax Standard:

There are times when current events really make one wonder. Just about everyone tells us things are tough. Depending upon with whom you talk, we are either in an acute recession or a real depression. Unemployment is at its highest level since the era right after the end of the Second World War.

How come, if things are as tough as we are led to believe, if unemployment is way up, is there a strike by construction workers? If these workers are forced to work extremely long hours under poor conditions—or if they were being forced to work for sub-standard wages—a strike might be justified. Nothing has been said about working conditions, however. as the union seeks to gain higher wages. From what we read these workers are already getting around $9.00 an hour and the employers have offered increases. But the union wants more—an increase of better than $1.00 an hour!

It is all well and good for labor to get fair wages. We all want the working man to be treated fairly. It would seem, however, that striking in times of high unemployment is neither wise nor justified. Perhaps the time has come when workers should be asked if they want to work or not. If they do not, then these jobs could be offered to the vast army of unemployed seeking jobs.

Wendell R. Anderson

Recently I had the pleasure of announcing an exciting energy project that holds the promise of reducing Minnesota's dependence on out-of-state and foreign sources of energy.

Minnegasco has asked the state for 25-year leases on approximately 200,000 acres of peat in northwestern Minnesota in an area close to Red Lake. If the leases are granted, the company plans to build a demonstration plant to convert peat into natural gas. Minnegasco's hope—and mine as well — is that peat has great potential as an alternative source of energy.

Estimates made by Minnegasco indicate that one full-scale peat gasification plant would produce about 250 million cubic feet of synthetic natural gas each day or one fourth of all the natural gas used in Minnesota during 1974. That amount of energy is equal to all the electricity used in Minnesota in 1974. And using existing coal gasification plants as models, each full scale peat gasification plant could employ as many as 1,000 people.

Preliminary studies and research have already been done by the Institute of Gas Technology in Chicago, and by experts such as Dr. Rouse S. Farnham of the University of Minnesota and A. M. Roder, Assistant Vice President for Research at Minnegasco. However, there are major questions yet to be answered.

The environmental impact of the proposed operation will have to be studied carefully to assure that the environment is not damaged. However, the experience in other countries is encouraging. Harvested peatland can be left to renew itself or converted to alternative uses such as timber or agriculture.

There are also major uncertainties about the economic feasibility of converting peat into natural gas. The proposed demonstration is intended to test whether the gas can be produced and marketed at a price that is competitive with alternatives such as oil.

We have more than half the peat resources in America. And at a time when our major oil supplier, Canada, is ready to cut off our supply, and when we are more dependent as a nation on foreign oil than we were two years ago, this new potential source of energy could be of critical importance in helping Minnesota become partly self-sufficient in energy.

The Time Has Come To Select The Twenty-Second Princess Kay Of The Milky Way

The public is invited to attend the Coronation Ceremonies on Wednesday, August 20, 1975, at 8:30 P.M., held at the Band Shell in Administration Park on the Minnesota State Fairgrounds.

Reigning Princess Kay of the Milky Way XXI, Julie Tossmer of Rogers, Minnesota, will assist in the Coronation.

More than 1,000 dairy farm girls have competed in local, county and regional dairy princess competition. These eleven Regional Dairy Princesses were selected to compete for the title of Princess Kay of the Milky Way XXII.

Princess Kay represents the dairy farmers and the 661 million dollar dairy industry of Minnesota as the First Lady of the Dairy Industry. She not only reminds dairy farmers of the importance of their responsibility in promoting the sale of their milk, but also reminds consumers of the nutritional importance of including milk and all dairy foods in their families' diets.

The Princess Kay of the Milky Way program is sponsored by the American Dairy Association of Minnesota.

TWO ENTRANCES for patient service are now available to the public with the former main entrance inaccessible due to the construction program for the new medical office building. The main entrance on the north end of the hospital (top photo) on First street will be used for normal hospital business. The entrance is now open 24 hours a day and the complete admitting, discharge and information activities will be moved to the north lobby area. The emergency entrance (bottom photo) at the south end of the hospital will continue to be used under emergency conditions by car or ambulance.

NW Hospital Project Changes Entrances

Former main entrance to Northwestern hospital on LaBree avenue in Thief River Falls has now been closed because site preparation work for the medical office building is underway. The entrance on First street (rehabilitation and day-night units) will be used during the total construction period of approximately 15 months as the main entrance to the hospital for patients who are to be admitted or who come to the hospital for outpatient services. Visitors will also use the north entrance.

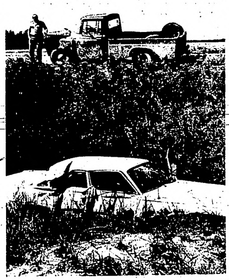
The First street entrance is now open 24 hours a day and the complete admitting, discharge and information activities will be moved to the lobby area of this entry way, according to Norman Peterson, hospital administrator.

The emergency-ambulance driveway at the south end of the building will continue to be used for patients who are brought to the hospital under emergency conditions by car or ambulance. A telephone and television camera are located in the emergency entrance and will provide immediate contact with the information and admitting desk located in the rehab lobby on First street.

The two entrances to the CNC unit will remain in service with the exception of a short period when the street in front of the CNC unit will have to be excavated for the installation of storm sewer and water lines. The doors to the CNC unit are secured at 8 p.m. each day.

The business office will remain in its present location during the construction and can be reached by going through the first street lobby, down the stairs and through the ground floor hallway. All other services of the hospital will continue to function in their present locations.

It is anticipated that there will be some inconveniences for both patients and their visitors during the time the new facilities are being constructed and everything possible will be done to minimize the problems that might arise, Peterson said.



TWO VEHICLE CRASH resulted in extensive damage to both vehicles but three persons involved miraculously escaped serious injury Saturday at about 11 a.m. The accident happened at the uncontrolled intersection of county roads 61 and 35 about eight miles east and two miles south of Thief River Falls. The pickup was driven north on county road 35 by Alec Moe, 36, and collided with the car which was traveling east on county road 61 and driven by Michael Wayne Johnson, 15. Moe's one-year-old son, Lance Earl, was a passenger in the pickup. All were treated and released from Northwestern hospital. Investigation is being conducted by the Pennington county sheriff's department.

Northland Will Open For Fall Quarter Sept. 3

Northland Community college will open its 1975-76 academic year on September 3 with the beginning of fall quarter classes. Expectations indicate an increase in enrollment over a year ago, according to Dennis Bendickson, registrar.

All area students who are planning to attend Northland Community college are encouraged to enroll as soon as possible to avoid scheduling problems which usually arise with last minute registrations. Veterans are especially encouraged to contact the registrars office regarding veterans educational benefits that are available.

Freshmen orientation, under the direction of Ken Wiebolt, dean of students, is scheduled for Tuesday, September 2 beginning at 8:30 a.m. with freshmen registering in the college auditorium. Throughout the orientation day students will be informed of all the various aspects of college life at Northland. Freshmen will culminate the days activities with a picnic and a folk concert in the college patio area beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Northland's fall quarter daytime schedule includes 52 course offerings in: agriculture, art, biology, business, chemistry, computer science, economics, English, geography, health, history, journalism, law enforcement, library, mathematics, music, philosophy, physical education, physics, political science, psychology, public service, science, sociology and theatre.

Announce Fall Student Teachers For TRF Schools

Students to participate in the Bemidji state university student teaching program in Thief River Falls schools during the fall quarter have been announced by director Dr. James Tillman.

Kathie Fournier of Oklee will be student teaching grade one and kindergarten at Northrop elementary school. Teaching at Lincoln senior high school will be Wayne Johaneson of Grygla, industrial arts, and Richard James of Walker, vocal music.

Student teaching is required of all students seeking the bachelor of science degree in education and Minnesota certification for teaching. Students placed in area schools by BSU are supervised by a teacher from that school district, as well as a supervisor from the Division of Education at Bemidji State.

While serving in the school systems, student teachers observe daily classroom techniques and routines, serve on occasion as the teacher of the class, and assist their supervising teacher in preparation and presentation of class materials.

The student teaching experience is usually the culmination of a student's preparation for the teaching profession and is viewed by many students as the most valuable requirements of their teacher-education.

Three studies to provide information needed for important decisions on establishment of a new sugar beet refinery for this area are currently underway, according to Terry Courneya, Pennington county agent and secretary of the Northwest Minnesota sugar beet development association.

The studies are being paid for all or in part by funds contributed by farmers through their membership in the interim corporation, Courneya said. The 330 farmers who registered acreage for beet production paid $100 per farm to provide working capital for the development association.

Studies underway and expected to be completed by mid-September are as follows: A study of the world sugar market by Arthur D. Little company of Cambridge, Mass.; a study of four alternative types of refineries by the Ken R. White company of Denver, Colo.; and a study of transportation costs relative to plant location by the University of Minnesota.

"If after thorough study of these reports the development association finds the long-run sugar market favorable and factory cost estimates within its ability to secure financing and show future profitability, it will proceed with the process of selection of a factory site location," Courneya said.

"The next step anticipated would be formation of a grower cooperative to take over functions of securing suitable financing, contracting for factory construction and issuing ownership shares to growers."

Present timetable aims for completion of construction in time for beet production during the 1978 crop year. This would require formation of the cooperative by January 1 of 1976 and ground-breaking for plant construction next spring.

Courneya said the world sugar market study is being financed jointly by the area beet development association, American Crystal Sugar company at Moorhead, the Minnesota bank for cooperatives and the Appleton sugar beet development association.

Any increase in refinery capacity in the United States would be contingent on favorable world market projections, the local association secretary said. If the market study report is favorable—as early projections indicate it will be—beet producers in the upper Red river basin will be in a position to be competitive for that market since production costs here are lower than in other sugar beet production areas.

Northern Minnesota and Appleton associations are cooperating in the study of variations in traditional sugar beet refineries. These would be variations from the traditional "straight house" type of plant currently in use by the industry and would be aimed toward higher efficiency in sugar extraction or extension of the processing season to a year around operation.

Transportation cost study will have the most important influence on location of the new refinery if the market study indicates the practicality of construction. To make operation economically feasible for the farmers who have registered their intent to grow beets for the plant, it must be located where hauling of beets to the plant can be accomplished at the least cost.

Plant sites presently under consideration are in the St. Hilaire area, Red Lake Falls area and Twin Valley area, Courneya said. The university study will consider variations on location of the plant, and pilers in the outlying areas.

The 330 farmers who have registered their intent to grow beets for the plant represent 60,000 acres in the eight county area including Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk, Norman, Mahnomen and Becker counties.

Courneya said that other factors to be considered in addition to transportation costs are the availability of quality water and soil characteristics which would permit adequate water impoundment for processing. Current beet processing procedures involve a closed system where discharge of water is recycled for plant use rather than released into surface waters of the area. Plant location is expected to require about 1,000

Vickie Lynn Johnson And Lance Mandt Vows Spoken

Immanuel Lutheran church of McIntosh was the scene on July 12 of the wedding of Miss Vickie Lynn Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnson, Jr., of Brooks, and Lance Allan Mandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Mandt of Oklee.

Rev. Earl Schmidt officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by seven-branch candelabra graced with arrangements of pink carnations, yellow and white daisies, and white satin bows. Marcia Radniecki, a friend of the couple, was the organist. She played various nuptial selections as the guests were ushered in by Luane Tasa and Randy Radniecki of Oklee, friends of the couple. She also accompanied Suellen Berry as she sang, "Wedding Song," and Gene Arveson, when he sang, "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar. Approximately 350 guests witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of sheer organza with Venice lace enhancing the tucked bodice and long, full sleeves. Lace marked the ruffled, modified V-neckline, the pick-up front of the skirt, and the double tiers of shirring that encircled the hemline and attached chapel-length train. Her triple-tiered veil of bridal illusion, edged with matching lace, was held by a Camelot headpiece. She carried a bouquet of pink and yellow roses, blue-tinted carnations and white daisies in a mist of babies' breath.

Julie Anderson of McCanna, N.D., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mari Mandt of Oklee, sister of the groom, Janet Brown and Margaret Lambert of Oklee, friends of the couple. They wore identical gowns of a pastel floral print in blue, pink, yellow and green, respectively. The gowns were styled in empire fashion with short puffy sleeves and scooped necklines, complemented by matching necklaces and earrings, gifts from the bride. Their headpieces were wide picture hats with satin ribbon, to match the color of their gowns. Each attendant carried a nosegay of pink and blue carnations with white daisies and babies' breath.

Wearing a similar gown in blue floral print with a matching blue picture hat was the flower girl, Tracy Schnieder of Marshall, Wis., a cousin of the groom. She carried a basket of pink and blue carnations with babies' breath. Her gold necklace was a gift from the bride. Carrying the rings was Troy Schneider, also of Marshall, Wis., a cousin of the groom. He wore a black tuxedo with white ruffled shirt and a blue tinted carnation boutonniere.

Kelly Lundeen of Trail attended his cousin as best man. Groomsmen were Randy Robidoux of Brooks, Kim Chervestad of Oklee, friends of the couple, and Jeffry Johnson of Brooks, a brother of the bride. All wore black tuxedos with white ruffled shirts and carnation boutonnieres tinted to match the gowns worn by the bridesmaids.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson selected a pink floor-length gown with matching jacket and pink accessories. Both wore identical corsages of pink roses and white carnations.

Honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Grimm, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnson, grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mandt and Otto Magnell, grandparents of the groom.

The parents of the bride hosted a reception in the church parlors following the ceremony. Centering the reception table was a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with pastel flowers and blue and white wedding bells. Topping the cake were a miniature bride and groom encircled by floral bands. Mrs. Joe Peters of Devils Lake, N.D., aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Dellas Disrud of Fosston, aunt of the groom, cut and served the cake as Mrs. Duane Anderson of McCanna, N.D., and Mrs. Darrow Lundeen of Trail, also aunts of the bride and groom, respectively, poured.

Serving as host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Grimm of Cannon Falls, uncle and aunt of the bride. Mrs. Dean Strom of McIntosh, cousin of the bride, registered the guests as Sheila Vettleson, cousin of the bride, and Leona Good, a friend of the couple, served the punch.

Oakland Events Include Picnic, Ground-Breaking

Monthly birthday party, annual picnic, the ground breaking ceremony and the men's out-door fish fry highlighted the many activities at Oakland Park Nursing home during the month of July.

The monthly birthday party held July 15 at the home was hosted by Circle 3 of the Evangelical Free church with Mrs. Alfred Mehus as program chairman. Mrs. Martin Hanson gave the devotions; and several selections were sung by Mrs. Clyde Christensen and Mrs. Jack Kjellberg with Mrs. Kjellberg serving as pianist. Lunch served by the women of the circle featured decorated cupcakes.

Residents at the home, whose birthdays were observed were Anna Homme, Anton Jensen and Ray Welch. Each received a personal gift from the group.

The Home's annual picnic was held the following day with all but five residents outside for the event. Grilling the hamburgers and wieners were Jim Roche, former administrator, and Vern Aune, caretaker. The dinner was prepared and served by the dietary staff. To add to the festivities, balloons were hung in the trees. The dinner began with Alma Solberg ringing the dinner chimes and giving the table prayer. Mrs. Solberg has resided at the home the greatest length of time.

The majority of the residents also attended the ground breaking ceremony for their new home on July 25th. Honor guests at the event included Alma Solberg and Jennie Olson, the two residents who have lived at Oakland Park home for the greatest length of time. A complete report and pictures of the groundbreaking appeared in an earlier edition of the Times.

The out-doors fish fry, the men's annual event that corresponds with the women's mother and daughter tea, was held July 26 with Vern Aune and a number of men from the Veterans of Foreign Wars in charge of frying the fish. The VFW donated the fish, the American Legion, the deep fryers and Pete Sullivan, the beer. For the event, each man was given the privilege of inviting one guest.

During the month, four residents were hosts to private Sunday dinners. They were Huldah Johnson on the 6th with Mrs. Axel Johnson as guest; Anton Hall, the 13th with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall as guests; Emma Christianson, the 20th, with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Arveson as guests, and Mrs. Minnie Mellem, the 27th, with Mr. and Mrs. Eldor Erickson and their daughter as guests.

Three church groups also visited the home during the month and presented programs or visited with the residents. Rev. Bruce Anderson of the Faith Lutheran church, Goodridge, was in charge of the devotional program on July 17. A fellowship luncheon followed with the women of the church in charge of the serving.

Lunch, featuring doughnuts and coffee, was also served after the devotional program presented by the Zion Lutheran Church Women of Viking. Rev. Ralph Hofrenning gave the meditation, Mrs. Hofrenning played the piano and Mrs. Hannah Halvorson, Mrs. Mabel Tostrup, Mrs. Hazel Stokke, Denise Stokke, Mrs. Melvin Grandstrand and Mrs. Gene Nelson participated in the program and assisted in serving the refreshments provided by the Faith circle.

A group of women from Trinity Lutheran church with Myrtle Lee in charge spent the afternoon of July 9th at the home visiting in the rooms with the residents. They brought ice cream which was left as treats for the following day.

The Aquacade queen candidates also made a visit to the home, greeting the residents.

Highlighting the Fourth of July holidays were the treats and favors donated for trays and the tables by the VFW.

In reporting the activities at Oakland Park, it was noted that several residents had expressed appreciation for the bus service provided for senior citizens, enabling them to shop or perform other errands independently.

The cost of driving to and from work ordinarily is not tax deductible unless the car is used only because it's needed to transport cumbersome items used on the job. But what if your employer requires you to have a car available; does that make commuting costs deductible? IRS and the tax court say no; ask your employer to reimburse you.

The Times—A Great Gift!

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

by Ellen M. Spray

Today's problem isn't new, but nevertheless, it is serious. It concerns vandalism, particularly of gardens and yards.

Several years ago, we were the victims when our tulips were pulled and scattered on the boulevard. A short time before that, our neighbors, a retired couple, awoke to find their vegetable garden completely demolished. Their crop of carrots, beets, tomatoes and cucumbers were found for two blocks in the alley. This year, just before vacation, an elderly man was in the office and in our conversation, he reported that his garden had been riddled. During vacation, I saw the results of such senseless vandalism. The noise the vandals made during the night was heard above the television that was rambling as I was cleaning the kitchen carpeting. Their racket awoke my husband, who was asleep. The ones who witnessed the offense could not identify the culprits, who without regard for anyone's property, tore loose the wires on the street light.

According to authority, civilians can not take the law into their own hands. But if something isn't done to curb this vandalism, something drastic will happen. People who take pride in their yards and gardent have had it. They are tired of the weak excuses, "It was just a prank," "They were drunk," "There is nothing we can do about it," or worse of all, "Why don't you give up gardening," or "Why don't you cut the blankety-blank apple tree down."

The punishment for vandalism is too mild. It should include the damages suffered by the homeowner. If the vandals have the time to demolish property, they have the time to work to pay for the damages. Nor should being drunk or under the influence of drugs excuse a person, male or female, for the damages caused.

Vandalism regardless if it is pulling a row of tomatoes or breaking a store window, is a crime, and should be treated as such.

She carried a bouquet of pink and yellow roses, white carnations, babies' breath and greens tied with multi-colored pastel ribbon streamers.

All the attendants wore white picture hats with colored ribbon streamers and carried large white mums with colored centers corresponding with the ribbons on their hats. Their pearl necklaces and earrings were gifts from the bride.

Flower girl was Genelle Kuznia of Stephen, a niece of the groom. She wore a gown of white flowered nylon over yellow taffeta with high neckline, short puffed sleeves and a ruffled flounce on her skirt. She also wore a white picture hat with a colored ribbon; and she carried a basket of flowers. Carrying the rings was Heath DeBoer of Minneapolis, a nephew of the bride.

Attending his brother as best man was Larry Kuznia of Argyle. Groomsmen were Darwin Eidelbes of Goodridge, brother of the bride, Ted Kuznia of Warren, brother of the groom, and Tim Urbaniak of Argyle, cousin of the groom. Serving as ushers were Ronnie Kotrba of Goodridge, cousin of the bride, and Gary Kujava of Argyle, cousin of the groom. All wore black tuxedos with yellow ruffled shirts and carnation boutonnieres tinted to match the colored centers of the bridesmaids' bouquets.

The mother of the bride was attired in a pink floor-length polyester gown fashioned with a high neckline and long lace sleeves. Her accessories were in white and her corsage was of lavender mums with white carnations. The mother of the groom wore a long-sleeved, blue polyester floor-length gown accented with white accessories and a corsage of yellow mums and white carnations.

Honor guests at the ceremony were John Price and Mrs. Wanda Kuznia of Stephen, grandparents of the groom.

The parents of the bride hosted a reception in the church parlors for approximately 250 relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Safranski of Argyle, uncle and aunt of the bride, was host and hostess. Mrs. Gerald Sjulestad of Goodridge and Mrs. Conrad Gryskewicz of Argyle, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively, cut and served the three-tiered Lady Windemere wedding cake. A miniature bride and groom, together with their attendants, graced the four heart shaped cakes that formed the bottom tier. Topping the cake, decorated with multicolored roses, was a wedding bell ornament.

At the silver service were Mrs. Bob Eidelbes of Tower and Mrs. Tom Urbaniak of Argyle, aunts of the bride and groom.

The guests were registered by Mrs. Aime Default of Argyle, sister of the groom. Jane Mutnanski of Goodridge and Shirley Safranski of Argyle, friends of the bride, served the punch. BiCentennial Costume Ball Is Held At Goodridge Announcing the winners and the awarding of the prizes highlighted the successful Goodridge BiCentennial Costume ball, held Saturday, August 9, at the Goodridge school.

Three winners were selected in each of the three catagories: Colonial, Civil War and Pioneer eras. Costumes were judged on originality which included authenticity and design, and accessories.

Winning first place in the colonial division was Dr. David M. Brown who wore his grandfather's cut-away. Mrs. Eugene Fiedler placed second for the colonial gown which she had designed and made. Her colonial glasses were authentic. Third place went to Lynn Hanson, who wore a white wig and was attired in clothing similar to the clothes worn by George Washington.

In the Civil War category, first place went to Jessie Anderson for his authentic tuxedo, large pocket watch and chain, and black top hat. Mrs. Bennie Svanjord, wearing a gown she had designed with a bustle, and Mrs. Lynn Hanson, who had also designed and made her own gown, received second and third place, respectively.

Mrs. Vernon Wikstrom of Grygla received first prize in the Pioneer division for her costume that included an authentic hat, coat, dress, watch and purse. Miss Evon Hamilton placed second for her black beaded suit made by her grandmother's sister as a going-away suit; and Mrs. Palmer Paulson received third prize for a gown she had designed. Mrs. Paulson's gown was complimented by a 100-year-old heirloom pin and an authentic hat.

The prizes were presented by Ernest Swanson. Serving as judges were Mrs. Tony Bryl, Mrs. Ernest Swanson and Mrs. Leo Ellingson. First place winners received large American flags; second place, a set of BiCentennial flags, and third, BiCentennial Liberty Bells.

Drought Reduced Southwestern Minn. Corn Crop

A second straight year or extreme drought has severely set back Minnesota's prospects for a record 1975 corn crop, agriculture commissioner Jon Wefald said recently.

"The potential loss of drop production and farm income is staggering, because the drought is reducing yields in at least 21 counties that are the most critically short of moisture, and could be cutting corn production in as many as 56 counties.

"Reports from ten southwestern Minnesota counties along convince me that we have already lost easily 10 million bushels of corn production. Subtract that from the July 1 forecast of 521 million bushels of corn production and that would drop us below the 513 million record harvest of 1973," commissioner Wefald explained.

The official estimate of crop production was issued by the state-federal crop and livestock reporting service last Monday.

Commissioner Wefald said that most of the southwestern Minnesota counties have reported half to as high as two-thirds of potential corn production have been destroyed by five weeks of projonged drought. Production figures are being revised downward daily.

He said he considers Lyon, Redwood, Yellow Medicine, Murray, Nobles, Jackson, Cottonwood, Rock, Lincoln and Pipestone counties potential additions to the state's growing list of agricultural disaster counties.

Equally disturbing assessments of the corn development situation are also coming in from Lac Qui Parle, Brown, Martin, Watonwan, Wadena, Todd, Morrison, Benton, Sherburne, Stearns and Wright counties.

"These 21 counties," Commissione Wefald pointed out, "annually produce 40 per cent or more of Minnesota's total corn and soybeans. We also have 36 more counties in a serious moisture depletion situation, that in aggregate boosts the drought threat to this year's farm production to 90 per cent of both corn and soybean acreage state-wide."

Conduct Studies To Aid Decision On Beet Plant

acres of land to allow a new factory to be surrounded by property which it controls.

Because of the estimated $60,000,000 or greater cost of the plant, it would significantly increase the valuation of the county or counties in which it would be located, thereby greatly improving the tax base. For this reason the competition for plant location is expected to be keen.

"An over-riding factor in site location is its affect on transportation costs paid annually by farmers to move beets to the factory," Courneya said. "Decision on plant location—if it is to be profitable for the farmers who would form the cooperative and grow the beets—must be made on the basis of economics."

Courneya noted that Pennington and Red Lake counties with about 9,000 acres each are the two largest counties in terms of acreage registered for beet production. Marshall county has registered an additional 5,000 acres.

Next meeting of the association will be subject to call of the chairman, Clyde Christensen of Thief River Falls, following receipt of the study reports.

VA Reminds Vets To Report Fall School Address

Veterans who plan to attend school this fall are advised to report promptly any change of address to the Veterans Administration and their post office.

Kenneth E. McDonald, acting director, VA center, Fargo, said veterans and the VA are involved in a "cooperative arrangement" when veterans receive benefits from the federal agency.

"The veteran must furnish the correct information and keep it current, and the VA must provide the proper educational assistance checks to a qualified veteran," he said.

Besides reporting any change of address, the veteran should also quickly report any changes in his training status or number of dependents. McDonald said this was very important because any delays in reporting such changes "could result in an overpayment which the VA is obligated to collect."

Such overpayments could be eliminated if the veteran quickly returns any check made out for more money than he is entitled to receive. The VA will then promptly issue another check for the correct amount, he said.

Gonorrhea Cases Down In State By 2½ Per Cent

Gonorrhea's rapid rate of spread may be slowing down, said health commissioner Dr. Warren R. Lawson recently. "Although gonorrhea cases increased 19 per cent from 1972 to 1973, cases only increased about two per cent in 1974 over 1973. So far there has been a decrease of almost 2½ per cent from 1974," he said.

Dr. Lawson warned that the data for this year is still very preliminary. Most gonorrhea cases usually occur during the summer and have not been reported yet.

Gonorrhea germs are spread only by infected persons during intimate sexual contact. This includes contact with any body opening.

The decrease probably results from a combination of programs, many of which are carried out by the Minnesota department of health. For example, most women do not have any symptoms from a gonorrhea infection. Therefore, Dr. Lawson said emphasis has been placed on screening women for gonorrhea during their annual pelvic examinations. This reduces the number of unsuspecting infected females.

The decrease can also be attributed to personal interviews and subsequent investigations conducted by health department staff. Since gonorrhea germs are spread only by infected persons during intimate sexual exposure, it is essential to locate and treat all their sexual contacts. Last year 45 per cent of named contacts were infected with gonorrhea.

It was through these two programs in 1974 that approximately 57 per cent of the 9,510 gonorrhea cases were identified.

Minnesota's educational program has also helped reduce the increase in gonorrhea cases. Dr. Lawson explained that when people are aware of gonorrhea as a public health problem, they are also more apt to know where to go for treatment. Today, there are 26 free venereal disease clinics in Minnesota.

As the number of cases decreases, Dr. Lawson said that the emphasis of health department programs will change. "As the number of infected people is reduced by screening and treatment, work must be intensified to locate all sexual contacts of infected persons. Eventually, any significant incidence of gonorrhea in Minnesota could be eliminated."

People once believed that the stone known as jacinth could protect them from plague.

Persons in active claims status under the five unemployment programs currently in force in Minnesota totaled 92,964 for the weekending August 8, commissioner Emmet J. Cushing of the state department of employment services reported Friday. The total is up 3,546 from the preceding week.

Initial claims filed during the week for the regular program totaled 5,201, up 1,249 (32 per cent) from the previous week and up 2,663 (105 per cent) from the corresponding week a year ago. Total number of active regular claims was 57,867, up 2,806 (five per cent) from the previous week.

Initial claims for extended benefits (paid when regular benefits are exhausted) totaled 1,349; for federal supplemental benefits (paid when regular and extended benefits are exhausted), 915; for additional federal supplemental benefits (paid when regular federal supplemental benefits are exhausted), 847; and for special unemployment assistance (paid to workers not ordinarily covered by unemployment insurance), 99.

For the week of August 1, the latest for which figures are available, the total amount of benefits paid under all programs was $4,288,160. Included in those benefits were $2,602,280 in regular benefits, up $1,470,223 (130 per cent) over the corresponding week a year ago. The average weekly benefit amount was $65.85, up $5.92 from a year ago.

During the week of August 1, payments for extended benefits were $827,710; for federal supplemental benefits, $648,368; for additional federal supplemental benefits, $168,160; and for special unemployment assistance, $41,642.

Since the first of the year, $124,443,561 has been paid for the regular program, up $50,266,463 (68 per cent) from the same period a year ago.

In the Twin Cities metropolitan area serviced by five claims offices (Minneapolis, St. Paul, Hopkins, Bloomington and Fridley), the number of persons on active claims status under all five unemployment insurance programs was 47,476 for the week ending August 8. This was 1,955 or four per cent more than the previous week and 239 per cent more than the same wek a year ago.

The number of persons filing initial claims for the regular program totaled 3,174, up 1,201 from the previous week. Initial claims for extended benefits totaled 772; for federal supplemental benefits, 478; for additional federal supplemental benefits, 386; and special unemployment assistance, 34.

North Central Boardings Here Down For July

Although July was overall the best month of the year for North Central airlines, boardings in Thief River Falls decreased from July of 1974. Boardings were 670 compared to 695 last year, but arrivals were 703, slightly more than the 682 recorded last year.

The July totals for all North Central flights were 424,048 passengers boarded and 98.7 million miles flown. Both exceeded 1974 traffic. Around the airline's system, all time monthly records were achieved by Eau Claire, Hancock-Houghton, Iron Mountain, Mankato, Minot and Winnipeg.

"These developments indicate an improvement in the national economy," said David E. Moran, vice president of traffic and sales. "July is the first month of the year that traffic has been better than the corresponding month in 1974. Already, our single day boarding record has been broken four times in August," he said.

The July results brought year-to-date boardings to 2.5 million and passenger miles to 592.2 million. Both figures are within 3.5 per cent of last year's volume for the first seven months, when traffic was inflated by the automobile fuel shortage which prompted many people to fly rather than drive.

Cargo ton miles improved in July with 919,368 miles flown, only 2.6 per cent behind the 944,306 for the same period in 1974. Year-to-date cargo ton miles were off 15 per cent.

Aging Council Public Hearing To Be Televised

Governor's citizens council on aging hopes to involve a large number of Minnesotans in its public hearing process this fall by holding a televised public hearing on its 1976 state plan for aging and accepting phoned in comments and questions from a statewide audience.

The public hearing will be broadcast live over all educational and cable television stations in the state on September 4 from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Cy Carpenter, chairman of the Governor's citizens council on aging, Gerald Bloedow, executive secretary of the council, John Walley, deputy secretary of the council, and other council members will discuss the services and programs now sponsored by the council and major plans for the coming year.

Viewers will then be invited to phone in questions and comments directly to Council members by calling (612) 645-0471. Persons living outside the metropolitan area will be able to call the public hearing collect. Written comments on the plan will also be accepted and are encourage.

The Council thinks the televised hearing will make it easier for many Minnesotans, especially older persons who may have mobility and hearing problems, to actively join in the public hearing process.

The General Mills Foundation is sponsoring the broadcast.

Copies of the Governor's Citizens Council on Aging's 1976 state plan on aging can be obtained by writing to the Governor's citizens council on aging, 204 Metro square building, 7th and Robert, St. Paul, 55101, or phoning 296-2770.

Farm Leaders Complain About ASC Committee

Decision of the Minnesota agricultural stabilization and conservation service (ASCS) committee to refuse requests for appropriations for special fall tillage practices has been termed irresponsible by two Minnesota farm leaders.

Cy Carpenter, president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, and Willis Eken, chairman of the Red River Valley emergency task force, explained in a joint statement that compaction, fungus and other damaging conditions of farmland in the valley will require more than normal fall tillage.

"Without government financial assistance, farmers will need more than one year to get their land back to full production," Carpenter and Eken said. "They are faced with preparing land for crops next season that has been flooded, stripped of vegetation and generally rendered unfit for production."

County ASCS committees in the afflicted areas have recognized this fact and applied to the state ASCS committee for assistance under an existing program where the federal government shares in the cost of this additional tillage.

"The ASCS committee has had a history of failing to provide farmers with the need funding to help survive in these types of crises," Carpenter and Eken said. "However, it is time for the committee to consider future needs of agriculture rather than historical precedence and pressure from Washington."

Farmers and these communities are suffering drastic income loss, and yet the state commiteee expects them to pick up the costs of extra tillage for next year's crop, Carpenter and Eken explained.

Is Enough Enough?

At least one person in the country has been sufficiently discouraged by current trends in the field of athletics to disassociate himself from it.

Simeon Smith, sports director of KOAT-TV in Albuquerque, N.M., who was cited by Associated Press in 1972 as the No. 1 sportscaster in the state of Alabama, announced his resignation from the sports broadcasting business in a live broadcast recently. What he said at that time is recognized as one person's opinion, but we are sure it is shared in whole or in part by many other people across our nation. Smith's statement follows:

Over the years, I have watched the "sports" world grow to the point where I can no longer regard it as sport. On all levels—professional, college, high school and indeed, even on the grade-school level—athletics in this country has become a business.

From playgrounds to coliseums, the Lombardi-like cry goes up: Win! Win! Win at all costs!

I have watched high school football teams work out and have discovered that the institution of just plain old fun has been completely displaced by discipline—discipline which requires total dedication to victory.

Defeat leaves the players feeling shamed as the coaches seem to feel they deserve for any effort not leading to a scoreboard victory.

I (have witnessed) 12-year-olds being trained to hit and hurt other 12-year-olds. Anything seems to be O.K. if it leads to winning.

And there's another facet that disturbs me. I look at the television ratings and see that millions and millions of people in this country escape from the realities of our times by engrossing themselves in televised sports.

Karl Marx once accused religion of being the opiate of the masses. If Marx were around today, he would discover that if any opiate exists, it is spectator sports . . .

On a more local level, I am fed up with those who boast that the University of New Mexico ranks No. 1 in college basketball attendance while ignoring that we as a state rank 49th in per-capita income and 37th in expenditures for education.

All of this isn't to say that I don't love sports. I do. It's been my life. But I have finally come to a point where for me it's time to say, "Enough is enough."

I think our nation needs to come back to earth, and I for one will no longer contribute to prolonging this desire in people to spend hours watching sports on TV.

Nor can I in good conscience approve of the manner in which our children are being raised when they become a part of the "world of sports."

First Lady Flak

Following editorial is from the Twin Cities Courier:

Ever since Betty Ford gave her personal views on the new morality during a television interview, shock waves have been hitting the national scene in full fury.

The First Lady's opinions on such subjects as premarital sex and abortion obviously are not popular with a sizeable segment of the citizenry. But the President's wife had every right to make comments that left her wide open to public criticism.

Perhaps she was more realistic than judicious in answering questions seldom raised in such interviews. But the general assumption is that Mrs. Ford voiced her honest thoughts at the time. That in itself is a refreshing departure in an atmosphere too often clouded with false posturing designed to court public support. Not that we agree with the First Lady by any stretch of imagination.

Most of us wish, devoutly, she had felt differently and used her stature as a public figure to support the cause of ethics and morality in the face of the present trend toward the "anything goes" syndrome. But whether or not anyone agrees is beside the point. Her right to free speech is unassailable. Unfortunately, many who level the sharpest criticism do little or nothing to stem the rising tied of most universal rejection of ethical conduct.

Educators and religious leaders alike fall short in this area. Some in fact bend over backward to embrace the new morality that, in essence, is no morality at all. Somehow, having the First Lady speak out candidly in areas overtly and covertly supported by many, puts a vastly different light on this subject matter. Rather than criticize anyone's personal opinions on subjects usually swept under the collective rug, it behooves those responsible for youth guidance to take another look into their own thinking and actions in this regard.

One thing is certain. The whole human race is conspicuous by the absence of personal perfection in far too many areas to permit the slightest hint of a "holier than thou" attitude. But understanding and refusing to censure modern life styles is a far cry from condoning and sanctioning same, assuming humanity intends to strive always to be better than we are.

If Betty Ford's comments revive some semblance of determination to change the course of unethical behavior, her words have not been in vain.

Times That Tax A Man's Soul

This parody on Lincoln's Gettysburg address appeared recently in one of our exchange papers but the original source has long since been lost:

Three score and two years ago our fathers brought forth upon this nation a new tax, conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are fair game.

Now we are engaged in a great mass of calculations testing whether that taxpayer or any taxpayer so confused and so impoverished can long endure. We are met on form 1040. We have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with those men, who spend their lives that they may spend our money.

It is altogether anguish and torture that we should do this. But in a legal sense we cannot evade—we cannot cheat—we cannot under-estimate this tax. The collectors, clever and sly, who computed here, have gone far above our poor powers to add and subtract.

Our creditors will little note nor long remember what we say here, but the Bureau of Internal Revenue can never forget what we reported here.

It is for us the taxpayers rather to be devoted here to the tax return which the Government has thus far so beautifully spent.

It is rather for us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these vanished dollars we take increased devotion to the few remaining that we here highly resolve that next year will not find us in a higher tax bracket that this taxpayer, underpaid, shall figure out more deductions, and that taxation of the people, by the Congress, for the Government, shall not cause our solvency to perish.

"This then is determinism: to learn to understand the causes of evil, so that we may induce the causes of reform. Not to be a fatalist, or a slave, a slave of oneself, or a slave of one's surroundings. Wherever we are, not to act and work blindly, but freely and consciously, to anticipate and plan like a worker and collaborator of God." —Thomas G. Masaryk

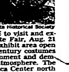
Senate Report

—By—
Senator Richard Fitzsimons
Minnesota District One



Copper-Nickel mining was the subject matter of a two-day visit to northeast Minnesota by the Minnesota Resources commission last week. The last session of the legislature appropriated $920,000 for an environmental impact study of copper-nickel mining in Minnesota. Beyond that the legislature directed the Minnesota Resources commission to approve the work program of the agencies that would be doing the environmental impact study. This was the reason for the visit to the proposed mining sites.

The International Nickel company has several leases on federal land near the Kawishiwi river near Ely that they have been exploring for over 20 years. Up to this point the company has considered the ore to be of too low quality to mine profitably. With the rapid increase in the world price of nickel ore in the past few years and the dependence of the United States for imported ore, the picture has changed.

At the Spruce Road site near Ely the resources commission was shown what the Inco project would entail. If developed, it would be an open pit mine covering some 500 acres and would eventually be 1,000 feet deep. The total land area to be used for mining and tailings disposal would encompass some 4,700 acres. The Inco project does not contemplate a smelting operation in Minnesota. An estimated 40,000 tons of copper-nickel ore would be mined daily for 20 years, according to company officials.

Further south of Ely is the Amax site and here it is contemplated the mine would be an underground mine with an undetermined life of production. The Amax company has obtained a permit from the State of Minnesota to drill a shaft 14 feet wide by 1,500 feet deep to see if mining would be feasible at that site. This land is entirely state owned.

The long controversy surrounding these applications for permits has come about because of fears of environmental damage and water and air pollution. Officials of both companies pointed out to the commission the intricate testing they are doing to develop as complete a safeguard as has every been devised for any mining operation anywhere in the world.

After listening to all the testimony, the commission released $150,000 to the state planning agency to begin an immediate program of water and air quality monitoring of the two proposed sites.

If all the environmental safeguards can be met and the ore appears to be of sufficient quality to mine, it would be at least ten years or more before mining could begin. If mining does appear to be acceptable, it will mean an investment of millions of dollars before any production of metal could occur. In addition to this is the unresolved question of smelting the ore. Neither of these two applications have anything to do with smelting.

One thing is certain, if copper-nickel mining ever becomes a reality in Minnesota, it will only occur after the most exhaustive and expensive environmental planning ever undertaken. The resources commission has been charged with the responsibility of approving work plans to do that. The outcome of all of this activity has important long-range possibilities for Lake of the Woods, Beltrami, Roseau and Marshall counties because several mining companies hold extensive leases on land where preliminary exploratory drilling work has been done. The potential for royalties on mined ore and the economic impact of an acceptable mining technique could be enormous at some future date in these counties.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As a Northland Community college graduate, I find it upsetting that the college is adopting a varsity football program. These are times when even four year colleges are dropping their football programs because of the tremendous expense involved. There are needs in so many other areas that the college should make an attempt to meet and I feel they should have priority.

Not unrelated is the matter of women's athletics. Since it is now illegal to discriminate on the basis of sex, I think the college should meet this requirement rather than adding to an already overloaded program. The women's athletic department does not even employ a full-time director although it has an excellent part-time one. Is that equality?

The women's teams were unable to make overnight trips to games last year because there was "no money". All of the men's "away" games of any substantial distance included overnight accommodations. Is that equality? The women's teams did not have practice uniforms while the men did. Is that equality? The volleyball and basketball players used the same uniforms for both teams. Members of the softball team had to pay for part of their uniforms. Is that equality? The women's teams did not have cheerleaders. The women's coach did not have funding to go out to surrounding high schools and recruit athletes for the coming season. Is that equality?

It is not the members of the teams that are complaining; they are grateful for the meager crumbs they have received. Incidentally, both the volleyball team and basketball team did exceptionally well for first year teams and interest was high. I feel this program should be given adequate funding and attention to get off the ground before more programs are added for men.

If someone feels there is a need for more athletic programs, an expansion of the intramural programs would be more far reaching that varsity football. One's football playing days are severely limited while persons can play tennis or handball, bowl or swim for the rest of their lives. And how many people do you know who are still suffering from an old football injury?

There are deficiencies in other areas as well. Why is there money available for football and no way to get money for day care for ACE students. With a nationwide trend in this direction, there is a very real need in this area.

But most of all, I feel that an expansion of academic programs would bring an increased enrollment in a more meaningful way than varsity football. A greater variety of study areas (organic chemistry, for example) would attract the type of students that Northland could be proud of for their academic ability. The fact is that when a student transfers from a community college to a state university, the academic reputation of the school means far more than the athletic reputation.

There are any number of basic needs that the college has the opportunity and the obligation to meet in addition to the ones I have mentioned. Sports are fine as an extra-curricular activity when kept in perspective, but I feel they have been given an excessive amount of importance. There are so many other things the school and community need more than they need varsity football.

Sincerely,
Faith Rud

Wendell R. Anderson

Minnesota has a long tradition of strong local government, a tradition made possible by modern local government laws and a close working relationship between state agencies and local governments. In recent years the state-local relationship has been modified and strengthened significantly.

Beginning in 1971, Minnesota adopted a number of changes in the state aid formula for local government. These changes, combined with our property tax relief program, created a dramatic shift in the way local government aids are raised and distributed. As a result, Minnesota now relies heavily on local governments to provide services, while state government raises funds and provides financial assistance to those governments.

This fact is reflected in the breakdown of how Minnesota's public monies are raised and spent. According to the most recent data available, state government raises 49 per cent of the total revenues, local government raises 33 per cent, and the federal government provides the remaining 18 per cent.

However, when it comes to spending these monies, Minnesota state government spends only 32 per cent, while our local governments spend 68 per cent, or more than two-thirds. In only two states, California and New York, do local governments spend a larger portion of state local revenues.

The recently completed 1975 legislative session increased basic state aids to local governments by approximately 62 per cent. The State also took over certain local government welfare costs previously paid through the property tax. In addition, the Legislature passed a Minnesota version of the "circuit breaker," which adjusts property taxes according to income. This measure will provide relief from local property taxes at the rate of $273 million in the first year of the biennium and $344 million in the second.

As these figures suggest, Minnesota has tried with considerable success to make state government the level where revenues are raised and reallocated to provide financial assistance to local governments. In the process, we have provided substantial property tax relief for our citizens without harming the quality of services provided by local governments, which used to be almost totally dependent on the property tax for funding.

Prediction Review

A little over two months after predicting how the 1975 regular season standings would wind up in the Thief River Falls men's slow and fast pitch softball leagues, lets reflect back for a few moments and see just how close our picks, made June 11, were.

On the positive side, we correctly predicted the exact finish in both divisions of the fast pitch league.

It was predicted here that Arctic Cat would win the East Division pennant, followed by VFW, Nelson State Farm Insurance and the Legion. That's how it ended up, too, with Arctic Cat posting a 16-4 record, VFW 15-5, State Farm 11-8 and the Legion 9-9.

Pepsi-Cola was our choice for the West Division crown, followed by Schmidts, Falls Diesel and Melvies. Again we were right as Pepsi went 13-7, Schmidts 8-10, Falls Diesel 4-15 and Melvies 0-18.

The slow pitch league gave up a few prediction problems—quite a few, in fact.

We correctly spotted the Arctic Raiders as Major Division champions (it didn't take a genius to write that much down), followed by Solheim Furniture, Hartz, Hamms-Pizza Hut, Modern Woodman, Northland Electronics, Arctic Power and Hydra-Mac. The Raiders won it alright with a 16-5 record, but the rest of the order was considerably different as Northland Electronics went 14-7, Hamms-Pizza Hut 13-8, Solheim Furniture 12-9, Hartz 11-10, Modern Woodman 10-11, Arctic Power 8-13 and Hydra-Mac 0-21.

The Commercial Division really lost us. Our prediction was led by Grain Belt, followed by Times-KTRF, Professional Building, Warehouse Foods, Kat Haus, Popplers, Furuseth-Nelson Inc. and the Jaycees. Furuseth-Nelson wound up winning it with a 16-5 record, followed by Grain Belt 14-7, the Jaycees 12-9, Popplers and Warehouse Foods 11-10, Professional Building and (blush) Times-KTRF 8-13 and Kat Haus 4-17.

Smith, Spaeth Begin Nebraska Drills

Former Region Eight athletic stars Kent Smith of Thief River Falls and Ken Spaeth of Mahnomen begin drills this week with the Nebraska University football team.

Smith figures to see plenty of playing time this fall as a back-up man to All-American candidate Wonder Monds at a monster back position in the Cornhusker's defensive secondary.

Monds, a two-year starter, is "one of the best in the nation with speed, quickness, size and the ability to hit hard," says the Nebraska press guide. Monds is a 6-2, 204-pound senior from Ft. Pierce, Fla.

Smith, a 6-1, 196-pound sophomore, was red-shirted last year. He's a 1973 Lincoln high school graduate and a former all-state performer for the Prowlers.

Spaeth, a 6-5, 228-pound tight end, was also a red-shirt (a player who practices with a team, but does not play in the games, thus saving a year of eligibility) last year. He is listed as the number three tight end with the Cornhuskers behind returning starter Larry Mushinski and 1974 alternate Brad Jenkins, "both fine athletes who can run, catch and block," according to the press guide. Mushinski and Jenkins are both seniors.

Kays With UND Football Team

Scott Kays, a 1975 Lincoln high school graduate, will be among 60 ball players reporting to head coach Jerry Olson tomorrow (Tuesday) when the University of North Dakota football team opens its 1975 pre-season practice drills.

Kays, one of 18 freshmen on the UND pre-season roster, was listed as a defensive middle guard candidate.

Reichert Mr. Minnesota Teen

Brent Reichert of Crookston was named 1975 Mr. Minnesota Teen last week during ceremonies at Morris.

Reichert succeeded Tony Dorn of Thief River Falls as winner of the contest matching contestants throughout the state on athletic, academic and social standards.

Reichert, a 1975 Crookston Central graduate, was an all-state choice in basketball, was a four-time Region Eight singles champion in tennis, was the quarterback for the Pirate football team and graduated first in his class.

A RED LAKE FALLS Merchants base runner managed to slide under the tag of Hydra-Mac pitcher Paulette Dehnert to score on a passed ball during Friday night's championship game in the Thief River Falls women's fast pitch softball league playoffs. Hydra-Mac rallied to claim a 16-11 decision to add the playoff title to its regular season pennant.

Arctic, Schmidts Unbeaten In TRF Fast Pitch Playoffs

Arctic Cat and Schmidts remain as the only unbeaten teams in the double elimination Thief River Falls men's fast pitch softball league playoffs that will come to a close this week.

Schmidts stunned regular season pennant winning Pepsi-Cola 17-1 while Falls Diesel ousted Melvies 21-4 in a pair of Wednesday night West Division games.

Arctic Cat dumped VFW 8-2 and Nelson State Farm Insurance picked up a forfeit win over the Legion in Friday night East Division games, knocking the Legion out of the tournament.

Playoffs continue tonight (Monday) with VFW meeting State Farm and Pepsi taking on Falls Diesel. All four teams have one loss.

The Pepsi-Falls Diesel winner will tackle Schmidts and the VFW-State Farm winner will challenge Arctic Cat in a pair of Tuesday night encounters.

Tournament play will continue throughout the rest of the week. If either Schmidts or Arctic Cat lose Tuesday, additional inter-division games will be played Wednesday before the eventual division champions clash. The tournament will be completed by Friday.

Arctic Cat snapped a 2-2 tie with a five-run outburst in the fifth inning enroute to an 8-2 win over VFW.

All eight Arctic Cat runs were unearned off losing pitcher Harlie Drees.

Arctic Cat scored in the top of the second when Ron Ostby lined a sharp single to center and moved to second on Bruce Johnson's sacrifice bunt. Lonnie Babcock reached base on an error, moving Ostby to third. Darrell Stromlund followed with a sacrifice fly to score Ostby and Henry Holte singled to left to score Babcock.

VFW gained a 2-2 tie in the fourth inning when Wayne Smith smashed a two-run home run over the rightfield fence. Drees followed with a double into the leftfield corner and moved to third and scored on a pair of infield ground balls.

Smith's home run was his second in the playoffs and his eighth of the season in league play, raising his home run ratio to one homer every 8.6 at bats.

Falls Diesel 21
Melvies 4

Falls Diesel completed a winless season for Melvies with a 21-4 shellacking in Wednesday's doubleheader nightcap.

Falls Diesel opened the scoring in the first inning when Tom Shetler reached base on an error and scored on a triple by Earl Graham who scored on a sacrifice fly by Rex Rugland.

Falls Diesel put the game out of reach in the second inning by scoring eight runs on just two base hits. Four walks and three Melvies errors accounted for most of the scoring in the second.

The winners added two runs in the fourth, one in the fifth and finished the night with an eight-run seventh. Melvies averated a shutout with a four-run burst in the top of the sixth.

Babcock Wins Fast Pitch Batting Title

Arctic Cat outfielder Lonnie Babcock emerged as winner of the prestigious batting title during the recently completed 1975 Thief River Falls men's fast pitch regular season softball league schedule.

Babcock finished the year with a sparkling .446 batting average.

posting a comfortable 24-point margin over runner-up Vern Lindquist of Pepsi-Cola who sported a .422 average.

Scott Kleven of VFW and Dick Harren of Pepsi-Cola were the only other league hitters boasting .400 averages. Kleven hit a .411 and Harren finished with an even .400 mark.

The anticipated season-ending battle for the batting crown failed to materialize earlier this month when Babcock and Kleven went into the final games separated by only two percentage points.

Kleven failed to pick up a base hit in theee at-bats against the Legion in the first game of an August 5 doubleheader. Babcock followed with a two for three showing in the second game, including a triple, to win the coveted title. Meanwhile, Kleven slipped to third behind Lindquist in the final standings.

Paul Williams of VFW had the most at-bats this summer with 69 trips to the play. Williams and Howard Dalager of Pepsi-Cola shared the honors for most base hits with 22 apiece. Williams hit .319 for the year and Dalager hit .328. Wayne Smith led the league with eight home runs.

Regular season East Division champion Arctic Cat was easily the league's best hitting team this year with a remarkable .323 team batting average. VFW was a distant second at .282.

The rest of the team batting figures showed Pepsi-Cola at .276, the Legion at .263, Nelson State Farm Insurance .252, Melvies, .219 and Falls Diesel .212.

Hydra-Mac Wins Women's Slow Pitch Playoff

Regular season pennant winning Hydra-Mac Angels added the playoff championship banner to its list of 1975 accomplishments Friday as the Thief River Falls women's fast pitch softball league season came to an end.

Hydra-Mac, regular season league champion with a 9-1 record, won the league's post-season playoff crown with a 16-11 championship game win over the Red Lake Falls Merchants on the East Side diamond. The Merchants finished second to Hydra-Mac during the regular season with an 8-2 record.

The league playoff began early last week when Kat Haus beat the Road Runners 13-2 and Forsberg's defeated Arlene's 22-13. Hydra-Mac dumped Kat Haus 11-1 Wednesday and the Merchants knocked off Forsberg's 15-7 Thursday.

Hartz, Jaycees Advance To Slow Pitch Softball Finals

A Grain Belt-Popplers match-up was suspended by rain and darkness Thursday with Popplers leading 14-12 and Grain Belt batting in the top of the sixth inning. The game will be completed tonight (Monday) at 6 p.m. on fairgrounds field two.

Playoff semifinal games will be played tomorrow (Tuesday). Solheim Furniture will go against the Arctic Raiders at 6 p.m. on field one, with the winner taking on Arctic Power at 7:15 on the same field. The second game winner will face Hartz in the Major Division championship finale at 6 p.m. Friday on field one.

The Furuseth Nelson-Grain Belt-Popplers winner will meet Warehouse Foods at 7:15 tomorrow on field two. Tuesday's second game winner will challenge the Jaycees at 6 p.m. Thursday on field two in the Commercial Division championship encounter.

If either Hartz or the Jaycees should lose their first championship encounter game, a second game will follow immediately at 7:15.

Power 17, Woodman 16

Arctic Power outlasted Modern Woodman 17-16 in a game that started Tuesday but was completed Wednesday.

Darkness halted play Tuesday with Power leading 17-16 heading into the seventh inning. Modern Woodman did not score in Wednesday's seventh inning.

Power produced a 14-run barrage in the third inning. Larry Poole won the game for Power with a two-run home run in the sixth that made for the 17-16 difference.

Winning pitcher Dennis Bendickson enjoyed a perfect five for five performance at the plate to spark a 22-hit Power offense. Bruce Johnson was four for five for the winners, hitting a home run in the process. Losing pitcher Don Grabowska and Glen Nesland hit home runs for Modern Woodman.

Times-KTRF 14, Pro. Bldg. 7

Hartz 16, Power 1

Jon Looker pitched a two-hitter to lead Hartz past Arctic Power 16-1.

Looker worked on a no-hitter until he surrendered a base hit and a run in the fourth inning.

Sid Brouse sparked Hartz' 25-hit attack with four base hits, including a home run, off losing pitcher Dennis Bendickson. Curt Ness, Van Swanson, Jim Myrah, Mark Haugen and Clyde Sorenson all collected three hits apiece for Hartz, the only unbeaten team in the Major Division playoffs.

Lonnie Stauffenecker hit three home runs and enjoyed a perfect five for five night at the plate as the Arctic Raiders eliminated Hamms-Pizza Hut 27-11.

Winning pitcher Brian Nelson hit two home runs in a four for five batting effort and teammate Bill Dicken pounded out five straight hits as the Raiders exploded for 29 hits off losing pitcher Roger Ness. Gary Almquist and Ken Lindquist hit home runs in a 16-hit Hamms-Pizza Hut effort.

Jaycees 10, Warehouse 9

Vern Treat came through with an RBI single in the bottom of the tenth inning to give the Jaycees a 10-9 extra inning decision over Warehouse Foods.

The Jaycees, the only unbeaten team in the Commercial Division playoffs, posted a sizeable 23-12 base hit edge as Ron Leverington went four for five and Cornell Rygh was three for four. Mark DuChamp hit a pair of home runs for Warehouse Foods and teammate Larry Kaiser cleared the fences once.

Dave Olin decisioned Bob Goff on the mound.

Furuseth 9, Times-KTRF 6

Furuseth-Nelson Inc. produced a pair of three run innings in the sixth and seventh frames to erase a 6-3 deficit and claim a 9-6 win over Times-KTRF.

The winners claimed a slight 11-10 base hit edge but also topped the error charts 6-4.

Steve Nordhagen pitched the seventh inning and picked up the win. Paul Forsberg was the loser as the Times-KTRF ball club bowed out of tournament play.

Solheim 20, Woodman 1

Del Ray Offerdahl hit three home runs, two grand slam shots, and drove in nine runs to spark Solheim Furniture past Modern Woodman 20-1.

Paul Williams, Fred Dablow and Ron Ostby also hit home runs for Solheim Furniture and Tom Williams collected four base hits to back the pitching of John Drury. Don Grabowska took the loss.

Raiders & N.E. Lose In State Tournament Play

Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball teams met little success Saturday in state tournament play in the Twin Cities.

The Arctic Raiders received a first round bye before losing to Plainview 4-1 in the state recreation tournament at Coon Rapids while Northland Electronics bowed to Hastings 17-4 in a first round Class A state tournament game at Anoka. Both tournaments were single elimination events.

The Raiders and Northland Electronics finished one-two in the 1975 regular season Major Division standings in the Thief River Falls slow pitch softball league.

Normally a hard-hitting ball club, the Raiders could muster just three base hits against Plainview. "We just didn't get the hits," explained Raider manager Chuck Sharp. "We played good defense and our pitching was good, but we didn't hit the ball." Plainview collected only six hits off losing pitcher Brian Nelson and two of the winner's four runs were unearned.

Northland Electronics ran into a strong Hastings team in a first round test. "Of the teams we watched, they (Hastings) were the best," said Northland Electronics manager Joel Carlson. "We didn't play that badly, but everything they hit was in the hole." Hastings finished the game with a 25-9 base hit advantage.

Duck, Goose Seasons Are Announced By State DNR

Minnesota's 1975 duck and goose seasons were announced Wednesday by Milo Casey, director of the division of fish and wildlife, department of natural resources.

As announced earlier, the duck season will open on Wed., Oct. 1, the earliest date allowed under the federal framework. Casey reminded hunters that shooting does not start until 12 noon the first day. The duck hunting season will end Sun., Nov. 16.

The daily shooting hours after the opening day will be one-half hour before sunrise to 4 p.m. State waterfowl biologists feel the 4 p.m. closure regulation has had a favorable substantial impact on the size of the breeding population on mallards, wood ducks and ringnecks.

Casey said the number of breeding pairs of mallards went from 34,000 in 1972 to 75,000 this spring. Significant gains in the wood duck population were also recorded on the breeding pair surveys.

Bag limits are four daily and eight in possession. Only two mallards are allowed in the daily bag and four in the possession limit. The same limitation applies to wood duck.

In most of the state one canvasback or one redhead may be included in the daily or possession limit. However, no cans or redheads may be taken in Sibley and Nicollet counties, in the Mississippi River valley below Hastings and in an area in west central Minnesota.

The west central closed area lies within a line beginning at East Grand Forks, then along U.S. highway 2 to Bemidji, then south on U.S. highway 71 to Willmar, then west on U.S. highway 12 to the South Dakota border.

Minnesota's goose season will also open October 1. The closing date for most of the state is November 14, with December 9 the closing date in the southeast portion of the state. Limits on Canada geese are one daily and two in possession. All other species carry a limit of five daily and five in possession.

Hunters were cautioned that the goose season closure on November 14 is two days before the end of the duck season. The reason for this difference, said Casey, is that the Wednesday noon opener carries with it a three day bonus, carrying the duck season to the 16th. The federal framework offered 44 days of duck hunting without a restriction on the opening date and time.

Casey said there is a possibility that some part of the waterfowl regulations could be changed. He explained that the fish and wildlife service must now follow a new procedure which does not permit finalizing the regulations until August 25.

Casey said that many states, including Minnesota, are proceeding under the assumption that the basic regulations will not be changed, in order that hunters can be advised of the regulations at an earlier date. He said there is a ten day waiting period before finalizing the regulations, to provide for public review of the proposed season rules..

The director reminded hunters that motors may not be used on watercraft on most state-owned wildlife management areas. In addition, several of the areas are closed to hunting and posted with signs reading "state game refuge", "state duck refuge", or "no trespassing", he said.

Motors also are banned during the duck and goose seasons on certain lakes designated as "migratory waterfowl feeding and resting areas". These lakes, which are open to hunting, are listed in the regulations and also posted with signs.

Goose hunting on certain wildlife management areas is restricted to the use of established blinds, under a special permit and reservation system. Details on these areas are also included in the regulations.

Casey said the goose flight is expected to be up this year, and the duck population in the Mississippi Flyway will be about the same or slightly improved over last year.

Football Rules Meetings Slated Throughout State

Eighteen football rules interpretation meetings will be conducted by the Minnesota State High School League throughout the state beginning tonight (Monday).

The rules interpretation meeting are conducted primarily for the benefit of game officials and coaches, but players and spectators are welcome and will find the meetings informative and interesting. Over 2,000 persons attended meetings last August.

All officials of high school football games must be registered with the Minnesota State High School League. Registered officials are required to attend a state rules meeting and take the annual rules examination.

Area football rules meetings will be conducted at Greenbush tonight and at Crookston and Bemidji Tuesday, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Graph Recorder Test Conducted On Lake Bemidji

A 90 day study on graph recorders is now underway on Minnesota walleye waters.

Conducted by the department of fisheries under the direction of research supervisor Joe Scidmore, the test team is comprised of four fishermen and is being conducted on two walleye lakes in northern Minnesota—Winnibigoshish and Bemidji.

The purpose of the study is to scientifically determine whether graph recorders provide the fisherman with an unfair advantage and are they detrimental to the Minnesota walleye population. Both the Minnesota department of natural resources and the Minnesota resort association are opposed to the use of this equipment in Minnesota waters for the above reasons.

According to Scidmore, the study will cover three areas. An attempt will be made to determine whether or not the graph recorders can locate fish on or close to the bottom, with divers using underwater cameras being employed on this phase. Second, the study will attempt to determine whether or not graph recorders utilized by the fishermen make them more effective in terms of increasing their catch rate. The third phase of the study will be to analyze the accumulated data and then extrapolate the results into the future to determine what the net effect of increased graph usage will have on Minnesota walleye fishing.

While details of the testing procedure may change throughout the life of the study, Scidmore has indicated that the paid field testers will fish approximately two to three days a week and average approximately four hours a day. Fishermen chosen to participate have been selected for having average or above skills. The group includes a charter boat operator as well as sportsfishermen. Fishing will be done in pairs but utilizing separate boats fishing in the same area. One boat will be equipped with a graph recorder and the other boat will be without any electronic aides.

Because the original legislation got its start by focusing in on the vexilar 510 graph recorder, the department elected to use these units for the test and requested the use of Garcia chart recorders as well. Prior to the study and during the committee hearings on this bill, Vexilar had offered the use of its equipment on a no-charge basis and offered to obtain comparable competitors units for the study. Through the cooperation of George Pazik, publisher of "Fishing Facts" magazine, the additional units were obtained. Units to be tested now include models from Garcia, Lowrance, Apelco and Ray Jefferson in addition to the Vexilar units.

With house bill 503 laid over until the next legislative session reconvenes, it is Scidmore's plan that the test results will be available for senate review by January 1. It is understood that the bill has been given a special priority and it can be brought up for a full senate vote as early as the last week of January.

Minnesota High School Football Drills Underway

High school football practice for over 30,000 boys throughout the state will begin on August 18 with first scheduled games on tap Friday night, August 29.

Some 504 high schools of the Minnesota State High School League will participate during the 1975 season. With 527 member schools in the MSHSL, Minnesota ranks first in the country in percentage of schools participating in the sport.

Each school that plays its first game August 29 will have completed a five-day conditioning program in addition to two full weeks of practice prior to kickoff time. The openers will be the first of over 4,500 high school games that will be played this fall before state champions are determined.

For the fourth consecutive year the MSHSL will conduct state championship playoffs in football. Champions will be determined in the AA, A, B, C, and nine-man classes the week of November 10-14. Once again a point rating system programmed through a computer will be used to determine the top four qualifiers in each of five classifications.

The classifications are based on enrollments in the upper three grades. They are as follows: Class AA—950 students and above; Class A—400-949 students; Class B—200-399 students; Class C—199 and under; and nine-man—all schools playing nine-man football.

Offer Accident Insurance To TRF School Students

Thief River Falls athletic director Russ Smith announced this week that Mutual of Omaha student accident insurance forms will again be offered through each school in the Thief River Falls public school system.

A special football-only policy for boys in grades 10-12 is also available. A brochure is currently being mailed to every home in school district 564 explaining the policy and its rates.

TRF Is Overnight Stop For 1976 International 500

Thief River Falls was officially named as an overnight stop site for the 1976 St. Paul Winter Carnival International 500-mile snowmobile race. The anticipated announcement came Friday.

The bicentennial edition of the famed race will start in St. Paul in honor of the nation's 200th anniversary on Mon., Jan. 19, covering four days. Overnight stops are scheduled for Alexandria, Walker and Thief River Falls.

Persons interested in taking part in the race may received full details by contacting the St. Paul Winter Carnival, Metro Square, St. Paul, 55101.

Herb Howe, winner of the first St. Paul Winter Carnival international 500-mile snowmobile race back in 1966, will act as race director for the 11th anniversary race.

A race official team of 40 persons conducts the 300-plus drivers along the nearly 600-mile course between St. Paul and Winnipeg.

More Ducks Said To Be Breeding In State Waters

Deparemitnt of natural resources reported a significant increase in the number of mallards and other ducks breeding in Minnesota this year as compared with 1974.

Robert Jessen, waterfowl biologist, said observations based on 2,155 miles of aerial survey shown a 16 per cent improvement in the breeding mallard population and smaller increases for other species. This is up somewhat from the 11 per cent increase in mallards recorded last year, he said.

He estimated that there were 72,000 pairs of mallards in the state this spring in addition to ducks in the Twin Cities metro area and northern wooded areas that are not surveyed.

Jessen said excellent water conditions in the prairies of the United States and Canada should yield a good crop of young ducks this year.

He noted, however, that the breeding populations in North America is still "less than desired". He concluded that the number of ducks in the fall flight will probably be little changed from last year.

Reviewing the history of Minnesota's duck population and waterfowl surveys, Jessen noted that concern was being expressed about the state's waterfowl population as long ago as 1898. In 1936 few canvasback were observed nesting in Minnesota and no wood ducks were sighted during the first aerial survey in 1951.

This year's survey revealed many pairs of wood ducks and 120,000 of this species were taken during the 1974 duck season. In addition, state wildlife crews banded 500 young canvasback this summer.

Jessen said the calculated breeding population of 72,000 mallard pairs is the highest reported for the state in 25 years of records. As recently as 1972 the estimate was only 32,000 pairs.

He emphasized the fact that duck populations, especially mallards, have been low for many years in Minnesota, but that restrictive duck hunting regulations of the last two years have caused a significant improvement in the number of breeding birds.

U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service data show that Minnesota duck hunters took one-fifth of all the ducks bagged in the Mississippi flyway last season, a number equal to one half of the total taken in the Atlantic flyway and 40 per cent of that bagged in the Central flyway.

"Providing we continue to protect our waterfowl habitat and enact regulations giving ducks adequate protection," he said, "Minnesota ducks and hunters should both have a reasonably good future."

DNR Boat Safety Program Earns National Award

Boat and water safety education program of the Minnesota department of natural resources received a second place international award recently from the American association for conservation information.

The AACI competition included most of the 50 states and Canadian provinces.

THIEF RIVER FALLS fishermen Larry Rahm (right) and Keith Bugge enjoyed a productive Sunday of fishing activity recently on the Red Lake river as evidenced by the string of six eye-opening northerns. The six fish all weighed in between the five to nine-pound category. Ten small northerns were also caught by the pair, but were released. Silver Looey Lures and frogs were used as bait.

Liars Contest

Never use your wife for bait is a lesson learned by the winner of the "Minnesota Outdoors" 1975 liars contest.

Frank Wethern of Shevlin won the contest with the following story:

"My wife and I were fishing for walleye in Lake Itasca using light rods and 12 pound lines. I made a beautiful long cast but noticed a slight drag on the line, but thought no more about it because I got a strike the minute the lure hit the water. I reeled in as fast as I could and there was my wife attached to the lure.

This is what happened: As I brought the rod over my shoulder my hook caught in her coat and I threw her out into the water. I helped her back into the boat and she never said a word.

"Both oars got broken and I got out of the hospital in time to sign the divorce papers."

Wethern also entered another story worth telling:

"I was ice fishing on Leech Lake in the first part of February when I speared a big Northern that pulled me right through the hole in the ice. I finally subdued him but couldn't find my way back to the hole, so I walked along the bottom until I came to a rock near the shore that had an air pocket above it. I sat down on the rock and waited for the ice to go out in April.

"As I came in the yard with the fish in my arms I heard my wife call to the kids. Come in and wash up. Paws home and we'll have to eat fish tonight."

Fish Finders

It should be noted by fishermen that the bill banning certain types of sonar fishing gear in Minnesota failed to pass the legislature and none of the devices are outlawed in the state.

Duck Population Up

According to surveys conducted by the U.S. fish and wildlife service, the Canadian wildlife service and Ducks Unlimited, the number of ducks breeding in north central United States and western Canada appears to have increased about eight per cent over last year.

The outlook calls for a better than average year for the number of young ducks hatched if a normal rainfall prevails on the breeding grounds. No firm flight forecast can be made until the last part of August.

Ten Pound Walleye

Several big walleyes have been taken during the hot summer months. The latest reported to this column was caught by Ken Parnham of Thief River Falls.

The fish weighed ten pounds, two ounces. It was caught at 5:30 p.m. while fishing on the Red Lake river just below the dam in Thief River Falls. Several good-sized walleyes and catfish have been taken from the area.

600,000 Trout Stocked By DNR In Lake Superior

Minnesota department of natural resources stocked more than 600,000 trout in Lake Superior this spring, it was announced this week.

Out of the total of 630,469 fish stocked, lake trout comprised 336,617 with the balance made up of rainbow, brown and steelhead. The trout were stocked both in the lake and in tributary streams.

Included in the total were 4,250 Kamloops rainbow which had been purchased by the Lake Superior steelhead association. The Kamloops is a fast growing strain of rainbow which it is hoped will provide quality trophy fishing.

Missing from the Lake Superior stocking program this year are coho salmon which had been phased out after unsuccessful efforts to create sport fishing for this species along the Minnesota shore.

The coho failed to mature and grow to an acceptable size due to the rigid temperature of Lake Superior water and lack of an abundant supply of forage fish.

Also absent from the stocking program is the spring run chinook salmon. DNR fisheries specialists believe this species holds considerable promise for stocking in the lake but were unable to obtain eggs from Idaho this year.

The first stocking of these chinook was made last year. In time, the DNR hopes to obtain sufficient eggs from Idaho and from returning spawners to Minnesota streams to establish an annual run along the north shore.

The break-down of the fish stocked in the lake this spring included 336,617 lake trout yearlings, 98,750 native steelhead fry, 104,508 rainbow fingerlings, 79,144 brown fingerlings, 7,200 Donaldson rainbow yearlings, and 4,250 Kamloop rainbow yearlings.

Officials said that 273,457 of the lake trout yearlings were obtained through a hatchery.

Grandma's Song
I knew an old lady and I loved her so
She taught me many things that I'll always know
She loved the deep blue sky
And loved to see a flower bloom
Why did she go?
She cuddled up with us when we were sad
She's wrap those loving arms around our heads
She watched us as we grew
And each day we loved her more
I'll miss her so
Now she is gone with our Father above
Where all she will feel is his tender love
She loved the Father so
And now, she's there
forevermore
She's happy now

In loving memory of Alma Espeseth
by her granddaughter,
Diane Espeseth

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Monday, August 18, 1975
Official Proceedings
Pennington County, Minnesota
August 5, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment the County Board met in the Commissioners' Room in the Courthouse in Thief River Falls at 10:00 A.M., August 5, 1975.

Members present: Hanson, Christianson, Naplin, Stenberg and Tasa. All present.

Geo. Horachek and others from the Highlanding area appeared and discussed drainage problems in the area. The Board advised the group of the schedule for maintenance work on the ditches.

The problem presented by high water in the Red Lake River was discussed. Inquiry was made as to the possibility and need for continuation of the dredging operation that had been stopped short of its original plan some years ago. The Board advised the group that the Red Lake Watershed Board was aware of a problem and was pursuing some solution in the matter.

A delegation appeared and discussed the repair of Co. Ditch 46. The problem of what to do with the dirt taken from the ditch was discussed and it was indicated some agreement had to be arrived at before work could be accomplished.

A delegation appeared with a problem of drainage along S.R. 5 of Highlanding Township. The Board agreed to view the problem at their earliest opportunity.

Exec. Director, Rev. Robert C. Wettenstrom and Allen Pedersen of Glenmore Foundation of Crookston appeared and asked the Boards assistance in getting funds restored for the detoxification program of the Foundation. It was apparent that something has happened to the communications between the Dept. of Welfare and the Legislature. The Legislature mandated a program be carried out and has failed to fund it properly. The Board instructed the County Auditor to write a letter to the Commissioner of Welfare, Vera Likens, relative to the problem.

Members of the Board indicated that they had received calls from some Committee members about getting abandoned autos off the vacant lots and farmyards throughout the County so as to present a little better 'view' to all in the County. Some people just do not care whether junked cars litter their yards or not. The Auditor advised the Board that he had been advised that the private market was profitable now and that people could market their junked or abandoned Autos now rather easily. It is true that funds are available for a program in this area but probably not necessary. The Auditor agreed to look into the matter.

Moved by Naplin seconded by Hanson that the sum of $2,501. be appropriated and paid to the Northwest Regional Development Center of Crookston as the County share of 1975 maintenance. Motion declared unanimously carried.

Moved by Stenberg seconded by Christianson that the sum of $9,000. be appropriated and paid to the Northwest Regional Library for support of the Library. (A Revenue Sharing item—request covers last years budget) Motion declared unanimously carried.

A discussion was held relative to the maintenance of the outlet section of County Ditch No. 70 which drains on the south side of Arctic Enterprises Easterly into the river and now an outlet for the City lagoon system and used by that system an estimated twice a year. A need exists to set an adjusted amount for an annual maintenance of the ditch and it was moved by Naplin seconded by Stenberg that an informational meeting be held in the first floor meeting room at 8:30 P.M., August 26, 1975 to get an input into the matter from the landowners included in the County Ditch 70 drainage area.

Moved by Christianson seconded by Naplin that the minutes of the meetings of June 3 and 19 and July 1, 3, 14, 15 and 25th be accepted as published. Motion declared unanimously carried.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Christianson that the Road & Bridge Committee inspect roads, bridges and culverts at 10:00 A.M., Aug. 26, 1975. Motion carried.

The Board was then appraised of the progress in the search for a solution to the solid waste problem before the Board and the City Council. After discussion Commissioner Stenberg introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, co-operative efforts of the Soil Conservation Services, the Pollution Control Agency and consulting Engineer D. H. Stewart have made information available through soil borings that indicate that land is available in Pennington County for operation of a sanitary land fill, and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of the County Board and of the City of Thief River Falls, to provide a plan for operation of an approved landfill operation at the least cost to the public which they serve.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the County Board of Pennington County does hereby withdraw its agreement to participate with those other Counties in the area planning a Multi-county Solid Waste Management System, and to develop an approved landfill operation in Pennington County. The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Naplin and declared unanimously carried.

Commissioner Christianson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, the County Board of Pennington County has determined that they shall withdraw from the cooperative agreement relative to development of a Multi-county Solid Waste Management System, and

WHEREAS, an alternate plan for development of a sanitary landfill operation in Pennington County will necessitate a capital outlay of such magnitude that it will be an unconscionable burden upon the taxpayers of Pennington County.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Pollution Control Agency of the State of Minnesota be petitioned to provide a grant of funds sufficient to provide an adequate site for a landfill operation in Pennington County in the estimated amount of $168,531. The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Hanson and declared unanimously carried.

Commissioner Hanson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption.

BE IT RESOLVED, that Glenn Tasa, Chairman of the Pennington County Board, be authorized and instructed to enter into agreement in behalf of Pennington County for Teletype services according to Supplement No. 2 to Contract N-6637 for the biennium of July 1, 1975 through June 30, 1977. The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Christianson and declared unanimously carried.

Moved by Stenberg seconded by Christianson that Contract for remodeling the Courthouse with Ranum Construction be accepted as complete and final payment of $4,814.73 be paid. Motion declared unanimously carried.

Dairy Research And Promotion Board Organizes

Fred Feltmann Jr. of Norwood was elected to the vacant treasurer position and the other four members of the executive board of the Minnesota diary research and promotion board were re-elected to their posts at the annual reorganization meeting held July 21.

Feltmann, a charter member of the board established last year who won re-election for a two-year term, succeeds Russell Martinson Jr., of Pine City in the treasurer post. Martinson was one of seven original members of the board who lost to write-in candidates in this year's annual commodity board elections.

Re-elected officers and members of the executive board are Lowell Richards of Buffalo Lake as chairperson, Les Winters of Bingham Lake as vice chairperson, George Rydeen of Stillwater as secretary and Earl Rose of Worthington as member at large.

Directors of the 22-member board rated the June dairy month observance a successful one with the cooperation of the news media, American Dairy association, the dairy cattle breed associations and the Minnesota department of agriculture.

Minnesota dairy research and promotion board began implementation of a producer-referendum approved marketing order on April 1 this year. The marketing order assesses dairy farmers one-half of one per cent of their gross milk checks, with the funds to be used for research and promotion of their industry and its products.

Directors learned that the ordinary six-week time lag in the milk marketing and producer payment system has provided only about 60 days of experience with the volume of revenue, subject to adjustment for a small volume of refunds. They agreed at least a year of experience will be necessary to make long range budget determinations.

A board spokesman said that the producers who are exercising the refund option provided by state law should be patient and understand that the refund process is subject to the same delay as the milk check producers get for the prior month's milk deliveries, plus the bookkeeping process required of the board to verify and process refund claims.

Highway Reps Discuss Local Projects At Fair

Highway department's exhibit at the state fair will feature "district days," a photologging viewer and a slide presentation on noise—all in addition to the official state highway map.

Open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., the exhibit will be housed in the state exhibits building on machinery hill from August 21 through September 1.

To emphasize department activities statewide and to give Minnesotans an opportunity to meet with their local information representatives, Commissioner Frank D. Marzitelli has designated ten of the fair's 12 days as "district days."

Northwestern Minnesota district highway information representative Richard Arnebeck will be on hand to discuss local improvement projects and transportation on Tuesday, August 26. Statewide information will be presented by Bob Blanck on September 1.

The newest additions to the department's exhibit are a photologging viewer and a slide presentation on noise. On the viewer, visitors will see, in color, filmed segments of Minnesota roads. Highway engineers use the film to inspect road sections without making costly trips to the sites. The audio-visual slide presentation deals with noise—its source and effects and what we can do about it.

Visitors to the exhibit also may pick up a free 1975 official Minnesota highway map. Other specialty maps—including detailed county maps, traffic flow maps, and city maps—will be on display. Individuals may order any of these maps for a nominal fee.

Additional displays at the exhibit will include a scale model of the Lowry hill tunnel on I-94 in Minneapolis, a display of traffic safety signs, and other environmental displays.

3 Encephalitis Cases Reported In The Valley

State Health Commissioner Dr. Warren R. Lawson urges Minnesotans to protect themselves from mosquito bites due to continuing reports of suspect cases of Western equine encephalitis in horses throughout the state. He also announced support of the metropolitan mosquito control district's air spraying operations.

Western equine encephalitis—commonly referred to as sleeping sickness—is spread from wild birds to humans and horses by the culex tarsalis mosquito. It is not transmitted directly from human to human, from horse to horse or from horse to human.

Dr. Lawson urged residents to remain indoors after sunset, when the disease-carrying mosquito comes out to feed, or to wear protective clothing and use mosquito repellants.

Recently, U.S. health officials confirmed three human cases of the disease in the Red River Valley area. Two resulted in deaths, while the third victim is recovering. The onset of these three cases was two weeks ago.

Dr. Barry Levy of the Minnesota department of health said the possibility of a western equine encephalitis epidemic is small. "Each day that we don't turn up cases reduces the possibility that there will be a large outbreak. We want people to be cautious," he said, "but the probability of an epidemic appears to be less than it was three weeks ago."

Health officials pointed out that, although suspect cases of the disease in horses is higher than usual, it probably is due to better reporting. The livestock sanitary board last week sent a letter to Minnesota veterinarians urging them to report all suspect cases. Before that letter went out, the number of cases had been about the same as in previous years.

Dr. Robert Sjogren, director of the metropolitan mosquito control district (MMCD), said recently that agency is conducting adult mosquito control operations (both ground and air spraying) in outlying communities adjacent to clusters of suspect horse cases reported in the metropolitan area. Dr. Lawson said the state health department "strongly supports the spraying operations as a protection against further spread of the disease in horses or, possibly, to humans."

The spraying is approved by the environmental protection agency and is not harmful to humans, pets and wildlife, MMCD officials said.

Signs and symptoms of western equine encephalitis vary in individuals of different ages, according to Dr. Levy. In infants under one year of age, high fever and convulsions are among the most common symptoms. In children between five and 14, headache, fever and drowsiness are common early symptoms. In adults, initial symptoms commonly include fairly abrupt onset of fever, nausea and vomiting and severe headache. Mental confusion and other neurologic symptoms can occur. Although must persons who develop the illness recover completely, approximately two to three per cent of those with laboratory-confirmed cases die.

At greatest risk from encephalitis are infants, who are more likely to develop serious complications such as brain damage, and the elderly. Pregnant women should also take special precautions to avoid getting bitten by mosquitoes. Individuals with symptoms suggestive of the illness should see their personal doctor.

In horses signs of the disease include general apathy, loss of appetite and coordination, circling gait or a persistent lying position. Suspected cases in horses should be evaluated by veterinarians.

Suspected cases in both humans and horses should be reported to local health officers and to the Minnesota department of health.

Exotic Cattle Shown At State Fair Aug. 20-21

Cattle from France, Great Britain, Australia, Italy and Germany will be featured in a two-day exotic breeds show at the 1975 Minnesota state fair.

Included in the display, held in the beef barn Wednesday, August 20 (preparation day) and Thursday, August 21, will be examples of 10 breeds rare to the United States, including massive Italian Chianinas. With some Chianina bulls reaching 4,000 pounds—nearly twice the size of most American cattle—the breed ranks as the largest in the world.

Exceptional characteristics such as the size and growth patterns exhibited by the Chianinas have created curiosity about foreign breeds among American cattlemen. Excellent performance data in areas such as milk production and muscling has caused farmers and ranchers to consider cross-breeding Maine-Anjou and Blond d' Aquitaine, which also will be exhibited at the fair, with their own dairy and beef cattle. In the 1930's, a similar desire for better performance led to the importation of the now-familiar Charolais from Mexico.

The exotic breeds show is just one highlight of a full schedule of livestock exhibition and competition at the 1975 state fair, Thursday, Aug. 21 through Labor Day, Sept. 1.

Glenmore Center At Crookston Has Anniversary

Glenmore foundation, Inc., a treatment center for the chemically dependent, of Crookston celebrated its second birthday at a party held August 4 at Trinity Lutheran church in Crookston. Newly-appointed district Judge Robert A. Peterson was the main speaker.

Law enforcement personnel from throughout a seven-county area were guests of honor and were presented certificates for their contribution to the success of Glenmore.

Judge Peterson spoke on the criminal justice system and the change in attitude in society in treating alcoholism. For years, society failed in its treatment of drunkenness, the speaker stated. Drunks were arrested and brought before the criminal justice system. One in three cases handled by the courts was for some form of drunkenness and those brought before the courts were either given a fine or a jail sentence.

The judge said that for years the police and courts discriminated against the poor and the homeless and treatment of persons with drinking problems was not to the welfare of society.

The judge continued with dates of rulings made by high courts dealing with alcoholics, with most of them being in the late 1960's and laws being passed in the 1970's on the treatment of alcoholics. In 1973, a law was passed that communities must have a detoxification center and persons who were drunk must be brought there instead of being put in jail. At first, law enforcement personnel didn't believe this would work, but Judge Peterson said they have seen it work and now believe. Persons who receive treatment in such a place as Glenmore, he said, now are a credit to society.

Senator Roger Moe joined in congratulating Glenmore on its second anniversary. He also announced his support of a bicentennial celebration at Memorial stadium, scheduled for next summer, where thousands of persons who were formally addicted to drugs or alcohol plan to gather to celebrate their recovery. This event will be called "Freedom Fest '76".

Receiving awards were personnel from police departments in Karlstad, Lake Bronson, Mahnomen, Ada, Halstad, Shelly, Thief River Falls, Fosston, McIntosh, Mentor, Erskine, Fertile, Crookston and East Grand Forks; sheriff's departments from Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman Pennington, Polk, Cass, Red Lake and Roseau counties. Also receiving awards were personnel from the Minnesota highway patrol and the U.S. border patrol.

Mahnomen New Site For MMCDC Headquarters

Midwest Minnesota community Development Corporation formerly located in Detroit Lakes, officially moved into its new corporate offices in Mahnomen August 5, according to president Leander Berberich, Brooks.

MMCDC is a private venture capital group which operates in six and half counties in northern Minnesota. Its primary goal is business development, which produces the greatest lever to provide permanent jobs and expand the economic base of the special impact area (SIA).

The corporation's initial funds come from the community services administration, office of economic development. Its corporate affairs are administered by a board of directors, elected by the membership in the counties and White Earth reservation, and a professional staff of 13 persons.

The purpose of MMCEC, according to executive director James Bingham, is to invest money in business so that it can, in time, become independent and self-sufficient, thereby improving the quality of life and economic well-being for the 78,000 residents of the SIA. These investments are in three major areas, agriculture and timber related businesses and labor-intensified firms. Investment is made through acquisition or start-up of the business, which may or may not be already in the area.

Besides president Berberich, other officers include Gunder Hanson, Detroit Lakes, vice president; Charlene Lundin, Bagley, secretary; and Everette Johnson, Waubun, treasurer. Directors, by county, include: Becker—Wayne Ruona, Detroit Lakes, and Hanson; Clearwater—Arnold Higdem, Bagley and Mrs. Lundin; East Polk—F. N. Moen, Erskine, and Bernt Nomes, McIntosh; Hubbard—Bertha Cermak, Lake George, and Earl Erickson, Nevis; Mahnomen—Mrs. Marion Handyside and Vernon Scott, both of Lengby; Pennington—Dr. David Brown and Jan Cullen, both of Goodridge; Red Lake—Sidney Kirk, Red Lake Falls, and Berberich; White Earth Reservation—Henry J. Smith, Ponsford and Johnson.

Fair Exhibit To Stress Energy Conservation

In an effort to increase consumer awareness of proper energy conservation in the home, the Minnesota blue flame gas association has converted the blue flame exhibit at the Minnesota state fair into a restuarant. The blue flame kitchen will stress proper energy management for homeowners.

The "kitchen" located across the street from the state fair grandstand, will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. during the 1975 state fair, August 21-September 1.

"Everywhere a person looks, he will be faced with a conservation display," states Jim Plazer of Peoples Natural Gas, Rochester. Palzer is serving as co-chairman of the blue flame state fair activity. "Even the placemats on the table will feature an energy conservation game," he explains.

In the center of the kitchen, on a raised platform, there will be a cut-away of a small house. One side will show the proper energy-saving measures, while the other side portrays poor energy conservation measures.

"A narrator-demonstrator will point out where a homeowner can save money—and how much—by using acceptable energy conservation practices," explained blue flame committee member Joan McDonald Minnesota gas company, Minneapolis.

Mrs. McDonald went on to say that "the narrator-demonstrator will also show how simple it is to prepare crepes and the various fillings that can go into them." Recipes for the crepes and various fillings will be provided free of charge to the public.

The restuarant will feature five varieties of main course and dessert crepes. Types of crepes offered will be beef, turkey, mushroom, apple and chocolate. The cost of the meal (which includes choice of any two crepes, beverage and tax) will be one dollar.

Any profits from the blue flame kitchen will be donated to the Minnesota department of natural resources.

Three gas ranges and three gas grills will be given away in drawings at the conclusion of the state fair.

Food Retailers Disclaim Blame For Lid Supply

"Don't blame your grocer," is the appeal of Hugh Cosgrove, executive director of the Minnesota Food Retailers association, in calling attention to the food retailers' inability to meet the demand for canning lids.

Cosgrove, after returning from a recent meeting of the national association of retail grocers, points out that food retailers throughout Minnesota, as well as the nation, are receiving unjust criticism because of their inability to meet the demand of buyers for canning lids.

"Our retailers cannot get enough lids to satisfy the demand. For this reason, during our national meeting we arranged to meet with the lid manufacturers to get a direct status report," Cosgrove explains.

"Unfortunately, nothing we heard suggests that we will see the end of the shortage of canning lids this year," he said.

At the meeting with the lid manufacturers, the grocers organization asked, "Why a lid shortage?"

A report of the United States department of agriculture, which shows that six million new gardens were started in this country in 1974 and another six million this year, was cited to explain the basic reason. Those 12 million new gardens in just two years have created a tremendous new demand for canning supplies.

"Currently lid production at the two major manufacturers, Kerr Glass and Ball Corporation, is running around the clock with a 10 per cent increase in production over last year. However, this added lid production is just not enough to meet the demand," according to Cosgrove.

Speaking on behalf of the Minnesota food retailers, Cosgrove said that grocers in Minnesota are selling canning supplies as fast as they dan get deliveries.

"The demand is so great," he said, "That in many cases, canning lids and other supplies are moved directly from the trucks to the grocery shelves. This just gives emphasis to the difficulty your grocer is having in getting enough canning supplies available to meet the demands of customers."

Cosgrove reminds consumers in Minnesota that the ability of the grocer to provide canning supplies rests almost entirely on the relationship between the demand and supply available from the manufacturers.

"The food retailer is as interested as the consumer is in making sure that everyone gets what he needs in the way of canning supplies and lids. Since there is not enough to go around, some retailers, in order to assure some supplies for all home canners, are limiting the number of jars and lids in order to spread the limited supply."

Cosgrove concluded by saying that the consumers themselves can help to alleviate some of the lid shortage by making sure that they only buy as many lids as they need. "While there is no evidence to support the charge, one of the other reasons suggested for the lid shortage is that consumers have been hoarding."

finances & public relations

Public Relations

The School Board of Independent School District 564, Thief River Falls, Minnesota, has developed a sound public relations policy and program. This development has been in response to the growing interest of the public in their schools.

The program involves, and is concerned with, students, staff, parents, taxpayers, and non-taxpayers, and service and social clubs. The program utilizes the TIMES (local newspaper); KTRF (local cable TV and radio); annual reports, student carry homes; speaker's bureau, and other opportunities.

The Board's PUBLIC RELATIONS PROGRAM accomplishes:

1. The interpretation and explanation to the public of the objectives, conditions and needs of the school.
2. The interpretation to the school personnel the attitudes, wishes and reactions of the public.
3. The presentation of financial and educational needs of the school to the public as information in an understandable manner and so the public may act as providing for those needs.
4. The strengthening of relationships between the parents and teachers so each can do his best for full development of each child.
5. The cooperation of efforts with other agencies in the community. This cooperative recognition of mutual interest, concerns and obligations results in a better total educational environment.

The Board of Education strengthens its public relations program:

1. STUDENTS: By providing staff, program, activities and facilities so that the student will feel pride in their school.
2. STAFF: By working with the staff to develop a positive learning climate within the school. This in turn will be reflected in staff-community relationships.
3. PARENTS: By providing an opportunity for parents to show an interest; to convey their opinions; and, advise. Time is provided for parent-teacher conferences; open house; and, sixth and ninth grade parent orientation programs.
4. TAXPAYERS AND NON-TAXPAYERS: The Board needs the support and understanding of all citizens. Public meetings, radio, furnishing speakers and publishing of school information is intended to reach all citizens whether or not they have school aged children.
5. SERVICE AND SOCIAL CLUBS: The Board recognizes that these clubs are a valuable support for the school program and invites their educational representatives to work closely with school personnel. Many scholarships, awards, aids and donations are contributed to students. The Board recognizes school personnel membership as excellent public relations.

The Board also follows a number of specific procedures to assist in having a well developed public relations program: 1. Advertised open public meeting; 2. Publication of minutes; 3. Providing the meeting agenda in advance to Board members, KTRF, TIMES, and Chamber of Commerce; 4. A time at each Board meeting set aside for OPEN DISCUSSION by the public; 5. Board member appointment to City Planning Commission, City Park and Recreation Commission; Teacher Professional Growth Committee, and joint City-County-School Board study group; 6. Service by Board and employees on Boards of local community agencies (United Fund, Church Boards, Day Care Activity Center, local banks, old folks homes, etc.; 7. Public hearings on budget; 8. Cooperation with teacher's organization for American Education Week; 9. Establishment of active advisory committees at Area Vocational Technical Institute; 10. Attendance at local, regional, state, and national meetings; 11. Sponsoring an active adult education program in Thief River Falls, Roseau, and Red Lake Falls; 12. Representative attendance at other governmental organization meetings; 13. Publication of minutes of all meetings; 14. Cooperative efforts in use of buildings, play areas and transportation; 15. Availability to public and media; 16. Appearance of school personnel on Sylvia's Coffee Time (KTRF Cable TV).

The Board actively pursues a positive public relations program which informs the public. The Board is striving to involve the students, teachers, administrators, parents, and taxpayers in this positive program and invites your comments.

Finances

In addition to local tax monies that are received through property levies, the varied and diversified operation of a School District are supported by numerous Federal and State Apportionments, Aids, and Grants.

Our School District in addition to its regular educational curriculum, conducts programs in the areas of Special Education for the handicapped as well as providing services through College Work Study, Comprehensive Employment Training Act, Vocational Education, Pre-School Diagnostic Clinics, Vocational Rehabilitation and on the job training.

The diversity of these programs necessitates that detailed records be maintained on all income and expenditures so that monthly, quarterly and annual reports can be prepared.

The acquisition and payments for materials, supplies, food, equipment, and services, in support of these programs, as well as the issuance of bi-monthly payrolls is the primary responsibility of the Business Department.

The aforementioned programs and services are but a few of a variety of categories that must be identified. Our Revenue and Expenditure ledgers for instance, contain over 800 separate and active accounts, which far better illustrates the extent to which records must be maintained.

The bi-monthly issuance of payrolls to some 350 full and part time employees also involves the maintenance of detailed records pertaining to employee earnings and deductions. All salaries paid are also categorized and summarized into a variety of salary expenditure accounts and reports thereby generated to State and Federal Agencies. All deductions ranging from Federal and State to Group Insurance, Union, Retirement and Tax Sheltered annuities must be reported and paid periodically. For example there are fourteen Tax Sheltered Annuity Companies that reports and payments are issued to monthly.

Reports generated by the Business Department can be best described as a decision making reference. It is this accumulation of data that make possible decisions, by which determinations can be made regarding future additional programs or their possible curtailment.

Our role is supportive to the educational process and equally responsive to its role in maintaining fiscal responsibility.

LINCOLN HIGH STUDENTS

We have been busy getting Lincoln High and the District Service Center ready for you. The buildings have been cleaned, some new furniture has been placed in the classrooms, many new wall lockers have been installed and/or repaired. Some classes have changed due to curriculum work by the high school instructors and a few new teachers have been added to the faculty. We hope you will do your part to keep your high school in good shape.

Some things that you should know about the beginning of school:

1. School begins Wednesday, August 27 at 8:35 a.m. Grades 9 and 10 will meet in the auditorium and grades 11 and 12 will go to the class rooms designated on the sheets by the school entrance doors.
2. The cafeteria will be open and noon lunches will be served the first day of school. Hot lunches for senior high students is 40¢.
3. An athletic activity ticket is available for the student to purchase at a cost of $5.00.
4. The student daily schedule and student handbook will be handed out during the first hour classroom orientation.
5. There will be no late bus the first week of school; the late bus will begin operating September 2 with sign up in the Student Affairs office.

Any questions about schedule changes, school, your studies, careers, colleges, personal problems - please - make use of the counseling staff.

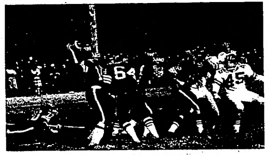
If for some reason you do not plan to return to school this fall, please notify Mr. Soine's office at 681-2700, ext. 230, at your earliest convenience.

Anticipating the best year ever in 1975-76 at Lincoln Senior High School.

CUMULATIVE RECORDS

Students records concerning attendance, academic achievement and conduct, are open to the student's parents whose child is under 18 years of age or to the individual who is over 18 years of age. This is in compliance with state and federal regulations governing official records and individual privacy.

Mr. F. P. Hamerlinck
Senior High Principal



EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Each student is urged to participate in one or more extracurricular activities, to be a "doer" and not a "watcher." Join activities that interest you. There are athletic, music, drama and subject-oriented clubs; student council, publications and interest groups. When you commit yourself to an activity, you owe it your best efforts, not only to benefit the club, but yourself.

If you fall behind in your school work, extra help and teacher conferences take precedence over any extra-curricular activity, and you may be requested to drop extra activities.

However, while there is no disputing the important place grades hold in education today, the most vital factor is the total education an individual accumulates. In order to take advantage of extra learning opportunities, plan your activity schedule carefully. Don't become overloaded. Obligations at home, church and in the community should be considered in arriving at a program that will be most suitable for you. Discuss this with your parents. They are to be fully informed of each extracurricular activity in which you participate, its hours, schedules, practice sessions, performances.

Activities will be scheduled during the day or after school at times convenient to the group and its adviser. No students are to remain after school unless requested or are participating in activities supervised by an adviser. Only officially recognized school groups may use the school building or its facilities.

STUDENT INSURANCE

Student insurance is available at a nominal cost and is optional. When a student insured under this plan is injured, he will be given a Claim Form from the nurse's office. This form must be completed by his parents and presented to the doctor or hospital. The school merely acts as a medium in supplying the insurance and assumes no liability, either for the injury or the subsequent negotiations with the company.

FEES — ATHLETIC ACTIVITY TICKET

An all school athletic pass is available to each Lincoln High School student at the reduced rate of $5.00. This pass will allow admission to all athletic contests in this school district except for tournaments. Should you lose your activity ticket, a duplicate will be issued at the cost of $0.25.

Students will be expected to reimburse the school district for lost or damaged books, equipment and facilities. A security deposit for the return of materials, supplies or equipment may be charged in some classes.

ATTENDANCE

You are expected to be present and punctual for all your classes throughout the year. When sickness or higher obligation to your family necessitates your absence, this should be explained by a note from your parents, brought to the office when you return to class. Your parents should call the office, however, before first period on the first day of your absence to inform the Principal that you will not be in school. After absence you must obtain an admit slip from the office which will permit you to return to class:

ABSENCE

The following reasons for absences are valid:

1. Illness.
2. Serious illness, or death in the immediate family.
3. Emergency medical or dental attention.
4. Absences approved in advance with school principal (registration for draft, job interviews, college visitations, etc.).
5. Authorized religious holidays.

The following are not excusable absences in accordance with state attendance laws:

1. Truancy.
2. Suspension.
3. Missing the school bus.
4. Trips not approved in advance.
5. Shopping.
6. Hunting, fishing, attendance at games.
7. Birthday or other celebrations.
8. Gainful employment.

DRESS

The appearance of any young person is primarily the responsibility of that individual and his parents. We expect students to maintain that type of appearance that is not distracting to teachers or other students to the detriment of the educational process of the school. When a student's appearance is felt to be detrimental, a parent-administrator conference will be arranged.

GUIDANCE

Guidance services are available for every student in the school. These services include assistance with educational planning, interpretation of test scores, occupational information, career information, study helps, help with home, school and-or social concerns, or any question the student may feel he would like to discuss with the counselor.

Students wishing to visit a counselor should contact the secretary in the guidance office to arrange for an appointment.

SMOKING

Students are not permitted to smoke at any time in the school building, on the school grounds, or within the area surrounding the school grounds. This applies to all school sponsored activities as well as the regular school day. Violation of this rule constitutes a serious offense, and possible suspension from school.

Expect Decline In School Enrollment

Enrollment projections of 3,297 students—a slight increase from 3,269 a year ago—have been made by the Thief River Falls school district for the opening of the 1975-76 fall term next Wednesday. A full day of classes will be held the first day with all buses running and the noon lunch program to be in operation.

Dr. William Corliss, superintendent of schools, noted declining enrollments expected in the elementary and middle schools with an increase expected at Lincoln high school. Franklin middle school can also anticipate substantial enrollment drops in the next three years, as can the Lincoln school.

Elementary enrollment projected this year is 1,332 as compared with enrollment of 1,353 in kindergarten through fifth grade a year ago. Middle school enrollment (grades 6-7-8) is expected to drop to 803 from 829 last year while Lincoln enrollment will climb from 1,086 to 1,142.

Middle school classes projected for this year (exclusive of special education students) include 255 in grade six, 268 in grade seven and 269 in grade eight. Looking ahead three years, when the third, fourth and fifth grades will have advanced, numbers will be down considerably. Projections for this year show only 202 in grade three, 221 in grade four and 22 in grade five.

Much of the back to school information was included in a special section of Monday's Times. A summary of information on elementary, middle and high schools includes the following:

Elementary Schools

All elementary schools will begin class at 8:45 a.m. Those in Thief River Falls will dismiss at 3:20 p.m. and St. Hilaire school will dismiss at 3:40 p.m. (St. Hilaire school allows an additional 15 minutes for the noon lunch period.)

Elementary students may participate in a special milk program at a cost of $13.50 per year for morning and afternoon servings or $6.80 for milk once a day. School lunch price for students in grades 1-5 (kindergarten operates on a half-day basis) is 35 cents or $1.75 for a weekly ticket. The lunch price includes milk; milk taken for drinking with a sack lunch will cost four cents per serving. Prinicipals are William Desrocher and Richard Sauer.

Middle School

Students in Franklin middle school will report for classes Wednesday at 8:45 a.m. Sixth graders will report to the cafeteria, seventh graders to the library and eight graders to the small gymnasium to pick up their schedules, according to Dr. Milton Hoff, principal.

Sixth graders will remain in the cafeteria for an orientation program prior to being dismissed for first period classes. Information will be provided by the administration or faculty on policies and procedures from the student handbook. Activity tickets will be sold at $5 each and information on student insurance will be distributed for students to take home with them. Cost of noon lunches will be 40 cents or $2 for a weekly ticket.

Scheduled crosstown bus service will start on September 2 when school resumes following the Labor day holiday. Students may ride any bus on the first three days of school.

Lincoln High School

Classes at Lincoln will begin Wednesday at 8:35 a.m. with grades nine and 10 to meet in the auditorium and grades 11 and 12 to go to the classrooms designated on sheets to be posted by the school entrance doors. Lunch cost will be 40 cents per day or $2 for a weekly ticket.

Athletic activity tickets will be available for $5 and the student handbook will be distributed during the first hour classroom orientation, according to principal Frank Hamerlinck.

No late bus will be operated during the first three days of school but a regular late bus schedule will be maintained beginning September 2.

Registration

Students who attended Thief River Falls school last year have registered for 1975-76 classes. Students new to the district who have not registered are asked to do so at the respective schools which they will attend.

School Board Hires Teachers Tuesday Morning

Thief River Falls board of education hired three teachers, a guidance director and an elementary school secretary at a special meeting held Tuesday morning at the Rex cafe in Thief River Falls. Following the breakfast session, the board members toured all of the district's schools.

Board chairman Clyde Christensen also made six appointments to committees and accepted one committee responsibility himself. Appointed were Wallace Sparby, center school governing board and Chamber of Commerce board representative; Kenneth Murphy, city recreation; Maynard Wedul, Minnesota state high school league; Larry McDowell, city planning commission; Robert Sorvig, Agassiz health planning council; and Harry Sjulson, professional growth. Christensen will himself serve on the city, county and school coordinating committee.

Teachers hired by the board included the following:

Mary Fran Cook, holder of a BS degree from Moorhead state college with no teaching experience, physical education and language arts teacher at Franklin middle school;

Sharon Velcheff, graduate of St. Cloud state college with a BS degree and no teaching experience, reading teacher at Franklin middle school; and

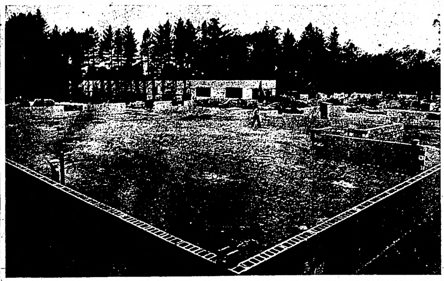
Susan LeMoine, BS degree holder from Moorhead state college with one year of experience, SLBP teacher at St. Hilaire and Washington schools.

Hired for the guidance department at Franklin middle school was Pam Carlson, holder of BS and MS degrees from the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. She also has no prior experience.

Frances Olson was hired as a secretary at Washington elementary school.

Lunch prices for all adults who eat in the school lunch program were set at 80 cents to comply with state regulations. The rate will include AVTI and Northland community college students.

The board also affirmed membership in L. B. Hartz Wholesale, Inc., an association of member customers. The membership makes the school district eligible to participate in allocation of earnings which would be deposited in the school district trust fund.



WALLS ARE RISING at the new Oakland Park nursing home in Thief River Falls. While block for walls is being laid on some areas of the building, brick facing is being placed on walls already completed. The wall at the back of the photo is at full height and the dark brick exterior has been placed on most of it. The exterior will feature a dark brick to approximately the top of the windows with a white aggregate surfacing above the brick to the roof line. Trees were removed where necessary to provide building area but specifications called for all trees to be left standing to within 10 feet of the building perimeter. Construction crews expect no difficulty in having the building enclosed to permit interior work during the winter.

Council Exchanges Problems On Funds

When Thief River Falls was awarded a $300,000 community development block grant from the department of housing and urban development in July, city officials knew their worries were far from over. The problems of obtaining the funds were simply exchanged for the problems of properly implementing them. Some of the problems involved in the early stages of the implementation process were discussed at an adjourned regular meeting of the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday night in the city auditorium council chambers.

City planner Terry A. Madson informed council members and city planning commission members present that Burlington-Northern railroad offered to relinquish its property in the south central area of the city and proceed to shift to a new location for $175,000. The cost would include payment for property and construction of facilities (depot, track, unloading platform) at a new site.

Madson said that because of guidelines established by HUD, which carefully outlines the steps necessary for acquisition of property with the grant money, the city cannot consider acceptance of the railroad's offer.

The steps outlined by HUD include: Notice of intent to acquire; establishment of just compensation (two appraisals, review of appraisals); negotiations; condemnation, if necessary; settlement and surrender of possession; and relocation benefits.

If Burlington-Northern is not willing to accept the city's offer of just compensation, determined by these steps, the city will have to resort to condemnation to acquire the property. The condemnation possibility touched off a round of discussion by the councilmen. Some felt this action could start a lengthy and expensive court battle. Others said past condemnation proceedings in Thief River Falls have been handled quite amicably.

However any decision the council may make on this matter will be in the future. The city planner said an environmental review must be completed before the acquisition steps can begin. Madson added the review should be finished in approximately one week.

The city is seeking the Burlington-Northern property and other sites in the south-central area, for development of an elderly housing project.

In other matters, the council tabled action on a recommendation by the planning

BICENTENNIAL observance in Thief River Falls is certainly being "plugged" by the local fire department. Fire hydrants in the downtown area and along highways are being painted, red, white and blue by the department in honor of the 1976 American Revolution Bicentennial. Other hydrants in the city (there are about 350 in all) may be painted as time permits. Fireman turned exterior decorator in the photo above is "Butch" Lafrenz.

4 Auto Mishaps Cause $1,830 In Property Damage

Four automobile accidents in Thief River Falls recently caused total estimated damage of $1,830 to vehicles and minor injuries to a young bicyclist.

At 5:09 p.m. Saturday, August 9, Mrs. Richard A. Olson of Thief River Falls was traveling south on Kendall avenue and Mrs. Emil Hagman of the city was driving west on Nora avenue when their cars met in the intersection, causing an estimated $400 damage to each car.

Owen Weckworth of the city and Mrs. Jeff Roadfeldt, TRF, were both traveling south on highway 59 at about 2:46 p.m. August 11 when Mrs. Roadfeldt attempted to turn left into the Northland Foods parking lot and was hit from behind by the Weckworth car. Damages were estimated at $500 to the Weckworth car and $300 to the Roadfeldt vehicle.

68 Handicapped In Programs At Local Schools

Thief River Falls school district educates 68 handicapped children from as far away as International Falls and Hallock, according to Dr. William Corliss, superintendent of schools, who says it is the only school district serving hard of hearing children in northern Minnesota other than Duluth.

"We serve northwestern Minnesota for the trainable mental retarded and we serve a number of surrounding school districts in the area of educable mental retarded," he said.

Ten per cent of the certified school district teaching staff work with children having special needs. Other Staff members spend considerable time helping the handicapped children, the superintendent said.

Personnel working with handicapped children include: Four teachers working with educable mental retarded; one teacher with trainable educable retarded; two teachers with hard of hearing; three with speech impairments; three with slow learning behavioral problems; six working 85 per cent of their time with remedial reading; and a number doing home bound work for varying lengths of time.

There are several full time management aides assisting the teachers. Counselors, nurses, administrators, board of education members, regular classroom instructors, custodians, secretaries, cafeteria and bus personnel spend many hours serving these children also, Dr. Corlis noted.

"The state department of education reimburses the local school district at a reasonably high rate for the obvious costs of teacher salary, supplies and equipment," he said. "Where children attend the difference between aids and cost are charged to the child's home district. As there is no state aid earned this year, costs will be extremely high to local school districts for any expanded special education service."

$6,775,898 In Building Permits Set New Record

Building permits totaling a record $6,775,898 have been issued for Thief River Falls through August 15, according to Robert Bregier, city building inspector. Bulk of the permits—$5,889,508—is for commercial construction.

Previous record building permit year for Thief River Falls was in 1968 when a total of $5,245,977 in building permits was issued. Among the permits issued that year were Northwestern hospital addition, $1,616,000; senior citizen housing (415 South Arnold), $1,027,094; United Methodist church, $375,000; addition to Valley home, $367,000; Northland Community college, $596,458; two Red Carpet apartment buildings, $130,000 each; and Arctic Enterprises, $96,000. Residential housing boom was also underway at that time.

Although the 1975 total is a record annual amount already with a third of the year remaining, Bregier notes that the permits do not accurately reflect total project costs. Land purchase and preparation costs and non-construction costs such as furnishings and fixtures are not included, he said.

As an example, the Best Western motel has a building permit issued for $1 million while total project cost has been reported by the owners as nearly $2 million. A building permit issued to Country Inn motel for $350,000 last fall was not included in the 1975 total listed although most of the construction actually took place this year.

The law enforcement center being built at the corner of Main avenue and First street was issued a building permit based on the construction bids totaling $824,053. Not included was land acquisition, the cost of which was borne by the city at $109,000.

Building permit for Northwestern hospital's medical office building addition and remodeling was also based on bid totals amounting to $2,497,455. Land acquisition of about $140,000 was not included.

Building permit for Oakland Park nursing home at $1,096,000 was also exclusive of land value since the property being used was already owned by Pennington county. Room furnishings and fixtures are also not included in the construction project.

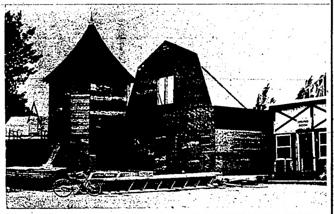
Bregier said that building permits for all construction other than commercial total $886,390 and include 17 new homes, remodeling projects, garages and other items.

Although the motel, medical office building, law enforcement center and Oakland Park comprise the four largest commercial projects underway, substantial investments are being made in other commercial ventures. Among them are major additions to Forsberg's, Inc., in the industrial park; Lon's cafe on Oakland Park road; Family Bowl on highway 32 south; and Northwest Beverage company on Pennington avenue.

Church Center Moves; Clothes Accepted Oct. 1

Due to a shift to a new location, Mrs. Eugene Howes, coordinator of the Seventh Day Adventist church community services center, has requested city residents to cease bringing old clothes to the former center site above the Thief River clinic.

The said the clothes will again be gratefully accepted at the new location on Tindolph avenue when the center re-opens October 1.



UNIQUE CONSTRUCTION design is being used in the large addition to Lon's cafe in Thief River Falls. The old world Bavarian style building will include a spiral staircase in the tower entrance area, leading up to a loft which will seat about 35 diners and overlook the main dining room. Main dining area will seat 75 to 80 people. The bar and lounge area will be located to the left of the entrance and the present dining room at right will be divided into two private dining rooms. The new addition has a full basement and future development is planned for that area. Project completion is expected to permit use early in December. Ranum Construction company is the general contractor on the project.

Course Accepts Registrations

Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute has opened registration for the small business management course for 1976. This course is designed solely to offer educational assistance to the small businessman or woman. Anyone who is engaged in wholesale, retail or service type business and has a desire to improve his or her operation is eligible to enroll.

Small business management students attend a series of evening classes and regular daytime visits to their place of business are scheduled by the instructor.

"In these days of business stress, every owner and manager must keep abreast of every facet of his own business to survive," states Don Jonson, course instructor. "Recordkeeping and its analysis is the key to business success. At the end of each year, each student will be furnished with a computerized analysis of his own business. From this analysis record, the student can better determine his business decisions for the coming year."

Enrollment in this class is limited so interested businessmen and women are asked to contact Jonson at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute, highway 1 East, Thief River Falls, Minnesota 56701 or call 681-5424 as soon as possible.

Vows Exchanged Here By Benedict And Kalinoski

St. Bernard's Catholic church in this city was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Teresa Benedict, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Benedict, and Thomas Kalinoski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Kalinoski, all of Thief River Falls.

Rev. James Bernauer officiated at the double ring ceremony witnessed by 175 relatives and friends. Organists were Kristy Gerardy and Kathy Kohler, friends of the couple. Brenda Laidley, a friend of the bride, sang "Colour My World," and "We've Only Just Begun."

On each side of the altar were candelabras decorated with yellow daisies, white carnations and greens. Marking the pews were white bows and greens.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a white summer-knit A-line gown with re-embroidered French lace at the empire waistline, neckline and on the cuffs of the long, fitted sleeves. A lace profile headpiece held her cathedral length veil of double bridal illusion, edged with corresponding scalloped lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, white carnations and babies' breath, tied with emerald ribbon.

Serving the bride as her personal attendant was Jodi Kemritz, a friend.

Maid of honor was Julie Deutsch of St. Paul, a friend of the bride. She was attired in a light yellow knit halter-styled gown, complemented by a short jacket fashioned of a sheer yellow floral print accented with yellow knit collar and sleeves.

Shelly Langlie, another friend of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her gown, similar to the maid of honor's, was in mint green. Both wore identical necklaces, gifts from the bride, and each carried a bouquet of yellow daisy mums, babies' breath and emerald green ribbon.

Flower girl was Heidi Anderson, a cousin of the groom. Like the ring bearer, they wore dark green swallow-tail tuxedos with ruffled shirts to match the gowns worn by the bride's attendants. Their boutonnieres were white carnations with yellow sweetheart rose centers. The groom was attired in an all-white tuxedo of the same style. His boutonniere was a cluster of three yellow sweetheart roses and greens.

The mother of the bride was attired in a yellow knit dress featuring long, fitted sleeves and a V-neckline. The mother of the groom wore a mint green floor-length gown with long chiffon sleeves trimmed with matching lace. Both wore identical corsages of yellow roses and white daisies with babies' breath.

Katie Herber-Karl Schwinn Exchange Original Vows

"And the Lord said, It is not good that man should live alone . . Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife; and they shall be as one flesh." Gen. 2:18, 24, were the Bible verses chosen by Miss Katie Jo Herber and Karl E. Schwinn as the theme of their recent wedding.

The six o'clock ceremoney took place at the Seventh-day Adventist church in this city with Rev. Phil Young officiating.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Leo Herber of North Elm, Thief River Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. David Schwinn of Berrien Springs, Mich.

Shelly Eno of Minneapolis, a friend of the bride, was the organist. She played a number of Bach's selections including "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" for the processional, "Allegro" for the recessional, and "A Voice is Calling," as Mrs. Herber and the groom's parents entered the sanctuary. During the ceremony, the groom paid tribute to their parents and Kelly Sue Herber, a sister of the bride, sang Delamont's "There Is A Sweet Presence." Highlighting the ceremony, that featured original wedding vows composed by the couple, the bride and groom knelt, facing each other, and offered prayers of dedication. As they knelt, the mother of the groom sang the prayer song, "Allegro." Accompanist was Louise Young, wife of the pastor.

Forming the chancel setting and lining the white carpeted aisle were candelebra decorated with yellow and white daisies and yellow ribbon streamers. Across the aisle was a roping of lilies of the valley. In front of the altar was a low satin covered table, flanked on either side by two satin covered kneeling benches.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was attired in the wedding gown designed and made by her maternal grandmother and worn by the bride's mother 25 years ago. The gown was fashioned of white satin and Chantilly lace, featuring a fitted bodice with an overlay of lace. A scalloped Bertha collar accented the low, rounded neckline and short, capped sleeves. Falling from gathers just below the waistline was a full skirt that flowed into a sweeping court train. To complete her attire, she wore over-the-elbow, lace-over-satin mitts, buttoned with satin buttons. For something borrowed, traditionally carried out by brides, she wore a borrowed veil, made and worn by Mrs. Ervin Keisz at her own wedding. The double tiered veil was of nylon illusion and was held in place by a cap of Chantilly lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried an airy nosegay of yellow and white daisies and babies' breath with trailing Spring Arie.

Maid of honor was another sister, Kelly Sue Herber. Bridesmaids were Susan Poplewell Farnsworth of Edmonds, Wash., and Debbie Quance of Ortonville, friends of the bride. They wore floor-length gowns of navy and powder blue floral print with accents of pink. Complementing the gowns were wide cape collars forming the sleeves. Each carried a natural wicker basket filled with yellow and white daisies and pink ribbon streamers.

Serving as Bible attendant was Teresa Schwinn, sister of the groom. She wore a gown of white and blue floral print fashioned with ruffles edging the three-quarter length sleeves and the floor-length skirt.

Cecil Smith of Wautoma, Wis., a friend of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Tim Herber, and Lyman Schwinn, brothers of the couple. Serving as ushers were George Herber, brother of the bride, and Terry Houck, brother-in-law of the bride. The groom wore Windsor style tuxedo and trousers in powder blue with a yellow rosebud boutonniere. His attendants wore navy blue trousers to complement their powder blue Windsor coats.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Herber selected a gold knit floor-length gown topped by an open floor-length coat of gold sheer print featuring a bow at the neckline and long gathered sleeves, banded at the wrist.

The mother of the groom wore a dacron floor-length gown of a blue floral print fashioned with a raised diamond midriff outlined in blue lace that extended from the V-neckline. Ruffles edged the trumpet sleeves and formed the deep flounce on the skirt.

Honor guests were Alex J. Huber of York, Neb., maternal grandfather of the bride, and Mrs. Thelma Schultz of Denver, Colo., paternal grandmother of the groom.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride hosted a reception in the SDA elementary school gymnasium. Host and hostess were Dr. and Mrs. Jerome Bray. Karen D'Angelo Juhl, a friend of the bride, presided at the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a four-tiered wedding cake, iced in white and trimmed with yellow scalloping. Fresh yellow daisies topped each tier and surrounded the base. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Dexter Huber, aunt of the bride.

Edna Babcock, another aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Eugene Howes, a friend of the bride, served the punch as Mrs. Wayne Juhl, friend of the bride, and Mrs. Clyde Huber, aunt of the bride, served the sandwiches and fruit salad. Mr. and Mrs. Louie Juhl were in charge of the gift table. Waitresses were Mrs. Darrell Glass, Mrs. Floyd Borgen, Mrs. Alvin Farbo and Mrs. Laverne Johnson. Mrs. Ervin Kiesz served as wedding coordinator.

For traveling on the wedding trip along the North Shore drive and to the upper Michigan Peninsula, the bride wore a floor-length skirt of blue plaid, matching the vest and trousers worn by the groom. Their blouse and shirt were of light blue.

The couple is now at home at 512 North Main street in Berrien Springs, Mich. The bride is a graduate of Maplewood Academy at Hutchinson and received her associate degree in nursing in 1974 at Southern Missionary college, Chattanooga, Tenn. She is presently employed as a registered nurse at Pawating hospital in Niles, Mich.

The groom is a graduate of Ozark academy, Gentry, Ark., and attended Andrew's university in Berrien. He spent a year in Peru and Ecquador as a student missionary returning to Berrien Springs in August of 1974. He is employed there at Andrew's University as a commercial pilot and flight instructor while majoring in business administration and aviation. Photo, James Solsten.

Marriage Vows Spoken By Myrna Dagen-Brian Boman

Bouquets of yellow carnations and candelabra graced with white daisies and yellow streamers formed the altar setting at Redeemer Lutheran church for the recent wedding of Miss Myrna Dagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dagen, and Brian Boman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wallace Boman, all of rural Thief River Falls.

Rev. Keith Prekker, pastor of the church, and Joe Dillon, intern, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. William Halbasch was the organist. She also served as accompanist for the flautist, Mrs. Jeff Roadfeldt as she played, "Day By Day," and "Follow me;" and the soloists: Ron Hanson, as he sang, "Sunrise And Sunset," and "The Wedding Song," Jan Nordin as he sang, "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee." The assembled guests sang, "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty," as the couple lit the wedding candle.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown, which she had designed and which was made by her mother, was fashioned of white polyester crepe with bodice and sleeves of embroidered lace. Matching lace trimmed the skirt, encircling it at the hemline. Her veil of imported silk illusion, held by a pearl trimmed Juliet headpiece, was edged with coordinating lace. She carried an arrangement of yellow roses, miniature carnations and babies' breath.

The bride's personal attendant was Mrs. Jeff Roadfeldt.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Jerry Alexander of Detroit, Mich. Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Lyle Austad, sister of the groom, Mrs. Jan Nordin of Minneapolis, cousin of the bride, and Miss Stephanie Dagen, sister of the bride. Amy Alexander, niece of the bride, was flower girl. All wore identical floor-length gowns of blue polyester knit with white dots. All the attendants carried arrangements of yellow daisies, miniature carnations and babies' breath.

Arnold Boman attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Dan and Phil Norgren of Moorhead, friends of the couple, and Martin Leiberg of Greenbush, cousin of the bride. The men of the wedding party wore navy blue tuxedos with light blue shirts and yellow boutonnieres.

Serving as ushers were Jerry Alexander, brother-in-law of the bride, and Leonard Kotta, friend of the couple. Muriel Lindbeck and Peggy Pantebook, friend of the couple, distributed the wedding programs. Serving as acolytes were Mary Ellen Grundhaus and Tim Olson, friends of the couple.

The mother of the bride wore a pink crepe floor-length gown with a matching lace jacket. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of pink carnations and white roses. The groom's mother was attired in a sleeveless, floor-length gown of mint green polyester, accented with a corsage of peach colored carnations and yellow roses.

Honor guests at the ceremony were Mrs. Josie Swenson of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, grandmother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Garner Pederson of Karlstad and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Halvorson of Minneapolis, godparents of the bride and groom, respectively.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hougard of Strandquist as host and hostess. Julie Erickson and Arlen Kotta, friends of the couple, registered the guests. At the punch bowl were Mr. and Mrs. Terry Lubitz, Coleen Pearson, friends of the couple, and Paul Boman, brother of the groom.

Highlighting the serving table was a tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Garner Pederson, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Dunne Dagen, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Jerry Konickson, cousin of the groom, cut and served the cake. Coffee servers were Mrs. Axel Lieberg, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Betty Olson, a friend of the couple.

Waitresses were Kari Dvergsten of Greenbush, Sheree Dagen of Karlstad, Kaylynn Swenson, Jennifer Martinson, Nancy Halbasch and Diane Poole.

Mary Alexander of Baltimore, Md., Pam Dvergsten of Greenbush and Margo Dagen of Karlstad pinned the flowers. Gift bearers were Troy and Rory Austad, nephews of the groom, Krisi Lieberg and Natalie Dagen, cousins of the bride. The rice packets were distributed by Kari and Kellie Austad, nieces of the groom. Mrs. Rocky Wilson and Marlys Noreen were in charge of the gift table. Members of the Elizabeth unit of Redeemer church were in charge of serving the reception.

The parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal supper at their farm home.

Following a wedding trip to the North shore of Lake Superior, the couple is at home in Fargo, N.D. The bride is employed in the business office of the Fargo Clinic and the groom is employed for the summer by the Agricultural Engineering department at NDSU in Fargo. He will return to the University in September as a full-time student. Photo, Eaton's studio.

Bell Will Bury Lines At Cost Of $748,330

Northwestern Bell is going underground at a cost of $748,330 to provide improved telephone service for town and rural customers and to contribute to the ecology of the Thief River Falls area, according to Al Bacon, manager.

Service improvement work will make the one-party line the basic standard for telephone service in the Thief River Falls exchange area.

Under terms of the plan, approved by a majority of Thief River Falls customers and by the public service commission in August of 1973, Northwestern Bell will provide one-party service at specific rates in the base rate, or more densely populated area, as well as Zone "A" which extends approximately one mile around the Base Rate Area. A choice of one-party or four-party service in Zone "B" which encompasses the remainder of the exchange will be available.

Eight-party service will not be offered and mileage charges will be eliminated.

Bacon said the company had originally intended to place the service improvement plan in operation late in 1974.

"But the company's earnings situation, brought on by inflation and the failure to obtain an interim rate increase requested in April, 1974, forced the deferral of this and other service improvement programs," he said.

Partial rate relief granted last December enabled the company to restart some service upgrading projects, such as ours in Thief River Falls. "We now expect to place the new plan in operation in mid 1976.

Northwestern Bell service representatives will be calling all Thief River Falls customers to explain the service improvement plan.

The project calls for placing 193 miles of buried cable and wire, and construction of 43 poles and associated aerial cable. After the new facilities are in and working nearly 353 miles of aerial cable and wire will be removed along with 1,057 poles.

"Although it costs more initially to place buried telephone lines, the underground cable and wires are less costly to maintain and are not subject to damage from storms and ice," he said. "In addition there is no adverse impact on the landscape.

"With so many telephone facilities underground, in some cases right up to the customer's home, it is a good idea to call us before working around buried telephone wires and cables," Bacon said.

In Thief River Falls, people should dial the operator and ask for Zenith 2345.

commission that the city purchase the Kiewel products building on First street for possible use as a parking facility or a new fire hall. New owners of the property have stated a desire to move to a different site in the city.

The council accepted the recommendation of utilities superintendent John T. Anderson and awarded low bids for transformers, aluminum poles and luminaires to be used in connection with the new law enforcement center and Oakland Park nursing home. The bids were: Graybar electric of Fargo, N.D., (two pad mount transformers) $6,214; Graybar (45 aluminum poles), $10,635; Burmeister electric, Mpls. (50 luminaires), $2,117.50.

Fire chief Duane Noel was authorized by the council to acquire 12 new fire hydrants at $357 apiece. This is reportedly a discount from the normal price of $450 apiece.

The council announced it is seeking applicants to fill an opening on the city housing and redevelopment authority vacated by the resignation of Kenneth Onken. The HRA is active in initiating redevelopment projects, preparing plans for redevelopment, and the acquisition, appropriation and disposition of real property.

Gloria Dahl And Marty Reierson Vows Said Here

Miss Gloria Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dahl of Thief River Falls, became the bride of Marty Reierson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Reierson of Holt, at a 2 p.m., ceremony on July 12 at St. Bernard's Catholic church in this city.

Rev. James Bernauer officiated at the double ring ceremony. Organist Kristi Gerardy played Rossini's "Number Three" as the processional and "Trumpet Tune" for the recessional. She also accompanied Mrs. David Dupree, friend of the bride, as she sang, "We've Only Just Begun," "The Lord's Prayer," and "Love One Another."

The bride and groom were escorted to the altar and given in marriage by their parents.

For her wedding, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown. The bodice was of antique satin featuring a sheer yoke with a lace ruffle, and long tapered sleeves that came to a point over her wrist. The skirt was of sheer marquissette over taffeta with a self train. Her fingertip veil, borrowed from her aunt Mrs. Albert Dahl, was held in place by a seeded pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, yellow roses, babies' breath and blue star flowers.

Her personal attendant was her sister, Linda Strain of Moorhead.

Matron of honor was another sister, Mrs. John (Alison) Nowacki of Fargo. Bridesmaid was Marcy Reierson of Holt, sister of the groom. They wore identical, princess styled gowns of pink floral lightweight polyester crepe featuring short puffed sleeves. Each carried a nosegay of yellow daisies and babies' breath.

Best man was Furlin Olson, a friend of the groom. Mark Reierson of Holt, a brother of the groom, served as groomsman. The groom and his attendants wore black tuxedos with yellow boutonnieres. The groom's was a rose taken from the bride's bouquet.

Serving as ushers were Mike Jarshaw and Jerry Hoffman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dahl wore a green and white floor-length gown. Her corsage was of white daisies and a yellow miniature rose. A similar corsage was worn by the groom's mother, who wore a green floor-length gown topped by a floral jacket.

Honored guests at the wedding were Mrs. Alice Dahl, grandmother of the bride, Mabel Smith, a special friend of the bride; Mrs. Minnie Grabanski of Grand Forks, great-grandmother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Grabanski of Hibbing and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Reierson of Holt, grandparents of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 200 guests was held in the church parlors with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dahl of Tower and Mr. and Mrs. James Martin of New Brighton as hosts and hostesses. Shari Amiot, a cousin of the bride, registered the guests.

Centering the reception table was a Lady Windemere, five-tiered, chocolate wedding cake, iced in white and decorated with clusters of multi-colored flowers. Topping the cake were a miniature bride and groom and a Christogram. Springaire surrounded the base featuring four heart-shaped cakes. The cake, baked and decorated by the groom's mother, was cut and served by Mabel Smith, friend of the bride, and Mrs. Myrtle Pederson of Greenbush, great aunt of the groom. Mrs. Ardelle Wells, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Rose Marie Eichorn of Hibbing, aunt of the groom, poured. Serving the punch were Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Rude of Wadena, uncle and aunt of the groom.

Waitresses were Jean Skoglund, Lois Molskness, Ramona Aaseby, Marguerite Burda, Joan Molskness and Marilyn Gunnarson. Barb Brenna and Deloris Hillyer presided at the gift table. All are friends of the bride. Cousins of the groom, Kim and Tim Rude and Nita and Rina Martin, carried the gifts.

Arnold Haugens Celebrate Their 50th Anniversary

Approximately 200 relatives and friends attended the open house held recently at the Nazareth Lutheran church in Trail in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haugen. The event was in observance of the couple's 50th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the open house were the couple's children: Mrs. John (Ardith) Kloth of Orlando, Fla., Floyd Haugen of Parkville, Mrs. Robert (Lois) Burstad of this city, Mrs. Roy (Edna) Hawk of Issaquah, Wash., Orrin of Hibbing, Mrs. Gary B. (Sharron) Johnson of Goodridge, and Mrs. Alan (Linda) Homme of rural Thief River Falls. All were present for the occasion.

Also present were Mrs. Jorgen (Cora) Oftelie of Trail, Mrs. Haugen's sister who served as attendant at the wedding 50 years ago, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Alice) Lund, Haugen's brother-in-law and sister. They were seated at the head table together with the honored couple and their family.

The event began with a brief program. Mrs. Arnold Hammer served as soloist, Edna Hawk read the family history, Rev. Behrens was in charge of the devotional meditation and Mrs. Behrens read the poem, "The First Marriage."

A reception in the church parlors followed with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mostrom as host and hostess. Michele Hawk presided at the guest book; Chad Homme distributed the thank-you notes; Mishawn Homme was in charge of the gift table, and Robyn Johnson and Debra Haugen served as waitresses. Steven Haugen and Brian Johnson as acolytes and Bradley Johnson and Keith Haugen served the punch. All are grandchildren of the couple.

Mrs. Clara Bjerklie of Trail, sister of Mrs. Haugen, and Mrs. Willie Mostrom of Gonvick, a sister-in-law, cut and served the four-tiered anniversary cake decorated with blue roses and golden anniversary emblems, and topped with a Christogram. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Norma Johnson of Goodridge. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Clifford Johnsrud of Goodridge and Mrs. Duane Noel of this city, nieces of the couple.

Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Walter Hanson, Mrs. Orland Rindahl, Mrs. Rodney Bjerklie, Mrs. Oscar Nerhus and Mrs. Clarence Hanson.

For the occasion, Mrs. Haugen was attired in a blue and white two-piece gown with a corsage of red roses. Haugen's boutonniere was a white carnation. The corsages and boutonnieres worn by the Haugen family were made by several members of the Mocassin Garden club and presented to the family by the club.

Relatives and friends attending were from Washington, Oregon, Colorado, Trail, Thief River Falls, Goodridge, Minneapolis, Oklee, Gully, Anoka, Gonvick, Eveleth, Hibbing and Parkville.

Pennington Is Among Leaders In Barley, Sunflowers And Flax

County crop production rankings for 1975 were scrambled by one of the worst growing seasons in Minnesota farming history last year, an experience that is being duplicated again this year, reports agriculture commissioner Jon Wefald.

Only 19 county rankings among 150 on 10 important field crops were unchanged from 1973 standings and four of the perennial leaders were dethroned by nature's violence. Twenty-two counties dropped out of the top 15 rankings.

Renville dropped to third in corn production and was replaced at the lead post by Martin county.

Otter Tail lost both the oats and hay production titles to Stearns county and dropped into second place in both commodities.

Big Stone dropped to fourth in rye production and was replaced at the top by Sherburne county.

Polk county repeated as the champion producer of wheat, barley, sugarbeets and potatoes. Faribault county retained the soybean title, Wilkin county the sunflower seed title and Roseau kept the flaxseed crown.

Disastrous crop losses last year knocked these counties out of the top-15: Nobles and Lac Qui Parle in corn, Chippewa in soybeans and sunflower seed, Roseau, Red Lake, Pennington and Becker in wheat, Otter Tail, Wilkin, Morrison and Roseau in rye, Roseau, Marshall, Norman, Travers, Becker, Wilkin, Pipestone, Pennington and Todd in oats, Carver and Rice in hay.

None of the top 15 counties in 1973 maintained their same rankings in 1974 in oats and hay.

County rankings compiled from the soon to be released 1975 Minnesota agricultural statistics, are listed as follows in order from first through 15th position.

Corn—Martin, Faribault, Renville, Freeborn, Jackson, Redwood, Blue Earth, Yellow Medicine, Cottonwood, Brown, Lyon, Murray, Fillmore, Watonwan, and Mower;

Soybeans—Faribault, Martin, Redwood, Renville, Jackson, Blue Earth, Freeborn, Nobles, Cottonwood, Mower, Watonwan, Brown, Yellow Medicine, Murray and Sibley;

Wheat—Polk, Marshall, Clay, Kittson, Wilkin, Norman, Grant, Swift, Stevens, Otter Tail, Traverse, Lac Qui Parle, Renville, Chippewa and Big Stone;

Oats—Otter Tail, Stearns, Stevens, Polk, Lincoln, Fillmore, Pope, Goodhue, Mower, Murray, Lyon, Lac Qui Parle, Douglas, Yellow Medicine and Renville;

Barley—Pokl, Wilkin, Marshall, Clay, Kittson, Grant, Otter Tail, Traverse, Norman, Becker, Stevens, Douglas, Pennington, Mahnomen and Red Lake;

Rye—Sherburne, Marshall, Swift, Big Stone, Polk, Clay, Isanti, Lincoln, Benton, Mahnomen, Pope, Lac Qui Parle, Stearns, Traverse and Norman;

Flaxseed—Roseau, Lincoln, Pipestone, Big Stone, Traverse, Clay, Lyon, Pennington, Marshall, Polk, Otter Tail, Lac Qui Parle, Grant, Stevens and Kittson;

Potatoes—Polk, Marshall, Freeborn, Clay, Sherburne, Kittson, Otter Tail, Hennepin, Todd, Steele, Norman, Beltrami, Lake of the Woods, Isanti and Wright;

Sunflower Seed—Wilkin, Grant, Traverse, Clay, Norman, Polk, Otter Tail, Big Stone, Becker, Pennington, Marshall, Kittson, Stevens, Mahnomen and Red Lake;

Hay—Stearns, Otter Tail, Winona, Fillmore, Goodhue, Polk, Todd, Wabasha, Houston, Roseau, Morrison, Pine, Becker, Wright and Douglas; Sugarbeets—Polk, Clay, Wilkin, Norman, Marshall, Kittson, Traverse, Grant, Stevens and Otter Tail.

Grave Appointed UMC Children's Center Director

Marilyn M. Grave, Hartford, S.D., has been hired by the University of Minnesota technical college, Crookston (UMC) as director of the UMC children's center, succeeding Peter Clark, of Grand Forks.

Provost Stanley D. Sahlstrom, in announcing Grave's selection, stated that her appointment will become effective after action is taken this month by the University of Minnesota regents.

The new director is a 1973 graduate of South Dakota state University where she majored in child development and family relations. Child welfare was one prime area of concentration during her undergraduate education. Grave has done additional graduate work at the University of Minnesota, Morris, University of North Dakota, Weber state college, and Northern state college in Aberdeen, S.D.

Until her appointment to the UMC faculty, she had been curriculum coordinator for the Head Start-Home Start project in Lake Andes, S.D. Prior to accepting that position, she served as coordinator for another Project Head Start program, this one under the community action office of Sisseton, S.D.

Her predecessor, Clark, resigned in order to pursue graduate studies at the University of North Dakota. He had been director of the day care-educational facility on the UMC campus since it opened in 1972.

Mid-year Grain Storage Levels Low For State

Mid-year grain stocks were at one of the lowest levels in recent history and the tightest inventories are on the feed grains—corn, oats, barley and grain sorghum—essential for farm production of milk, meat and eggs, agriculture commissioner Jon Wefald reported recently.

Minnesota's July 1 inventory of 1974 crop grain in farm storage was the lowest since 1937 for oats, lowest since 1952 for corn, and lowest since 1965 for barley. New crops now being harvested are not included in the July 1 grain stocks estimates.

Minnesota's feed grains in farm storage on July 1, estimated at 79,178,000 bushels of corn, 19,392,000 bushels of oats, and 3,548,000 bushels of barley, is very low—especially considering the state's high farm livestock and poultry inventories . . . 4.4 million cattle and calves, 2.9 million hogs and pigs, 15 million turkeys, 9 million chickens and 400,000 sheep and lambs.

Nationally, farm stored stocks of corn on July 1 were down 25 per cent from mid-1974 and 42 per cent below mid-1973, farm stored oats down 21 per cent and 48 per cent farm stored barley down 46 per cent and 66 per cent, farm stored grain sorghum (not grown extensively in Minnesota) down 45 per cent and 35 per cent, respectively, compared to the past two mid-years.

Despite Minnesota's low mid-year inventories, the state continues to rank among the top five states in stocks of all grains, except sorghum, in all positions. Minnesota had the nation's top inventory of oats, both total and on farms, is second only to North Dakota in barley and flaxseed on farms and total stocks, is third behind Iowa and Illinois in soybeans on farms and total stocks, is third in total rye and 11th in farm stored rye, is fourth in tital corn and third in farm stored corn, is fifth in total wheat stocks and seventh in farm stored wheat.

Livestock and poultry feeding and farm marketings during the second quarter of 1975 reduced Minnesota's farm stored grain inventory by nearly 123.3 million bushels. This included the disappearance of nearly 72 million bushels of corn, 19.4 million bushels of oats, 2.4 million bushels of barley, 15.3 million bushels of soybeans, 13.7 million bushels of wheat, 380,000 bushels of flaxseed and 126,000 bushels of rye.

More Parking Space Available For Fairgoers

Persons attending the Minnesota state fair on Saturday or Sunday this year will have an alternative to parking their vehicles on the fairgrounds.

Satellite parking will be available at Har Mar mall, Roseville; Como avenue at 29th street SE, Minneapolis; and Midway stadium, St. Paul.

The metropolitan transit commission will operate shuttle buses to and from the three lots which will be open August 23-24 and August 30-31. Buses will run every 15 minutes from 9 a.m. through 11:30 p.m. with a fare of ten cents. There is no parking fee for the Har Mar mall or Como avenue lots; Midway stadium patrons will be charged $1 per vehicle.

From Har Mar mall, passengers will be discharged at the fair's commonwealth and Snelling avenue gate. Midway stadium and Como at 29th riders will be taken to the bus and taxi loop gate on Como avenue near the Coliseum. Persons returning the the lots will board specially marked buses at the same locations.

Although the state fair has space for more than 16,000 vehicles, exposition officials feel the satellite parking and inexpensive bus service will help relieve weekend parking pressure at the fairgrounds proper.

Other Than That, It Was Dry . . .

Rain And Flooding Were Weather News For July

Just in case any area residents were vacationing on Mars last month, the big weather news in the Thief River Falls vicinity was the massive amount of rainfall which resulted in millions of dollars in crop losses through flooding.

According to a report filed by the local weather station, most of the July rainfall arrived in the first few days of the month. Of a total of 6.92 inches, six inches were recorded July 2, when the area was deluged by a sustained pattern of rainfall covering most of North Dakota and Minnesota.

Although this was entirely too much of a good thing at one time, farmers were dismayed to discover there would be precious little precipitation during the rest of the month. If one were to eliminate the first two days, last July would have been known as one of dryest in history, instead of one of the wettest. The arid days between the 15th and 31st included a 98 degree reading on the 30th.

An exact tabulation of average temperatures for July could not be composed due to the unavailability of high and low readings for eight days. The averages listed below are based on the readings that were available and should not be considered complete.

4-H CLUBS

August 6 meeting of the New Maine 4-H club was called to order by president Todd Swenson. Roll call was by "best ribbon", and flag pledges were said.

Secretary and treasurers reports were read and approved.

New business: Records were due to the key leader next month. The next meeting would be election of officers and rules were read. Members voted to go to Bemidji on August 19 at 8:30 to tour the different places.

A project talk was given by LaVonne Mattson. Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. Larson and Mrs. M. Erickson. Diane Graham and Debbie Odberg were in charge of the program.

The next meeting is scheduled for September 3 at the village hall.

Conference Set For Directors Of Cooperatives

Nearly 500 local cooperative directors from six Midwest states are expected to attend the Lakes conferences at Lake Okoboji, Ia., August 24-39 sponsored by Land O'Lakes Agricultural services.

Each year the Lakes conferences bring together directors of farm cooperatives located in six Midwest states for two days of activities aimed at strengthening their ability to participate in directing local cooperative activities.

Lakes conferences include a full schedule of business and social activities beginning with an evening program on registration day. A slide presentation entitled "The Farmer Is The Man" and a keynote address by Ralph Hofstad, Land O'Lakes president, on the conferences' theme, "Cooperatives and You: More Important Than Ever," highlite this program.

Conference seminars get underway the next day with a discussion on the role of managers and board members in operating a cooperative. There will also be a session on what directors can use to help managers and methods directors can use to evaluate their performance.

Second day activities will center on cooperative image. Directors will learn what others think of cooperatives today, discuss annual meetings and receive guidelines on how to select director candidates.

Sharing experiences and exchanging ideas are an important part of the Lakes conferences. Over 1,000 local cooperative employees, directors, managers and other supervisory personnel will participate in one of seven sessions held at Lake Okoboji this summer.

Corporations In County Operate 13,664 Acres

Corporations operated a total of 833,654.77 acres of Minnesota farm land in 1974, an indicated increase of 186,640.3 acres or 28.8 per cent more than in 1973, the Minnesota department of agriculture reported today. Combined total for Pennington county is 13,664 acres.

Assistant commissioner Tom Kalitowski, who is in charge of the corporate farm registration and enforcement program, said the new total represents about 2.7 per cent of the state's 30.6 million acres of farm land.

The 1974 total includes 505,589.32 acres of farmland owned by corporations and 328,065.45 acres leased or rented from other owners by corporations.

Kalitowski said the final report on the 1974 registration will show that the majority of the corporations and the land controlled will again be in the operating family category, and that nearly 94 per cent of the total land controlled by corporations is operated by Minnesota based family, authorized, general business and non-profit corporations.

A preliminary summary of corporate farm operations by counties reveals Polk as the leader in corporate owned farm land, 30,759.55 acres, and Kittson is the leader in both corporate leased farm land, 50,438.14 acres, and in overall corporate operations, 54,832.14 acres.

Other counties in the top 10 in corporate farming operations are:

Corporation owned land—Marshall 20,828.53 acres, Martin 20,700.22 acres, Clay 20,644.32 acres, Kandiyohi 17,049.34 acres, Otter Tail 16,971.58 acres, Norman 16,893.76 acres, Roseau 16,387 acres, Morrison 15,677.26 acres and Kittson 14,394 acres. Pennington has 8,651 acres of land under corporate ownership.

In corporation rented, leased or contracted land, Clay has 32,752.17 acres, Polk 26,387 acres, Marshall 14,907.63 acres, Dodge 11,384.5 acres, Renville 10,511.43 acres, Grant 9,682 acres, Faribault 8,106.05 acres, Martin 7,645 acres and Traverse 6,402 acres. Pennington lists 5,013 acres in this category.

Kalitowski said the 1974 corporate farming report being prepared for the legislature will identify the farm corporations and their owned and rented acreage by counties.

Carlton, Cook and Lake counties again have no registered farming corporations.

ORDER AMIDST CHAOS is illustrated in this photo taken Tuesday in the vo-ag greenhouse attached to the Thief River Falls school district service center. Amidst the tumbled stacks of potting and planting materials which fell into disuse with the dismissal of school this spring, one potted geranium carried on in orderly fashion to send forth its cluster of blossoms, reaching out for the light. Students will soon put the entire greenhouse back in order as classes will resume for the 1975-76 school year next Wednesday.

Pigskin Preview Saturday

Area football fans are encouraged to attend the second annual Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Prowler Pigskin Preview Saturday on the Prowler athletic field.

A large crowd was on hand for last year's event and the idea met favorable response from most of those in attendance. Another large fan turnout is anticipated this week, with perhaps a few more out-of-towners on hand with area teams from Newfolden, Plummer and Goodridge taking part in the event.

Proceeds from the $2 donation ticket purchased for the picnic supper will help support Thief River Falls athletic programs. Fans attending the Pigskin Preview will get an early peak at the teams that will open their seasons in just one week—August 29.

A large turnout for the Pigskin Preview would start the 1975 football season off on a positive note by showing the kind of support the players deserve.

Smith, Arntson With The Bison

Lincoln high school graduate Rande Smith enters practice this week with the North Dakota State University football team as the number one Bison center.

Smith, a 6-5, 220-pound senior at the Fargo school, was a part-time starter at tight end for NDSU during his sophomore and junior seasons before being switched to the interior line in spring drills.

"An outstanding blocker," describes the Bison football press guide, "Rande made the move to offensive center during the spring ball and the transition appears to have been smooth. Battling tooth and nail with returning center Harold Bakken and at the end of spring drills, Smith had the slight edge."

Warn Arntson, a Plummer high school graduate, is also a member of the North Dakota State squad. The 6-2, 205-pound sophomore was a starter at defensive end for the Bison junior varsity a year ago when he led the team in recovered fumbles with three.

Arntson is currently listed as the number two man at left defensive end and "should see action," according to the press guide.

North Dakota State is once again expected to be a power in the North Central Conference. The Bison will open the 1975 season September 6 in Omaha against the University of Nebraska-Omaha. The NDSU home opener on the school's newly installed artificial turf is two weeks later, September 20, against Montana State.

Neil Carlson Improving

The condition of Neil Carlson, well-liked Thief River Falls resident who was seriously injured in a July 19 automobile accident near Detroit Lakes, is reported to be improving as he recovers in a Fargo hospital.

Carlson's address for persons interested in sending him get well wishes is St. Luke's hospital, room 362, Fargo, North Dakota.

It's hoped that Carlson might be returned to Thief River Falls in about two weeks where he would continue to recover from his injuries.

An avid Thief River Falls sports enthusiast, Carlson has been instrumental in the development of an uncountable number of young city hockey and baseball players through his voluntary coaching efforts over the years.

Newfolden Names Football Coach

New head football coach at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden is Sam Gebhart, it was announced this week by Superintendent Gene Busch.

Gebhart, a Park Rapids native, may be familiar to Thief River Falls sports fans. He played here against Northland community college as a member of the Itasca (Grand Rpaids) basketball team for two years. He was captain of the Vikings' cage squad as a sophomore.

Gebhart played football and baseball at Bemidji State College the past two years, serving as captain of the Beaver baseball team as a senior.

Knights-Columbus Reach Over 30 Playoff Finals

Regular season league champion Knights of Columbus advanced into the championship game of the Thief River Falls men's over 30 slow pitch softball league playoffs Tuesday with an 11-9 win over Land O'Lakes.

ARCTIC RAIDER base runner Lonnie Stauffenecker tried to break up a double play relay by Solheim Furniture second baseman Ron Ostby Tuesday during Major Division slow pitch softball playoff action on the fairgrounds diamond. Solheim Furniture shortstop Paul Williams watched the play from the background. Solheim Furniture ousted the Raiders from the double elimination tournament 6-4, but then lost a second game to Arctic Power 14-7 to exit from the playoffs.

Division Champions Lose Slow Pitch Playoff Bids

R[illegible] season division winners Furuseth-Nelson Inc. and the Arctic Raiders both bowed out of playoff activity Tuesday as the Thief River Falls men's slow pitch softball tournament reached its final stages.

Popplers handed Commercial Division champion Furuseth-Nelson its second loss in the double elimination playoff with a 17-10 decision while Solheim Furniture ousted the Major Division champion Raiders 6-4.

However, success was short lived for Solheim Furniture as Arctic Power claimed a 14-7 second game win. Popplers' season is also near an abrupt end with Warehouse Foods holding a commanding 17-4 lead in a game suspended because of darkness. Warehouse Foods will be coming to bat in the top of the seventh inning when the game resumes tonight (Wednesday) at 6:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, the Jaycees and Hartz await championship game opponents.

The Jaycees will face the Warehouse Foods-Popplers winner at 6 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) on field two at the fairgrounds for the Commercial Division championship. The Jaycees are unbeaten while both Warehouse Foods and Popplers have one loss apiece at this time. If the Jaycees lose the 6 p.m. game, a title-deciding doubleheader game would follow at 7:15.

Hartz will go against Arctic Power at 6:15 p.m. Friday on field one at the fairgrounds with the Major Division championship at stake. Hartz enters the game unbeaten while Power shows one loss. Following the same format used by the Commercial Division, two games will be played back to back if Hartz should lose the first contest.

Solheim 6, Raiders 4

Home runs by Paul and Tim Williams carried Solheim Furniture to a 6-4 decision over the Arctic Raiders.

Tom Williams hit two home runs in Solheim's nine-hit attack and brother Paul hit one. The Raiders finished with a 12-9 base hit edge off John Drury who decisioned Brian Nelson on the mound.

Power 14, Solheim 7

A seven-run fourth inning wrapped up a 14-7 Arctic Power win over Solheim Furniture in Tuesday's Major Division doubleheader nightcap.

Larry Poole hit a two-run home run for Power in the third inning while John Olson and winning pitcher Dennis Bendickson both supplied three hits in a 17-hit offensive effort off Drury. Solheim Fruniture collected 12 hits, including a pair of solo home runs by Paul Williams and a three-run homer by Wayne Smith in the top of the seventh.

Popplers 17, Furuseth 10

Home run power sparked Popplers to a 17-10 decision over Furuseth-Nelson Inc.

Popplers 14, Grain Belt 12

Curt Howe hit two home runs and drove in nine runs to lead Popplers past Grain Belt 14-12.

All of Howe's damage came Thursday before rain and darkness stopped play with Popplers leading 14-12 and Grain Belt batting in the top of the sixth inning. There was no scoring when the game was completed Monday. Howe enjoyed a perfect three for three performance at the plate, highlighted by a grand slam home run.

Dan Brouse hit a three-run home run in Popplers' 20-hit attack. Grain Belt collected 13 hits. Popplers committed six errors while Grain Belt played errorless ball.

John Haglund was the game's winning pitcher. Bill Weigelt took the loss.

Schmidts Beats Pepsi 9-5 For West Playoff Crown

Schmidts emerged as West Division playoff titlist in Thief River Falls men's fast pitch softball league playoff activity Tuesday, eliminating regular season West winner Pepsi-Cola 9-5.

Pepsi earlier stayed alive in the double elimination tournament with a 12-2 win over Falls Diesel Monday before suffering its second playoff loss to Schmidts.

Schmidts now awaits the eventual East Division champion in the season-ending East-West playoff encounter now scheduled to be played some time next week. It was earlier announced the playoffs would be completed Friday.

In the East, a pair of games will be played tomorrow (Thursday) when VFW and Nelson State Farm Insurance, a pair of once-beaten teams, tangle at 7:15 p.m. The VFW-State Farm winner will meet unbeaten Arctic Cat in the night's doubleheader nightcap. An Arctic Cat win would finalize the championship pairings. However, an Arctic Cat loss would force an additional East Division game.

Schmidts 9
Pepsi-Cola 5

Schmidts continued its hot-hitting playoff performances with a 13-hit barrage to eliminate Pepsi-Cola 9-5.

Schmidts scored a run in the first inning when Gary Borg looped a fly ball into centerfield that Don Foss tried to make shoestring catch on. Foss missed the catch and the ball rolled to the fence for an inside the park home run.

Schmidts added five runs in the third inning for a 6-0 lead when Pepsi's defense matched five Schmidts hits with five errors.

A single by Randy Gaven and two errors scored a pair of Pepsi runs in the top of the fourth, but Schmidts scored two more runs in the fourth and another in the fifth to complete its scoring.

Pepsi rallied for three runs in the seventh before its last inning rally was cut short. RBI singles by Jim Gunstad and Mark Drury keyed Pepsi's come-back bid.

Pepsi-Cola 12
Falls Diesel 2

Pepsi-Cola easily handled Falls Diesel 12-2 in a match-up of once-beaten West Division teams Monday.

Don Foss, who finished the playoffs Tuesday with eight hits in ten at-bats in three games, singled home a first inning run for Pepsi to start the game's scoring.

Pepsi's lead jumped to 3-0 in the third before Falls Diesel pitcher Earl Graham doubled home a run in the bottom of the inning.

Pepsi wrapped up the win, however, with two runs in the fourth, four more in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Russ Smith Drills Cross Country Teams

Lincoln high school cross country team members continue to report to head coach Russ Smith for 7 a.m. practice sessions in preparation for the upcoming 1975 season.

Twelve varsity candidates and an additional 14 runners who will compete on the junior high level are currently working out under Smith's guidance.

Seniors Dan Kezar and Dan Heieren serve as Prowler captains this fall. Freshman Tom Brosseau and eighth grader Bob Fitzgerald co-captain the junior high squad.

Kezar, Heieren, junior Tony Brosseau and sophomore John Albrecht are all experienced runners who are expected to lead the Prowler varsity this season. Seniors Mike Nessen and Dave Giaque, juniors Tim Trudeau and Kevin Culkins and sophomore Paul Phelps also return and are being counted upon as point-getters, said Smith.

Smith also expects good things from newcomers Jon Ballingrud, a junior, and Steve Geatz and Roger Roadfeldt, both sophomores.

"The squad has been working out very hard and has shown an excellent attitude," said Smith who is pointing his team toward large school Class AA state tournament qualifying competition this fall.

Thief River Falls could boast the finest junior high school cross country team in Region Eight this year, said Smith who has a host of strong runners back from last year's strong team.

Freshmen Jeff Oseid, Todd Trickle, Kevin Murphy, Jim Scheuneman, Steve Wigness and Tom Brosseau were all regulars a year ago. In addition, Bill Michalek, freshmen out for the sport for the first time this season, is showing promise of being an outstanding runner, pointed out Smith.

Eighth graders Greg Brosseau, Curt Johnson and Fitzgerald, the outstanding Region Eight seventh grader in 1974, are also on hand again this year.

Other junior high team members include freshmen Don Johnston and Scott Sabo and seventh graders Jon Onkka and Doug Green.

The Prowler varsity will open its season Thurs., Sept. 11, at Crookston. The annual Thief River Falls invitational meet will be held Tues., Sept. 30.

The Thief River Falls junior high squad will open its season by hosting an invitational meet Tues., Sept. 9.

MSHSL Begins 60th Year In 1975-76 Season

Minnesota State High School League will be beginning its 60th year of service with the opening of the 1975-76 school year. This year the league membership will number 527. That figure ranks 10th among the 50 state associations throughout the country.

The Minnesota State High School League will sponsor 40 state tournaments in 1975-76, 10 more than conducted last year. The increase in number of tournaments is a result of the implementation of class competition.

Girls athletics state tournaments will expand from four to eight with the addition of cross country, swimming, skiing and basketball. Last year the basketball season was conducted in the fall and winter by member schools, resulting in fall and winter playoffs. This year the winter season will be the only season of play—culminating with the state tournament.

TRF Sports Boosters Pigskin Preview Scheduled Saturday

Football fans will have an opportunity preview the upcoming 1975 high school football season in part Saturday when the second annual Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Prowler Pigskin Preview is staged on the Prowler athletic field.

Saturday's activity gets underway with a 1 p.m. scrimmage involving varsity squads from Plummer, Goodridge and Newfolden and the Thief River Falls junior varsity.

Varsity teams from Thief River Falls, East Grand Forks, Grand Forks Central and Warren will tangle in controlled-type scrimmages beginning at 4 p.m. Each team will run 20 offensive plays against the other three ball clubs.

A picnic-style supper featuring a charcoal broiled pig on the spit with all the trimmings, including corn on the cob, will be served at 6 p.m.

At 7 p.m. the Thief River Falls officials association will present a demonstration program, explaining the officials' jobs and positions during the course of a ball game.

The TRFinettes, Thief River Falls drum and bugle corps, will entertain the crowd at 7:30 p.m.

A Jim and Joel rock-hop will cap off the day-long activity for the younger set from 9 p.m. until midnight on the Prowler field.

A $2 donation for the supper and a $1 admission to the rock-hop are the only costs involved in the event. Proceeds from the Pigskin Preview will be used by the Sports Boosters to aid the Thief River Falls athletic programs.

Advance sale tickets for the supper may be purchased at the Model Barber Shop, Tunberg's, Mr. Duane's, Northern State Bank, Ekeren Drug, Larson Music, The Club, Bjorkman's and Harris Ins. Agency.

New Parking Lot Will Be Used At Football Field

Lincoln high school athletic director Russ Smith announced earlier this week that a new parking lot will be used this year for fans attending football games at the Prowler athletic field.

All cars must now park on the west side of the field near the railroad tracks. Fans are asked to drive to the far end of the parking lot and turn around before angle parking on the way back out.

The old parking lot is now being used as a football practice field.

The new parking lot will be used for the first time Saturday when the second annual Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Prowler Pigskin Preview will be held on the Prowler field.

POPPLERS rightfielder Ron Dargus timed his jump and made a spectacular game-saving catch against the fence Monday during a Popplers-Grain Belt slow pitch softball playoff game. Dargus' catch of a hard-hit ball by Brian Peterson saved a game-tying home run in the top of the seventh inning of the suspended ball game. Popplers won 14-12.

Rattlesnakes rattle because their rattles are built like a stack of tiny teacups, each attached to the next, and each with three small bumps on it. When the rattler shakes its tail (at about 50 shakes per second) the bumps of one cup tap against those on the inside of the next cup.

Goodridge Prepares For 1975 Football Season

Ewertz

Twelve lettermen and eight returning starters are on hand for the Huskies who hope to better a dismal 1-8 record—accumulated last fall.

Senior co-captains Randy Nelson, an offensive end and defensive tackle, and Richard Vraa, an offensive guard and defensive tackle, head the list of Goodridge team members.

Other 1974 starters on hand again this year include senior runningbacks Jim Johnson, Kermit Overton and Randy Haugen; senior center Tom Scheef; junior Rick Easthouse who was a quarterback a year ago, but who will be moved to an end this fall; and sophomore runningback Ryan Haugen, the team's fastest ball player and one who Ewertz hopes "will really come around for us this year."

Nelson

Vraa

Ewertz, working without the benefit of an assistant coach, will employ a multiple offense that resembles a shot gun formation—an offense that does away with the role of quarterback.

"We can't go to a wishbone or anything like that because we don't have the blocking power," explained Ewertz. "This formation will better suit us."

Other lettermen currently working with the team include senior Ken Lind and juniors Larry Weber, Kevin Dahlen, John Asp and Larry Johnsrud.

The rest of the team members include junior Bob Blue, sophomores Randy Tharaldson and Craig Race and freshmen Kevin Tharaldson, Jerry Sunsdahl and Lynn Stenvick.

Ewertz admits his team faces another up-hill struggle this fall, but says, "If the kids continue to work hard we'll win some ball games. They took an awful beating last year, but they came back and are working hard. Their attitude has been just super."

"We have the makings of a pretty decent group of runningbacks, but out line is going to have to do the job if we expect to do anything," offered Ewertz.

The Huskies' 1975 North Tri County Conference football season will open Fri., Aug. 29, when Goodridge hosts Gonvick in a 7:30 p.m. ball game.

Other Goodridge home games will be played Fri., Sept. 19, against Erskine; Fri., Oct. 3, McIntosh; and Fri., Oct. 10, Middle River. All Goodridge home games will start at 7:30 p.m., except the September 19 game against Erskine that has been designated as the Huskies' homecoming contest and will start at 7 p.m.

Goodridge road games will be played Fri., Sept. 5, at Grygla, 1:30 p.m.; Fri., Sept. 12, at Plummer, 8 p.m.; Fri., Sept. 26, at Mentor, 1:15 p.m.; Tues., Oct. 14, at Oklee, 7:30 p.m.; and Fri., Oct. 24, at Clearbrook, 7:30 p.m.

Ewertz expects McIntosh and Middle River to be North Tri County Conference powers this fall.

Goodridge will take part in the second annual Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Prowler Pigskin Preview Saturday when the Huskies, along with Plummer, Newfolden and the Thief River Falls junior varsity scrimmage at 1 p.m. on the Prowler athletic field.

Issue Warning For Rubber Grip Aluminum Bats

More than five million aluminum baseball and softball bats with rubber grips sold nationally since 1968 could pose serious risks of injury if the rubber grips are loose, worn, damaged or deteriorated.

The consumer product safety commission, which is issuing the warning in the interest of the public health and safety, urges consumers to check the rubber grips on their aluminum bats immediately and to cease use of those bats with loose, torn or deteriorated grips.

If the grip is loose, worn or damaged, the aluminum bat could fly out of the grip or fly away from a torn off knob when the bat is swung. The one-piece rubber grip sleeve and solid rubber knob are all that hold the bat in place.

Two major injuries and one death reportedly have occurred when aluminum bats have detached from the grips during a swing and have been propelled through the air.

The commission has identified one of the grip manufacturer, Eaton corporation of Cleveland, Ohio and seven bat manufacturers and distributors who used these grips: Alcoa Sport Products company, Santa Fe Springs, California; Easton Aluminum company, Van Nuys, California; Hillerich & Bradsby, Louisville, Kentucky; Reynolds Metals company, Richmond, Virginia; Wilson Sporting Goods company, River Grove, Illinois; Lannom Manufacturing company, Tullahoma, Tennessee; and Airlite Aluminum corporation, Kearny, New Jersey.

The bats have been sold under the various manufacturers' names with the name "Hitter's Pride" being imprinted on the knob of many of the rubber grips. The grips are black, one-piece molded rubber sleeves and knobs. Some of the trade names used are "Easton," "Adirondack," "Wilson," "H & B Louisville Slugger," "Reynolds," and "Worth." The commission is continuing to determine if other grip and bat manufacturers' products pose a serious risk of injury to consumers.

Airlite Aluminum corporation, Belgrove Drive and Passaic Avenue, Kearny, New Jersey, has voluntarily agreed to repair free of charge any Airlite "Hitter's Pride" bat sent to them by consumers.

Duck Breeding Population Up Eight Per Cent

Number of ducks estimated to be breeding in the north central United States and western Canada during May appears to have increased about eight per cent over last year, according to the first of two annual aerial and ground surveys of duck breeding grounds conducted by the U.S. fish and wildlife service, the Canadian wildlife service and Ducks Unlimited.

The outlook calls for a better than average year for the number of young ducks hatched if normal rainfall prevails on the breeding grounds, but no firm fall flight forecast can be made until August.

Another survey will be taken during July to estimate the number of young hatched by breeding pairs. During both of these surveys a critical factor monitored is the number of ponds dotting this glaciated landscape, which is referred to as North America's duck factory. A comparison of May and July pond counts give an indication of the stability of water conditions there. Central to the needs of most waterfowl is the aquatic environment.

While waterfowl breed throughout North America, the prairie regions of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in Canada; and the prairies of Montana, the Dakotas and western Minnesota in this country are where 50 to 75 per cent of the total of the ten most abundant duck species breed and raise their young each year. This semi-arid region is subject to recurring drought, and the land's ability to support breeding ducks varies markedly from year to year. In 1972, for example, there were over 3.4 million ponds counted on the Canadian prairies during May. By July this count was down to under 1.4 million.

Last fall and winter were generally dry and open in the north central United States and prairie Canada. Through the winter the outlook was for rather poor waterfowl habitat conditions in 1975, but late winter and early spring storms markedly improved the situation.

Pond numbers in 1975 in Manitoba and Alberta declined from the very high 1975 counts when extensive spring flooding occurred. Those in North Dakota, Montana and Saskatchewan showed little change. Water areas this May in South Dakota were 40 per cent above 1974, a dry year there. In all of these areas pond counts were higher than the long-term average and Saskatchewan is the wettest it has been since the mid-1950's.

Water levels in most bush areas in 1975 were normal or above but not as high as the flooded conditions experienced in 1974. The spring was cool and wet and the season was late initially in prairie areas. In contrast in far north areas spring was earlier and warmer than usual.

The ubiquitous mallard, traditionally the most numerous species, seems to have increased in numbers by about ten per cent over last year's estimated population. Estimates on other species must await the July survey results.

Breeding ground surveys using both aerial and ground counts of waterfowl and wetlands were first conducted during the summer of 1974. The surveys were subsequently intensified and expanded over the years.

In 1974 approximately 33,000 linear miles of aerial transects were flown in Canada, Alaska, the Dakotas and Montana by 30 biologists of the U. S. fish and wildlife service and the Canadian wildlife service. The surveys cover a segment of waterfowl breeding habitat encompassing about two million square miles.

The census crews fly prescribed routes at altitudes of about 100 feet and count birds for a distance of 220 yards on either side of the aircraft. In conjunction with the aerial surveys, ground crews in the prairie and parkland portions of the prairie provinces and the States of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana count the number of birds on selected transects.

The difference between aerial observations and the number recorded by the ground crews provides a correction factor for birds not visible from the aircraft. An overall index of abundance is then obtained by expanding transect counts to the total area.

For abundant duck species within the prairies and parklands it is judged that annual estimates of breeding population size as well as long-term trends are obtained with reasonable accuracy. For less abundant species such as the canvasback, the data are useful for determining long-term trends but annual estimates of population size are less accurate because of a higher probability of sampling error.

Two Area Girls' Cage Coaches At 1st UND Clinic

Kaye Marquis of Goodridge and Ardis Hofstad of Oklee were among 34 coaches registered for the first annual girl's basketball coaching clinic held at the University of North Dakota recently, according to Dr. Orlo Sundre, assistant dean of the division of continuing education and clinic coordinator.

The clinic, designed to provide an opportunity exclusively for women regarding the skill development and coaching techniques for girl's basketball, gave coaches an opportunity to acquire new ideas, polish up their game plans, and get ready for the season, Sundre said.

Bear Season To Open In State On September 1

Minnesota's bear season will open Mon., Sept. 1, with a slight change having been made in the hunting regulations during the last legislative session.

Under the new provision no person may include such non-biodegradable material as bottles, cans, plastic, paper or metal in bait or lure used to attract bear.

Hunters are not allowed to take bear within one quarter mile of a dump or to molest any bear in a den. Cubs are completely protected. Only one bear may be taken during the year.

The bear season is from September 1 to October 21 inclusive and legal firearms or bow and arrow may be used. A $5 bear hunting license is required.

In addition, a hunter with a valid deer-bear firearms or bow and arrow hunting license may take bear during the day or days he is authorized to hunt deer, and in the zone he has selected for deer hunting.

Poll To Select Most Memorable Moment Of Twins

Minnesota Twins will join in with baseball's bicentennial observance by conducting a poll among area baseball fans to determine the Twins' most memorable moment and most memorable personality of the club's 15-year experience in Minnesota.

The poll will be conducted over the balance of the season, with the winning 'moment' and the winning 'personality' to be announced at baseball's winter meetings in December. Winners from each of the 24 major league clubs will then be placed on a national ballot for voting during the month of June, 1976, to determine baseball's most memorable moment and personality.

A particular game, a single play or a dramatic feat may be considered in the voting. As an aid in the balloting, the following list of Twins' most memorable moments might be considered:

The Twins' first game in New York, April 11, 1961; Twins' first game in Minnesota, April 21, 1961; Jack Kralick's no-hitter over Kansas City, August 26, 1962; Twins' eight homeruns in a game at Washington, August 29, 1963; Harmon Killebrew's four homers in a doubleheader at Boston, September 21, 1963; Twins' four consecutive homeruns at Kansas City, May 2, 1964; and Harmon Killebrew's dramatic homerun to beat the Yankees, July 11, 1965;

Also, the Twins' clinching of the 1965 pennant in Washington, September 26, 1965; the 1965 World Series; Twins' five homers in an inning, June 9, 1966; Rod Carew's seven steals of home in 1969; Bert Blyleven's six consecutive strikeouts at start of game, September 16, 1970; Rod Carew's three straight batting championships, and four overall; Twins' 11-run innings of July 18, 1962, and June 21, 1969; and Dean Chance's pair of no-hitters in 1967.

Those are just examples. Fans may also come up with other memorable moments on their own. For most memorable personalities, of course, the list is voluminous.

Fans wishing to take part in the contest need only send their entries to: Most Memorable Moments, Metropolitan Stadium, Bloomington, Minn. 55420.

Census Taker Jobs

EXTRA

WORK A FEW DAYS AS A CENSUS TAKER

In the near future, the Bureau of the Census will conduct a Special Census in this area. Your community has requested it and will bear the cost. Local residents will be needed to visit each household and collect a few facts about each member such as name, age, relationship to head of the house, etc.

WHY A SPECIAL CENSUS?

Like many other communities that have requested a Special Census, yours stands to benefit from an official population count more up-to-date than the one established by the 1970 Census. Unless a Special Census provides a more recent population figure, this 1970 count is used until the next major Census to determine the allocation of State funds to communities and for many other purposes.

YOUR TRAINING

Before you go to work, you will attend a training session where you will learn the use of census forms and census techniques such as interviewing and map reading. A Special Census Supervisor or Crew Leader will train you, assign your work, answer your questions, and supervise and review your work.

WHEN YOU WILL WORK

Your job will last from five to ten days, including Saturdays, and you must be willing to work eight hours each day, some of which will be in the evening.

YOUR PAY

You will be paid $10 for the training session if you agree to accept an assignment, and a set amount for each person enumerated.

YOUR DUTIES

When you have successfully completed your training, you will be given one or more areas called "Enumeration Districts." Probably your first assignment will be the area in which you live. You will be given a map of this district and the necessary census forms to do the job. It will be your duty to visit each place where people live to obtain and record information about the residents. You must find all the places where people live or might live, and accurately and completely record facts about these persons.

When you accept your appointment, you assume an obligation to stay with the job until your assignment is completed.

The information you obtain is confidential and you must not disclose any of it to anyone except your supervisors on the census.

Can you qualify for Census work?

To qualify for employment with the Census Bureau an applicant MUST:

1. Be a citizen of the United States, with a high school education or the equivalent, and be at least 18 years old.
2. Pass a written test to show he can follow written instructions, do simple arithmetic, and read maps.
3. Be of high moral character.
4. Be in good physical condition for walking, climbing stairs, and standing, and have good eyesight so he can read the print on Census forms. Applicant must be able to hear normal conversation.
5. Be a resident of this area.
6. Be able to attend a training session.
7. Work full time each day, including some evening work. Since not all people will be home during the day, you will have to visit some homes during the evening.

An applicant MUST NOT:

1. Have been fired or discharged from any job because of poor performance of job, dishonesty, criminal or immoral conduct, or major unreliability.
2. Have been convicted of a violation of the law since his 21st birthday for something other than a minor traffic violation.
3. Engage in any partisan political activity during the period employed.
4. Have been employed as tax assessor, tax collector, or law enforcement officer within the past six months.

7 Area Students Receive U.N.D. Scholarships

Seven area residents were among 650 students to receive scholarships at the University of North Dakota for the 1975-76 academic year, according to Gerald F. Hamerlik, director of student financial aids.

The students and the name of the scholarship they have been awarded include: Thief River Falls—Heidi Bornholdt (Paul W. Larsen grant), Diane Hellie (Lake head pipeline), Sherry Hjelle (Larimore-Mathews), Thomas Kays (Lakehead pipeline) and Pamela Smith (Larimore-Mathews); Viking—Bruce Kallenberg (Larimore-Mathews); Middle River—Kevin Westling (Larimore-Mathews).

The scholarships are awarded on the basis of scholastic ability, personal character and leadership. The amount of the award is determined by the recipient's financial need. The minimum award is a $50 honorarium and most of the awards are for approximately $200, Hamerlik said.

To qualify for scholarships processed by the student financial aids office, returning and transfer students must have attained at least a 3.5 cumulative grade point average (4.0—straight A). In most cases freshmen had to rank in the top 10 per cent of their graduating class and have commensurate test scores.

PICTURESQUE SETTING will be retained by Oakland Park nursing home in the new building now under construction. Trees to within 10 feet of the building have been left standing in accordance with specifications given to the contractor. This view of the new construction is from the parking lot for the present building. Oakland Park is part of the community's total construction projects which have totaled $6,775,898 in building permits issued from January 1 through August 15 of this year.

FIRST NORTHWESTERN BANK

Keeping in the Spirit of '76, we know every Revolution needs fine, dependable leaders. Thus, George, leading the Revolution, proudly proclaims the promotion of these fine officers of the Revolution:

DOLORES JOHNSON — CASHIER AND ASSISTANT VICE PRESIDENT

Dolores joined the First Northwestern Bank staff in 1956 as Head Bookkeeper. The agressive leader that she is, she continually moved up thru the ranks. In 1960 Dolores was promoted to Auditor and to Auditor and Women's Consultant in 1968. She was again promoted in 1972 to Control Officer, in '74 to Control and Personnel Officer and in January '75 to Assistant Vice President.

Dolores is presently Treasurer of the Red River Valley Chapter of the Bank Administration Institute, a member of the National Association of Bank Women, the Chamber of Commerce, American Legion Auxiliary, Eagles Auxiliary, Does, Sons of Norway and the Catholic Daughters.

She is married to Harold M. Johnson, Manager of the Thief River Falls Eagles Club.

ROBERT C. ANDERSON — ASSISTANT VICE PRESIDENT AND CREDIT OFFICER

Bob joined our Revolution in July '74 as Credit Officer. He was previously associated with Northwest Bancorporation of Minneapolis as Credit Analyst. Prior to that, Bob spent 2 years in Ely, Minnesota with the 1st National Bank of Ely as Assistant Cashier in Operations.

He is a graduate of Mankato State College with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration.

LEE SORENSON — AGRICULTURAL FINANCE OFFICER

Lee joined the Revolution in January '74 after graduating from North Dakota State University in December. He holds a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Science Degree in Agricultural Economics.

Lee and his wife Yvonne are active in the Community in organizations such as the American Legion, The Elks, and Eagles. He is also a member of the N.D.S.U. Alumni Association.

BOB ZIELINSKI — INSTALLMENT LOAN OFFICER

Bob's another familiar face in the Revolution. Since joining our Bank in June of '73 as a Management Trainee, Bob has been directly involved in Installment Lending. He is a '73 Graduate of Creighton University at Omaha with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration.

Bob is presently serving as a Den Leader for Cub Scout Pack No. 60, has been active in the Jaycees, and serves as Inner Guard for the Eagles.

He is also currently the Study Group Chairman for the American Institute of Banking.

WE'RE PROUD OF THE PEOPLE IN OUR REVOLUTION. TAKE A MINUTE TO STOP IN AND GET ACQUAINTED WITH THESE LOYAL PATRIOTS. THEY'LL BE HAPPY TO HELP YOU BECOME AN ACTIVE PART OF THE REVOLUTION.

THE SIZE OF THE CREATURE

No doubt the dinosaur thought—if dinosaurs thought at all—that he was big enough, powerful enough to survive anything. But the dinosaur is extinct.

Man used to think that his brain, his cleverness, his frightening weapons made him a cinch for survival. Now we talk seriously about man's "hope of survival."

No wonder the dinosaur has become fascinating. Poor fellow—so big and powerful and extinct. Surely if he'd had our intelligence and our nuclear warpile, he'd have made it!

But there's always that gnawing uncertainty—maybe it takes something else!

Come to church and you'll be rubbing shoulders with people who are sure it does. For them, mankind's hope is not in the size of the creature . . . but in his soul.

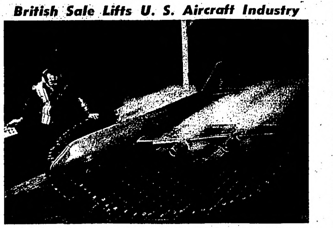
British Sale Lifts U. S. Aircraft Industry



Using a wind tunnel and a model of the Boeing 747 with the RB.211-524 engine configuration, a technician studies airflow with engine thrust reversers in operation. Steam indicates the flow pattern when engine thrust is reversed for braking purposes during landing. These tests are made to check the reingestion of hot air into the engines when the reverse thrust is used. British Airways have ordered four Rolls-Royce powered 747 200 aircraft, the first of which will be delivered in April 1977. Longer range versions of the Lockheed TriStar will also be powered by this more powerful Rolls-Royce engine.
